The Library is open on Wednesdays from 2.30 to 4.30 and 7 to 8.

The total circulation since the library was opened, August 18th, has been 962, 809 fiction and 153 non-fiction, an average of 40 volumes per week, nearly 10% of the total number of volumes in the library, 450.

While our library has the distinction of being the smallest one in the state, it probably has the largest proportion of its books in circulation.

We desire to acknowledge our indebtedness to the State Library Commission for their generous donations of books and their active interest through which we have received donations from the A. L. A., and the libraries of Everett, Haverhill, West Newton, New Braintree and Lincoln; to the Women's Educational Association for a loan collection; to the James library for its weekly loans; to the various individuals who have given money, books, stove and labor in fitting the building; to Mrs. Pauline W. Leonard, who gives her services as librarian, and to those who have assisted both at the library and in thansporting books from the James Library.

The patronage of our library is an indication that it is a decided stimulus to our community life and as such it merits the continued support of the town.

ALFRED H. PROUTY,
WM. J. LEONARD,
WM. O. PROUTY,
Trustees.

During the sumer vacation Miss Mansfield of District No. 1 primary, Miss Wheeler, commercial teacher at the High School and Miss Wheelock, Supervisor of Music, resigned to fill positions elsewhere. We regretted the loss of their services, for we felt in June that Norwell had a strong corps of teachers. However we were fortunate in securing as their successors, teachers of strong personality and high ambition to the end that the year's work has been of a high grade. Miss Catherine Kelliher of Abington was secured for Primary No. 1, Miss Dorothy A. Sleeper of Lakeport, N. H., as Commercial teacher at the High School, and Miss Ethel M. Studley of Hingham, as Supervisor of Music.

January 1st we increased the pay of our grade teachers to $1,000, and the High School assistants to $1,200, not a princely sum but one comparing favorably with surrounding towns.

Our teachers all deserved the increase and have shown their appreciation by added endeavor to maintain a high standard of work.

To extend the work of physical supervision and education we established a dental clinic in our schools in October, when Dr. Eldredge began his work in the Pembroke—Hanover—Norwell district by making a thorough examination of the teeth of each pupil in the Norwell schools. A chart showing the work to be done in each case was sent to the parents. It having been previously arranged for Dr. Eldredge to establish his office in the Arts and Crafts building while in Norwell, appointments were made enabling each child to take advantage of the dentist's limited stay, at the same time helping Dr. Eldredge to accomplish his work in a short time.

In this work the dentist and the committee had the very able assistance of our district nurse, Mrs. Sauer, who helped in the examinations, carried on the follow-up work in the home and transported to and from the office all those who would otherwise been unable to keep the appointment. All connected with the work certainly feel that it has been worth while.

In our humble attempts at advancement we feel more and more the disadvantages of our present buildings. Many things could be done for our pupils at little or no added expense if our buildings and surroundings would allow. However, we prefer to have the matter of a new building taken up by the Committee appointed at the last March meeting for that purpose.

Respectfully submitted,

NELLIE L. SPARRELL, Secretary
BENJAMIN LORING
AMY W. SYLVESTER

Superintendent's Report

To the School Committee of Norwell:

According to custom I present for consideration my Third Annual Report as Superintendent of Schools of Norwell. It closely resembles the reports of the two preceding years for a twofold reason; a combination of choice and necessity. The narrative type of report is chosen because of the writer's belief that it is more generally comprehensible than a mass of statistical tables and graphs and is far less expensive to publish. Resemblance is necessary because with our type of organization there is slight possibility of change from year to year. Improvements of other than minor nature do not seem possible. Here, therefore, will be found a brief survey of the various elements which go to make up the school system with suggestions for improvement; written more or less from the point of view of an investigator employed to evaluate the system in terms of educational efficiency.

BUILDINGS

The Norwell school buildings are wholly satisfactory as shelters from the elements where reasonably large groups of individuals can be kept dry and warm and be comfortably seated. As buildings to be used for school purposes they are open to the following objections:

1—Hygienic conditions.
  (A) Improved lighting.
    (a) Windows on two sides of the room.

(b) Those properly placed improperly spaced.
(c) Shades with only one adjustment.
(d) Walls not tinted to help diffuse light.

B—Heating and ventilation.

(a) Unjacketed stoves in Church Hill and High School.
(b) Incorrect design in heating and ventilating apparatus in the other four rooms.
(c) Air too dry.

C—Toilet facilities.

(a) Sanitaries primitive. Chemical closets needed.
(b) Insufficient provision for so many children.
(c) The agate wash basin used in common by all.
(d) Handkerchief or clothing used as a towel.
(e) Soap if any provided by teacher and used in common.

D—Water supply

(a) The nearest pump including the town pump.
(b) Ridge Hill has its own well and pump.
(c) Bubbling fountains attached to stone coolers form low pressure drinking fountains which are criticised by teachers as unsanitary.

2—Repair

A—Doors

(a) Hardware needs inspection.

B—Windows

(a) Not sufficiently adjustable.
(b) Small panes.

C—Floors

(a) Fair condition.

D—Walls

(a) Too dark in color.

E—Ceilings

(a) Need brightening.

3—Furniture

A—Seats

(a) Generally good.

B—Closets and book-cases

(a) Needed at Ridge Hill Grammar School.

C—Teacher's desks

(a) Needed, High School and upper room at No. 5

D—Visitors' chairs

(a) A half dozen needed for distribution.

A—Extent

(a) Universally inadequate.

B—Character

(a) Extremely bad at Ridge Hill. Stones just begging to be thrown.

(b) Poorly graded at No. 5..

C—Equipment

(a) No playground apparatus.

(b) Not even a sand pile for the little tots.

In short the general condition of the shells of the buildings is good except for the need of paint at No. 5 and No. 7, but to put them into proper condition as school buildings will require expenditure of a good bit of money. Such an expense would be of no great gain educationally. No marked improvement will ever be made in the Norwell School System until a change is made in the

FORM OF ORGANIZATION

There are in the elementary grades of our schools about one hundred seventy-five pupils taught by seven teachers, which would give an average of twenty-five pupils to a teacher. But instead of any such desirable average there are some teachers with from thirty-eight to forty-four children in four different grades. It is not the number of children in a room but the number of grades that counts. The hiring of extra teachers to assist in the rooms containing the four upper grades would be purely a makeshift. Two teachers conducting classes in the same room at the same time cannot work efficiently. What is needed is the courage to scrap the whole system of too many grades in a room and consolidate so that each teacher would have not more than two grades.

The proper form of reorganization would be on what is familiarly known as The Six-three-three Plan. This type of organization calls for a school of six elementary grades; a grouping of the next three grades in what is known as a Junior High School; the other three years of the course would be known as the Senior High school or simply The High School. The theory and advantage of this type of organization require more space for explanation than is available here. Suffice it to state that it is the form advocated by the majority of educational authorities today, and is the plan being adopted in the most progressive communities. It would require no more teachers than are employed at present. In fact, with proper planning, the staff could even be reduced, with the numbers in our schools as at present. The expense attached to the change would come from a demand that will eventually have to be met in any case, that is, from

NEW BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

The present High School Building is wholly inadequate for the purpose. In size, in arrangement, in hygienic conditions, in every element that goes to make up an acceptable High School building the Town Hall is deficient. That we are able to carry on there the very successful school that we have is a piece of the rarest good fortune. Under such conditions we cannot hope for long to hold together such a competent teaching corps as we now have. Too much credit cannot be given to the Principal and his assistants for the excellent spirit they show in working under such adverse conditions. It is no less difficult for the pupils, and the kind of pupils we have in that school certainly deserve the best there is. They are good earnest students and are making the best of very trying circumstances. How long are they to be sacrifice to the "Good Roads Movement"?

Since what seems the ideal solution to this problem, both educationally and financially—The Union High School—has not met with the support it merits; and since, to make any great progress in our school system, we must reorganize it; Norwell should give immediate consideration to a building project which will place all of her school children under one roof, or perhaps better, under three connected roofs.

I can visualize a long low building of one story construction with a wing forming an ell at either end, the space between these ells itself making a large auditorium; the whole structure being a rectangle with its longest dimension the front. In one wing the Junior High School, in the other the Senior High School would have their separate activities while across the front on either side of the imposing main entrance would be found the grade rooms of the elementary schools and the administration offices. Directly back from the main entrance would be the doors of the auditorium, admission to which would be possible from either of the other sections of the building. In the frieze above the main entrance would appear the name of the school. Is there no family in the town whose members will earn the right to there perpetuate their name?

CURRICULUM

Aside from the intensification of the course in United States History and Civics, there have been no marked changes in this element of the local school system. This change, made necessary by act of the last General Court, was greatly to be desired. Its inclusion however in the grades makes one more reason for the need of an improvement in our organization, since it means another demand on the time of the teachers in the eighth grades.

Results of increased emphasis on one subject in the curriculum are becoming increasingly evident. This subject is Reading, one in which more poor teaching has been done almost universally than in any other taught in our schools. and all because of a misconception of its true function. The universality of this misconception is illustrated by a definition of reading found in a popular dictionary used in many schools and advertised as the very latest compilation extant. This dictionary says, "Reading—utterance aloud of the words of books, etc." This is the most popular form of reading lesson found in schools of today, "utterance aloud of words of books." Why take so large a part of six or seven years to teach what the average child learns in three? If this is all of Reading, why teach it at all. Words-words-words-with nothing behind them! This is one of the curses of the world today.

Reading is immeasurably more than the "utterance of words of books." Consider the definition of this word evolved from the collective effort of a group of educators from the environs of Boston. These men, sitting in a seminar in Education at Harvard University, under the leadership of Professor Ernest Carroll Moore, agreed upon the following: "Reading is the art of securing appropriate reactions from written or printed symbols." More universally but less accurately this is stated as the ability to get the author's thought from the printed page. Accepting this less accurate expression we have something vastly greater than is indicated by the dictionary definition as quoted. It is this broader and better thing that we have been endeavoring to secure. If this endeavor be continued persistently I am sure we shall eliminate one of the most prolific sources of difficulty in learning other subjects of the curriculum.

TEACHERS

By the rarest of good fortune we had but two resignations from our teaching force at the close of the school year last June. Under the smile of that same "fickle goddess" we were able to increase rather than diminish the strength of the staff by the change. How fortunate we were cannot be appreciated by those who do not have the duty of seeking teachers in these days. Here the chief difficulty is the question of salary. When other towns and cities are paying twelve, thirteen, fifteen hundred dollars and more for elementary teachers who have but one grade in their rooms, we cannot expect to draw the best teachers into our system. I am forced to confess that I cannot see how Norwell can increase her salary schedule without further aid from the State. Such aid may be granted by the current session of the General Court by changes in the law concerning the distribution of the state funds, or in some other manner. If such aid is forthcoming I feel sure the benefits thereof will be given to the teachers at once. It is, of course, the privilege of the Town Meeting to determine whether Norwell considers her teachers worth as much as expert road-builders. This is a question worthy of the thought of the new voters at that meeting, the women of Norwell.

Another difficulty to be faced in securing teachers is the problem of a place to board. Fortunately this is less a problem in this town than it might well be if we had not so many home teachers. I fear that it is not appreciated how fortunate we are that our teachers who live at home are as good as they are. We are sometimes prone to forget that, "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country and among his own people."

PUPILS AND THEIR PROGRESS

Below will be found an Age and Grade Distribution Table in which is shown the number and distribution of the school children of the town. Explanatory notes have been added to assist those unfamiliar with the interpretation of such statistical tables.

This tabulation is made for ages on December 31, 1920.

Each block under an age number encloses the number of children of an age six months on either side of the age designated at the head of the column.

The heavily leaded lines forming steps diagonally across the table represent the limits within which normal entrance and progress would place the pupils. Thus a first grade pupil would fall between the ages of five years and six months and seven years and six months, the two year spread making allowance for differences in ages upon entering school.

U. A. indicates that the numbers in this column are representative of children above grade, correspondingly O. A. stands for those who are below their normal grade. Theoretically these two columns should be approximately equal. Here we find more than fifty per cent come under age pupils than of those over age. The number in the accelerated group in the High school is particularly significant, showing that our younger pupils hold their standing to the end of the course.

THE DENTAL CLINIC

Although in its probationary stage the clinic has already demonstrated its potentialities. Thru it some appalling evidences of neglect were found, and evidences of excellent care occasionally noted. Practically every school child in the town has been examined by Dr. Eldredge and many have taken advantage of his presence in the town to have defects remedied.

SCHOOL NURSE

The work of the School Physician and School Dentist has been ably supplemented by the School Nurse. Too much cannot be said of the value of this work. At present it is to all practical purposes a private venture but should be taken over by the town at once. The value of such an official to the community cannot be overestimated.

May I at this time express my appreciation of the support I have received from the committee and the friends of the Norwell schools.

Respectfully submitted,

STEPHEN G. BEAN.

Report of Principal of High School

To the Superintending School Committee:

I hereby submit my annual report of the High School for the past year. The co-operation between teachers and pupils has been fully maintained during the past year with gratifying results. I am glad to announce that we have at this time practically a self-governing school. Its spirit is excellent. The students appear ambitious and eager to accept suggestions to improve their work. New names are appearing frequently upon our honor roll and this fact stimulates others to increased efforts.

The spelling exercises introduced last year have been continued with a higher requirement. Their value is already manifested in the regular work of all departments. Agreeable to the new State requirement, all members of the two upper classes are pursuing a course in United States History and Civics besides their other work. This has entailed upon some, more periods per week than is reasonable, but thus far, the work has been carried on without detriment to themselves.

The increasing numbers anticipating the Commercial Course, will make it necessary to increase the number of our machines. This matter should meet your early consideration in preparation for another year.

As our classes increase, we are more and more inconvenienced by the lack of facilities which are apparent to all who visit the school. Several times each week, we are obliged regularly to conduct two exercises, and at times three, in the same room at one time. Such a condition is most unsatisfactory to teacher and pupil, and that we have been able to secure results under these limitations, is a testimony to the efficiency of teachers and the desire of the students to succeed in their work. That some solution for this difficulty may be found in the near future seems almost a necessity if the school is to maintain the standing which all should desire.

During the year several students from our upper classes moved from Norwell and were transferred to other schools. In all such cases, they have been able to maintain their standing credibly and some have won distinction in their new field of work.

For a large part of the year, we had the entire teaching force of the previous year, and a large part of the success obtained, is due to the friendly relations and earnest cooperation of all. At the close of the school year, Miss Doris Wheeler accepted a position in the Commercial department of a school nearer her home, and Miss Rosalie Wheelock, under whose charge music had been established in the Norwell schools and whose work has been so well and favorably known at our graduations, was compelled to relinquish her work here to devote her whole time elsewhere. The vacancy thus caused in the Commercial department was filled by the appointment of Miss Dorothy Sleeper of Lakeport, N. H., who has carried on the work very acceptably in all respects. To succeed Miss Wheelock, Miss Ethel H. Studley of Hingham was appointed director of music. In the short time that she has been with us, she has awakened a new interest in singing and has directed her work tactfully and successfully. To Mrs. Eldridge, instructor of drawing, great credit is due for the high standard of work throughout the year. Water color was introduced in the advanced class with good results. I wish to express my hearty thanks to all teachers and pupils for their loyalty and kind spirit which has been such a factor in the results attained.

Not for Circulation

In conclusion permit me also to express my sincere appreciation of the uniform courtesy which you and the Superintendent of Schools have shown me, and to express the hope that the work of the school will continue to merit your approval and support, and that of all the citizens of Norwell.

Respectfully submitted,

J. M. NICHOLS,

Principal.

Report of Forest Fire Warden

During the year 1921 there was expended a total of $296.20 in connection with this department.

A number of new extinguishers were purchased and all extinguishers belonging to the Town were inspected and repaired and placed in what were deemed the most advantageous points to cope with fires.

Due to the fact that a piece of motor fire apparatus was installed in the early part of the year, a 20 per cent. reduction on insurance rates was promulgated by the State Board of Fire Underwriters and became effective September 1st, for that district within a one mile radius of the Town Farm where the apparatus is kept. Efforts are now being made to increase this radius and it is quite probable that it will be enlarged during the next few months.

Each school in the Town is now equipped with an anti-freeze extinguisher and the School Committee has installed a system of fire drill. We, therefore, believe that everything possible has been done to insure safety in schools as they now exist.

In connection with the State campaign for fire prevention every school class has been addressed on the subject and we feel that as a result many needless fires are avoided.

We urge all citizens to co-operate with us this year to reduce the number of fires to a minimum. Know who the nearest Deputy Warden is to you and notify him or the Fire Warden of any fire that you cannot extinguish yourself.

Those having extinguishers are requested to see to it that they are in proper shape at all times. Refilling equipment may be obtained from any Deputy.

This year the State Fire Marshall proposes to co-operate more closely than ever with the towns in fire prevention work, and with the assistance of all, it is hoped that a low record may be set for loss from fires and expenditures pertaining to same.

The total circulation for the year was 2090, fiction 1804, non-fiction 286, an average of 48 per day.

The largest daily circulation was 91.

About 100 new volumes have been added during the year by purchase and gift.

Of the latter a large proportion was donated by the State Library Commission for which we are very grateful.

We are also indebted to the Women's Educational Union for the loan of a large, well chosen collection which adds greatly to the usefulness of our Library as do the weekly loans from the James Library which are much appreciated by our patrons.

We are already taxing the capacity of our small building and are confronted with the necessity of enlarging it to meet the needs of our growing collection. Any contributions from the friends of the Library will be gladly received and will aid in the promotion of an institution which is of real service to our community.

In reviewing the year's work just completed, one thing stands out prominently in our efforts to better conditions in our schools. Realizing fully that a sound mind must have a sound body, we have endeavored to guard the health of the pupil while in school and instruct him in healthful habitis of every day life. A rather intensive campaign has been conducted with this end in mind. In addition to the regular medical inspection by the school physician each term, the school nurse has made several visits weekly watching conditions and giving instructions. She has been aided in her work of teaching cleanliness and prevention of disease by the addition of wash-stands and pitchers, basins, liquid soap, paper towels, paper drinking cups germicides and disinfectants to the equipment of each school. Tooth brush drills have been conducted and health plays enacted.

We have now had a full year of the Dental Clinic and its benefits are fully appreciated by all. Two schools have gained recognition as having every pupil's teeth in perfect condition and the remaining schools lack very little of this goal.

In some families it seemed impossible to find money for all the children needing dental work done, therefore the Norwell District Nurse Association took upon itself the financial responsiblity of caring for all cases of school children who are not able to pay for the services of the dentist.

At District No. 1 Ridge Hill three Kaustine system toilets were installed, and the vaults used since the erection of the school entirely removed. At present these toilets are giving perfect satisfaction and we feel sure the health of that immediate neighborhood must be better in consequence. Lack of funds prevented the purchases of this style toilet for the building at District No. 5, Norwell Centre.

The platform at Ridge Hill being beyond repair, it was replaced by one of cement. The large rocks in the yard were blasted and a little very necessary grading of the grounds done, in an attempt to lessen the chances for accidents bound to occur when several grades play on rough stony grounds. These constitute our efforts to make No. 1 livable. The teachers and pupils, however, have gone farther and purchased playground apparatus and pictures from money earned by the sale of candy and the giving of school entertainments.

That the health department of the schools may better serve the community, we have arranged to have the School Physician, School Dentist and Scchool Nurse constitute a health centre in each school district. The school nurse will make two regular visits a week to each school at which time she may be consulted by anyone desiring her services. Any matter requiring the advice of the physician or dentist, she will gladly take up with them. Our only hope is that the community will take advantage of this opportunity. A printed schedule of her visits may be found in the report of the Norwell District Nurse Association.

Our teaching force suffered three changes during the summer vacation. Miss Kelliher of Ridge Hill Primary resigned but we were most fortunate in obtaining the services of Mrs. Lois Turner, a Bridgewater Normal graduate in her stead. Two highly successful teachers of the High School Miss Tolman and Miss Cochran left us and their places were taken by Miss Carr and Miss Tyler, both Wheaton College graduates. We were fortunate in retaining the services of Mr. Nichols, who reports the continued good work at our High School.

In common with all adjacent towns, we experienced a large increase in our enrollment in September. Ridge Hill increased to that point where it became impossible to even seat the added number. It was thought advisable after careful consideration to transfer the 3rd and 4th grades to the vacant building at District No. 2 under the care of Mrs. Turner, leaving grades 1 and 2 at Ridge Hill with Miss Gardner.

Concerning the work accomplished, the experiment has proven itself successful. Much more ground has been covered with less wear and tear on pupils and teachers.

We know the building and grounds are not what the parents have a right to expect but only such repairs were made as were absolutely necessary, hoping the use of this building would be temporary.

District No. 7 doubled in number this year. District No. 5 received its share of the increase and the High School climbed to the enrollment of 60 the largest in its history.

We are confronted with still larger numbers for next year with the added problem of providing in the High School for a possible entrance class of thirty odd, the present number in our eighth grades while the graduating class numbers but ten. With three recitations conducted at the same time in the main room, the cloak room and at times even the entry utilized as a recitation room truly the problem at the High School alone seems impossible to solve.

There seems but one way to provide for the increase at this chool, if the present building is to be retained and that simply a makeshift. A portable building could be erected in the yard but it could hardly prove satisfactory. The question of proper heating would arise and the confusion and loss of time experienced in passing to and from the building would detract from the present atmosphere of the school.

District No. 2 must have extensive repairs if used another year, more plastering, the interior painted, new outside doors, new windows and new toilets built. District No. 1 and District No. 5 must be painted outside.

A gentlemen of educational attainment who has had the interest of our schools at heart for many years, recently spent an entire day visiting our schools and noting conditions. He reported finding throughout a splendid corps of teachers, an excellent spirit of earnestness in both teachers and pupils but in most cases a truly shocking condition of housing.

How much longer will that spirit of earnestness remain unbroken under present conditions?

We have tried to improve the present buildings in years past and have been successful in this to a certain degree but the time has now come when Norwell faces a crisis in her school life. To even accomodate the numbers in the present buildings extensive and expensive repairs must be made. It seems as though we had reached the point where it becomes expedient to seriously balance the cost and advisability of this step with that of erecting a central building to house the High and Grammar schools at least.

Norwell has not erected a school building nor made any attempt to thoroughly remodel one since the erection of District No. 2 some fifty years ago. The individual is not satisfied to get along with the facilities of fifty years ago, home life in Norwell has become enriched with countless changes during that period yet her school life remains shut in by the same narrow walls as then.

We realize the tax rate of this Town is excesses but is there not a way to reduce this and give the benefit of the reduction to our educational system.

In all fairness we present the facts to you for solution trusting the voters in March meeting will give the matter their most earnestness consideration.

School Committee

Report of Superintendent

To the School Committee of the Town of Norwell:

Herewith is submitted my Fourth Annual Report as Superintendent of Schools for Norwell. It has been prepared for the benefit of those whose money supports the schools of this Town; to inform them of the present conditions and future needs of the school system, that they may become conversant with the same prior to the Annual Town Meeting. No elaborate statistical tables or confusing graphs will be found; only the simplest tabulations of pupil distribution will appear.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

There has been a very marked improvement in one exceedingly important element of the general school situation during the past year. This has to do with hygienic or sanitary conditions. The ink was barely dry on the writer's adverse criticism in last year's report ere the School Committee in co-operation with the School Nurse had provided every school building in town with liquid soap, wash basins, paper towels, paper drinking cups and toilet paper, no one of which had heretofore been provided in the schools.

Of a more localized nature but nevertheless a very decided betterment of general conditions was the installation of the Kaustine System of Chemical Toilets in the Ridge Hill building. A similar installation should be made in the Number 5 School if it is to continue in use for school purposes.

The most important educational gain was forced by an unexpected influx of children in the vicinity of the Number 2 School. Ordinarily these children would have been housed in the Ridge Hill School; but owing to the fact that they were in the main pupils in the primary grades which were already overburdened, it became necessary to open the lower room in Number 2. This made it possible to ameliorate a very undesirable condition which has been in existence ever since a primary assistant was introduced at Ridge Hill. Two teachers in one room engaged in teaching different grades simultaneously produces educational Bedlam.

Only intimate contact with the daily operation of the classes under the old and new conditions can give any real appreciation of what this apparently simple reorganization has accomplished. It is to be hoped that the old condition may never return.

Not the least gain from this change was the assurance of the continued service during the year of a very superior teacher who would not long have been able to support the former condition.

It is almost universally true that any radical change brings some drawback in its train. The fly in this particular ointment was the matter of transportation. This has been given very serious and careful consideration by the School Committee and the Superintendent. To them it seems that the condition, while not ideal, is far from impossible. Although it is true that for a time the bus is crowded, the period is not five minutes long, and the distance not over a mile and a half.

There are two remedies under consideration, one obvious, the other apparently less so. The first is the addition of another barge to this route at the additional cost of approximately twenty dollars a week. The other course would be to just meet the legal requirement as to the distance that children shall be transported, setting the limit at two miles. The objection to the first of these would appear in the tax bill for next year. The difficulty of the second course is that it would penalize the smaller children chiefly, because it is to the children in Number 2 School that the crowded condition is due.

Personal investigation by the writer has brought conviction that the true solution of the problem could be found in the display of a little forebearance and consideration on the part of the older pupils, combined with a more helpful civic spirit which strives for the greatest good of all concerned rather than to assert what may be considered personal rights. In any event it is difficult to see how any additional burden for transportation can be assumed by the committee except on special appropriation from the Town.

THE TEACHING STAFF

Changes in the teaching staff during the year were small in number but large in proportion. Our greatest loss was from the High School corps and was particularly severe because of the quality of the departing teachers as well as their length of service. There is some small consolation in the fact that it was matrimony rather than a matter of money that robbed us of the services of Miss Tolman. There is significence in the fact that the loss of Miss Cochran was due less to financial considerations than to the miserable teaching conditions at the High School.

Matrimony balanced its account by bringing to us the services of Mrs. Lois M. Turner who assumed the position left vacant by the resignation of Miss Katherine Kelliher. Mrs. Turner is a Bridgewater graduate of the quality sought by such towns as Arlington where she was employed just prior to her coming to reside in Norwell.

The High School staff was finally completed by the engagement of two classmates from Wheaton College. Miss Carr assumed the duties laid down by Miss Tolman and Miss Tyler took over the work in Science and Mathematics. Both of these teachers have fitted into the school admirably and have shown a spirit of earnestness and willingness.

PROFESSIONAL IMPROVEMENT OF TEACHERS

Teacher training thru the medium of regular Teachers' Meetings does not seem to be good economy of time and effort in this town for geographical reasons. Their place is filled by the Teachers' Institute and the Lecture Course.

The first Institute for the teachers of this superintendency Union was held in St. Andrew's Parish House at Hanover in April, 1921. It was heartily supported and fully attended by the Norwell teachers, who afterwards expressed the unanimous opinion that it had been the most practical and helpful education meeting in their experience, not excepting the more pretentious Conventions. Informality, practicality, and cordiality were the key notes of this meeting.

The principal speakers were Deputy Commissioner Frank W. Wright of the State Department of Education, who delivered his message with his customary powerful, incisive, impressive earnestness; Miss Mabel C. Bragg of Newton, with a very practical and helpful talk for the elementary teachers in general; and Miss Flora Stewart of the Normal School at Bridgewater, who gave extremely helpful suggestions to the primary teachers and demonstrated a variety of time saving and busy work devices and materials.

At the opening of the morning session Miss Loretta MacDonnell of the King Street Primary School of Hanover gave a class demonstration of reading, aided by a group of pupils of foreign born parentage. The object was to show methods used and results obtained in this class of children who had known no English at the opening of school the preceeding September.

A second demonstration was given by Miss Helen Whiting of the Hanover schools with a class from her room. A time-saving method of program administration was the object of this demonstration.

At noon an excellent lunch was served by members of the local Parent-Teacher organizations under the leadership of Mrs. Sylvester of Norwell School Committee.

The afternoon session was departmentalized, the grammar school teacher's meeting in Salmond School for a class demonstration of the socialized recitation in Civics by a class from the Hanson schools under Mrs. Emily Baker, the High School section holding conference with Mr. Wright in one of the rooms of the Parish House; while Miss Bragg gave her talk to the teachers of the lower grades in the Parish Hall.

As a result of this meeting the Superintendent was requested by the members of the School Committees there present to make this type of meeting a part of the regular plan for the improvement of teaching.

Another outgrowth of this Institute was the plan for a series of lectures to be given by Miss Bragg during the school year of 1921-'22. The first of these meetings was held in November with a full attendance in spite of the fact that it came on Saturday. The next lecture is to take place Saturday, January 28, 1922, and will probably be followed by others at regular intervals during the winter and spring.

Miss Bragg is Assistant Superintendent of Schools in Newton, and is an educator of long experience and recognized ability as a specialist in elementary methods. She has an inimitable combination of vividness of language and power of personality and expression which grips and holds the attention and impresses the message she brings. The results of the first lecture have already appeared in more than one class-room in the district.

HEALTH ACTIVITIES

The word activity applies well to the health work in the Norwell schools. The school physician, dentist and nurse have been doing an excellent piece of team work this last year the results of which will prove far reaching. This is a department of the school work of which this Town may well be proud. Sincere and hearty thanks are due those who have fostered the growth of this work. It is a work worth doing, well done.

THE SUPREME EDUCATIONAL NEED

There seems to be current in the Town a very general impression that the greatest local educational need is a decent high school building. This requirement is obvious; but there is a greater which if met to the best advantage would include the high school project, and at the same time so improve the quality of preparation for high school work as to give a far greater return on the investment.

The supreme educational need is a complete reorganization of the whole school system; a reorganization such that no teacher shall have more than two grades under her leadership. This is the one means by which Norwell can attain or even approximate the educational training due every American child wherever found. It would prove one of the best investments that the Town could make; an investment in futures to be sure, but in the futures of Norwell's children.

Any serious consideraion of this problem of reorganization involves an equally serious consideration of the present school plant. Even a cursory examination of the buildings now in use makes it clearly evident that without some new construction effective reorganization is almost impossible, or at least not feasible for financial reasons.

There are in use at the present time five frame buildings no one of which would scale forty per cent. judged by the requirements for a rural school on the score sheets of the Corn Belt States. By the standards of the Virginia Educational Commission they would grade C on an A to E basis. This means that they are of a low-medium grade. Of these the high school, as such, would be almost impossible to grade, aside from equipment. Attempts have consistently been made to render these buildings as efficient as is possible. Much money has been spent for decent black-boards, adequate seating, improved sanitary facilities, and abortive endeavors at proper heating and ventilation; but the building still stand as structural schoolhouse monstrosities . They could be remodeled but it is not safe to estimate at what cost.

Of playgrounds there are none worthy the name. At Ridge Hill during the past year the quality has been remarkably improved but the area is still inadequate. At Number 5 the space is very meager and the quality impossible. Of apparatus there is none here and very little level ground to hold it if there were any. There is mighty little incentive for the teachers to supervise playground activities where there is practically no playground.

Reorganization being imperative, and the existing school plant being inadequate to carry it through, it is evident that some form of new construction is necessary. Just what direction the project should take from this point might be open to a difference of opinion. The logical thing to do seems, under existing circumstances, to hinge on adequate housing for the High School. If the Union High School project could be carried through it would simplify the problem materially. If this be wholly beyond hope of consideration at present a high school plant should be built as the central unit of a consolidated school for all children in town above the fourth grade. Such a building could at a future date serve as a consolidated school for all but high school pupils should the Union School plan have proven itself elsewhere and become desirable.

This arrangement would allow for the concentration of the first four grades in the schools at Ridge Hill and Norwell Center with two grades in each room. Under these conditions the children could secure a thorough grounding in the fundamentals, and upon entering the fifth grade in the new school be gradually introduced to department training and a richer curriculum with new conditions and fresh experiences ever in enticing anticipation. It would break the deadening momotony of the same surroundings year in and year out, and keep the young minds alert and eager.

Such a school should be placed in a plot of land sufficiently large to permit of proper segregation of play areas, and with ample opportunity for project work in which the use of the soil has a part. This is one point which should be given most careful consideration, and prime importance should not be given as to what part of the town it should be located in.

One other important adjunct of the school should be an adequate assembly hall; not for the use of the pupils solely but rather as a civic center. In it the people should gather in groups large or small, and from it should radiate all of the important movements for local betterment.

AGE LIMITS

From two different sources during the past year has come the suggestion that Norwell return to the nine grade plan of elementary school organization. The plea is that the entering classes in the high school are too young and immature. If this be true and if but one year has been cut from the former nine year elementary school course surely this one year does not wholly account for the youth and immaturity. The true remedy lies elsewhere. It is the age of entrance to the first grade that should be questioned. Did children enter as young in former days as they do now? As it is at present a child may enter the first grade very soon after his fifth birthday.

The laws of the Commonwealth provide that every child in the State must attend school between the ages of seven and fourteen years. This would seem to indicate that the educational authorities considered seven years a sufficiently low limit for school entrance. It is, however, a sufficiently safe conclusion that chronological age is not the safest criterion.

It has been determined by no less an authority than Dr. Lewis M. Terman, Professor of Education in Leland Stanford University, that below the mental age of six years no child is ready for the first grade, and that below the mental age of five and one-half years the chances that really standard first grade work will be done are practically negligible. This accounts for much of the immaturity complained of. It has been repeatedly demonstrated by very carefully standardized tests that chronological age and mental age are not at all in total agreement. They may vary widely with individuals. Children of five years chronologically may show a mental age of seven or more, while some who are mentally five years old are chronologically seven, ten, or even twelve or more years old. As was said above, it has been demonstrated that a mental age of at least six years is necessary for really successful work in the first grade.

It is the carefully considered opinion of the writer that it would be far better for the children and the schools of Norwell (and incidentally for the teachers) if it were required that every child shall attain the age of five years on or before January first of the year that he enters the first grade. This would giive a minimum entrance age of fire years and eight months.

The ideal proceedure would be to determine entrance to the first grade on the basis of phychological tests for mental age, admitting only those who showed a mental age of six years. This would allow the exceptional child to take advantage of his natural endowment. Incidentally data could be thus secured which might be of great value to both teachers and parents.

NUMBER AND DISTRIBUTION OF PUPILS

Table I

School-Grade Distribution

	I	II	III	IV	V	VI	VII	VIII	IX	X	XI	XII	T
Ridge Hill	22	18				12	13	7					72
#2			9	14	13								36
Total	22	18	9	14	13	12	13	7					108
#5	6	11	12	9	8	8	4	21					79
Church Hill	4	7	5		4								20
Total	10	18	17	9	12	8	4	21					99
High School Grand Total	32	36	26	23	25	20	17	28	23	11	14	10	58 / 263

Attention is called to the following significant features of this table:

1—The total enrollment is 45 greater than at a similar period last year. This is an increase of about 20.5 per cent.

2—The High School enrollment has increased from 45 to 58, a growth of 28.9 per cent.

3—If all of the present eighth grade are promoted to the High School in the fall the enrollment will be 76, a further increase of 31 per cent. This would be a total increase of 68.9 per cent. over the 1920 figures.

4—If the usual number of children enter the first grades in the fall, and if promotions are normal, there will be about 48 children in the first five grades in Number 5 School thus overcrowding the primary room. Under these same conditions there would be 83 children who would attend the Ridge Hill primary school, this of course providing Number 2 School were not used as in the past. If Number 2 School is continued in use as at present seats must be provided for the increase of five in the room now full.

5—At Church Hill sixteen pupils will be left in the grades II-III-IV with the likelihood of a small entering class. The number here will probably not exceed twenty. This means a per pupil cost of fifty dollars for instruction alone as compared to $24.34 for the same grades at Ridge Hill and Number 2, and $40.22 at Number 5.

From (2) and (3) above it is evident that something must soon be done to ensure adequate housing conditions for the High School just from the standpoint of numbers alone.

It is evident from (4) and (5) that reorganization would give a fairer division of the teaching burden, a more efficient expenditure of the money, and far better chances for the children.

Numbers at the heads of vertical columns indicate the age to the nearest year of all recorded in each square below.

Roman numerals indicate the various grades. Grades IX thru XII are the High School classes.

Each age block represents the number of children whose ages are within six months either side of the year indicated at the head of that colum.

UA indicates the number of children below the normal age for the given grade. Corrrespondingly OA represents those who are over age.

The table does not show enrollment for the year, but is the acual membership December 31.

The proportion of over age and under age pupils is nearly the same as last year. The per cent. of UA pupils is large for the school conditions and organization in this town.

Ten per cent. of the over age pupils are in grades above the sixth. This is an encouraging fact. The over age pupils is usually far less numerous in these grades.

CONCLUSION

In closing may I say that I hope this report will be taken in the same spirit that we accept a physician's diagnosis and prescription. We may be alarmed at what he tells us and consider the medicine hard to take; we may feel that the money spent is needed for shoes for the children; but we have employed him in the belief that he knows his profession and what we must do in order to keep in condition to give those same children the support and protection we owe them.

District Nurse Association Report

The Officers of the District Nursing Association of Norwell, submit the following report:

The real work of the District Nursing Association of Norwell began in November, 1920, when at a meeting of the organization it was voted that funds to carry on this work would be raised by the effort of volunteers till the first of March when the Town would be asked to assume the salary of the nurse. Accordingly each section of Norwell pledged itself to raise one-third of the money needed.

Great credit is due to the citizens for their splendid co-operation and help and it a source of gratification to realize that this small rural village could see the great need of such an undertaking and respond so liberally. The State has passed a law requiring each Town to employ a school nurse, but the people of Norwell are giving greater assistance than that by paying the salary of a worker for daily service to the citizens as well as those of school age. We have been considered so worth while that the State Department as well as General Headquarters at Washington have sent Inspectors to make investigations in order that other Rural Communities might have help and encouragement to take up this Health Movement on the principle that what we can start others can follow.

Our organization is far from perfect. Many improvements may be made, but in spite of our failings and short comings, we honestly feel that we are a better Community to live in for having an insight into what can be accomplished by improving Health condition.

A new time scheduale has been prepared for the convience of Teachers and Parents and it is hoped that anyone desiring any information will avail themselves of the opportunities given to meet the nurse at stated times in different sections of the Town.

MARY CURTIS, Treasurer

Report of Principal of High School

To the Superintendent and School Committee:

I hereby submit my annual report upon the work of the High School.

The year began with no change in the regular teaching force and to this fact is due a great measure of the year's successful work. The results attained were sufficient to show the wisdom of endeavoring in every possible way to retain the services of teachers who already have proven their worth.

But teachers alone cannot make a school successful. An important part rests with the pupils themselves; depends upon their spirit of scholarly endeavor and co-operation in all its activities. In this connection I desire to bestow a full measure of credit upon the class of 1921 for the upbuilding and maintaining a satisfactory standard of school work. The record of our honor-roll speaks eloquently of their scholarly attainments. The largest number that won this distinction in any bi-monthly period was fifteen. The students whose names appear upon the roll of honor during the entire year are the following:

Ruth Berry, Helene Merritt, Allen Lester, Bernice Damon, Marguerite Oakman.

I wish to record my appreciation of the splendid spirit shown by all the pupils during my severe illness. They met the responsibility suddenly trust upon them in a manner worthy of high praise. I shall never forget their kindness, loyalty and hearty co-operation. Prof. Wood carried on with gratifying success the work of those classes not otherwise provided for.

The following statements taken from a previous report show clearly some of the difficulties under which we work. "As our classes increase, we are more and more inconvenienced by the lack of facilities which are apparent to all who visit the school. Several times each week, we are obliged regularly to conduct two exercises, and at times three, in the same room at one time. Such a condition is most unsatisfactory to teacher and pupil, and that we have been able to secure results under these limitations, is a testimony to the efficiency of teachers and the desire of the students to succeed in their work. That some solution for this difficulty may be found in the near future seems almost a necessity if the school is to maintain the standing which all should desire." We are now confronted by a condition which demands careful and wise consideration. We have nearly reached the capacity of the building and must make some adequate provision for the large classes which will seek admission in the immediate future.

The Fall term opened with a large attendance and some changes among the teachers. Miss Margaret Cochran accepted a position near her home and Margaret (Tolman) Lyons went to another part of the State to reside. Both of these teachers had been very successful and by their interest and enthusiasm had endeared themselves to the entire student body. They were succeeded by Miss Ruth Tyler and Miss Frances Carr, graduates of Wheaton College, whose work has been very acceptable.

Those who were present at our graduation last June will understand that Miss Studleys work as director of music needs no further commendation. Mrs. Eldridge has given more of her time this year to the drawing classes than heretofore and the results accomplished are of the usual high order of excellence.

In conclusion I desire to express my sincere thanks to you for your courtesy and confidence, to all the teachers and pupils for their loyalty and co-operation and to the citizens of the Town for their interest and support in whatever has been done to increase the efficiency of the school.

Membership fees, Nurse's visitation fees, public affairs, and donations are its only source of income. With that income, the Association endeavors to serve the public with prompt response by providing the Nurse with telephone, automobile and necessary nursing equipment.

Report of Central School Building Committee

The town voted to build a new central school building at a cost not to exceed $40,000.00, including 10 per cent fee for the architects, Messrs. J. Williams Beal Sons.

We are pleased to report that the building has been built, including the changes in the Town Hall, and the total cost is exactly $40,000.00 This would not have been possible, however, without the very generous aid of the architects.

When our general contracts were threatening to amount to more than the $40,000.00 available, Messrs. J. Williams Beal Sons volunteered to see the work through regardless of whether they got their full commission or not. The Committee was reluctant to accept such a sacrifice from the architects in view of all the time and effort they were spending on the job, but saw no other way of getting the school built within the sum allowed and so accepted their very handsome offer.

We take this occasion to acknowledge our indebtedness to them in this particular and in general for their whole-hearted assistance at all times.

We wish also to extend to the builder, C. A. Batson Co. of Brockton, a word of appreciation for the very satisfactory way in which they fulfilled their contract.

It may be of interest to know that every question as to arrangement of class rooms and all questions regarding the building, as a school, were passed upon by the State Board of Education, and that all questions as to construction were governed and approved by the Massachusetts State Police, under whose jurisdiction such buildings come. Furthermore, their inspectors made such inspections of the work during course of construction as they saw fit.

The printed plans, accompanying this report, serve to show what the building looks like and what its accommodations are, but a word or two as to its construction, heating and plumbing may be of interest. The floor timbering is of yellow pine, as is most of the supporting timber, the finished floor is of beech, the lathing in all corridors and stairways is of metal and the window casings, sash, doors and casings in the two stairways are sheathed with metal, all of which details are requirements of the State Police, as a matter of fire resistance. Whenever allowed, the regular wooden lathing was used as a matter of economy.

The extra exit door was put in the Town Hall by requirement of the State Police. The general heating is accomplished by brick-set furnaces, which accomplish ventilation by the gravity system, so that the incoming hot air forces an equal volume of cold air to be withdrawn from the room. This is considered one of the most satisfactory ways of ventilating school rooms.

There are three such furnaces in the new building, only two of which are needed in ordinary cold winter weather. The front entry, stairways and basement rooms are heated by direct steam radiation, with one steam boiler.

The stoves, formerly used to heat the Town Hall, were not allowed to remain by order of the State Police and two hot air furnaces, with gravity ventilating system, were installed.

The water supply consists of two inch driven well, electric automatic pump and pressure tank.

The school is completely wired for electric lights but to keep within our appropriation, we were able to place only one light fixture in each school room, the hall and corridors being completely lighted.

The general contract called for rough grading around the foundation, which was done. The finished grading and seeding of the ground seemed no part of the cost of constructing the building and the Committee did not undertake it. This should be done to insure proper drainage of the rainfall.

All storm conductors from the roofs of the buildings are led into drains connecting with dry wells outside the foundation walls.

The builders advertised for and employed all the local labor they could get and it is interesting to note that the Town's people were so well employed elsewhere that the builders were obliged to bring a large proportion of their labor from out of town.

The Committee feel that, had it been possible to proceed with the construction of the building at once after the regular town meeting, it might have been possible to get a little more for the money but in view of the necessity of petitioning the legislature to permit the borrowing beyond the debt limit and the delay, consequent to calling a special town meeting, we were very fortunate to get the building within the appropriation, due to mounting costs of material and it is undoubtedly true that the building could not be duplicated at this time short of $55,000 to $60,000.

No. 7—2 Cords Hard Wood $15.00; 1 Cord Pine $5.00	20 00
High 1 Card Pine	5 00
Total	$ 95 00

The contract was awarded John W. Burns for $95.00. At the time of delivery it was decided to add 1 Cord hard wood to the amount ordered for the High School which accounts for the difference between the contract price and the amount paid Mr. Burns for wood.

Without question, the most important addition to the schools during the year was the erection of the new building, the fulfillment of the dreams of this and preceeding committees for many years.

The Committee appointed by the town at its March, 1920, meeting to investigate the idea of a Central School, reported at the March, 1921, meeting, were re-appointed and asked to report in March, 1922.

During its second year, facts and figures were collected and studied and the conclusion arrived at by the Committee that the time had clearly arrived when Norwell could no longer afford to put off the erection of a modern school plant.

Many plans of school buildings were studied and at last it was decided to approach Wm. J. Beals & Sons, architects, as to their idea of the probable cost of a building such as would fill our needs.

They very kindly offered to draw tentative plans of a building for our inspection without placing the town under any obligation, which we gratefully received and studied.

Their plan of a Colonial style wooden building using the Town Hall as a nucleus and costing $40,000.00 was judged very applicable to our needs and the committee decided to so report at the March, 1922, meeting. An article was inserted in the warrant calling for an appropriation not to exceed $40,000.00 for the erection of such a building. The amount was raised with almost no opposition and the committee consisting of Mr. James H. Barnard, Mr. John Harris Gutterson, Mr. William J. Leonard, Mrs. Mary L. F. Power, Mrs. Amy W. Sylvester, Mr. Benjamin Loring and Mrs. Nellie Sparrell were asked to serve the town as a building committee.

But upon gaining the appropriation we were informed the town had thereby exceeded its borrowing capacity, to do which special legislation was necessary. Here a friend at court in the person of our Representative, Mr. Ernest H. Sparrell, aided us greatly by hastening the slow moving machinery of the legislature.

The necessary permission to exceed our borrowing capacity obtained, a special town meeting was held for the purpose of legally raising the $40,000.00. The vote in favor was nearly unanimous and the project undertaken. Bids were submitted for the construction and the contract was awarded to C. A. Batson & Co. of Brockton, the lowest bidder. Work was commenced in June, some of the rooms were occupied by the High School in November and the building formally opened January 6, 1923.

At the opening exercises greetings from the State were brought by Mr. Harry Gardner of the State Board of Education, an historical Sketch of the schools given by Mrs. Power and the keys of the building presented by Mr,. Barnard to Mr. Sexton, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, who with appropriate remarks turned them over to Mr. Loring, chairman of the School Committee.

Remarks were also made by Rev. Alfred J. Wilson of the First Parish Church; Supt. of Schools Stephen G. Bean, and Mr. Horace T. Fogg.

Mrs. Louis H. Ogden rendered selections upon a very fine Chickering grand piano, the gift of John Harris Gutterson.

Mr. Gutterson then announced the following gifts to the school:

$50.00 from Mr. Edward R. Bacon.
$50.00 from Mrs. John H. Gutterson.
Teachers Desk from the Class of 1922 N. H. S.
Teachers Desk and Chair from the Centre Primary School
Book Case from Mr. Horace T. Fogg
Library Table from South Scituate Savings Bank
Teachers Desk from the South Scituate Helping Hand Society of 1885
Several sets of very fine Books from Prof. Ephraim Wood

Ice cream, cake and hot coffee were served through the generosity of Mr. Gutterson.

The grammar grades were moved in after Christmas vacation, so at present we have under one roof grades 5 and 6 in care of Mrs. Pinson; grades 7 and 8 in care of Mrs. Osborn; and the High School. This leaves at Ridge Hill Mrs. Jones in charge of grades 1 and 2; Miss Manley in charge of grades 3 and 4, and at Norwell Centre, Miss Merritt with grades 1 and 2, and Miss Litchfield with grades 3 and 4.

Thus, no teacher has over two grades, with the exception of Miss Tolman at Church Hill who, on account of small numbers and the inadvisability of transporting small children has four grades. This seems an ideal arrangement for Norwell, as our numbers for several years would hardly warrant a teacher to a grade.

We know the quality of work will improve more and more as time goes on as a consequence.

A feature of the new building in which the town must be justly proud is the enlarged and greatly improved Town Hall used by the school as an assembly hall.

Although all members of the Building Committee worked hard, the chairman Mr. James H. Barnard deserves especial credit for his untiring efforts throughout the campaign necessary to acquire the appropriation and his almost daily supervision of the erection of the building.

Realizing that the transfer of the Grammar grades to the new building in the fall would call for a slight change in the barge routes, it was deemed better policy to extend the contracts then in vogue to the end of the year rather than contract for the period from April to June.

Accordingly preposals were printed and distributed in August for the year September 1922 to June 1923. The bids were publicly opened September 6th and were as follows:—

J. H. Sparrell
Route No. 1—$40.00 per Week. 1 Truck to make 2 Trips.
Route No. 2—$26.50 per week.

C. O. Litchfield
Route No. 3—$27.50 per Week.

M. F. Williamson
Route No. 4—$31.00 per Week.

The Contracts were awarded to

J. H. Sparrell—Route No. 1; $40.00 per Week; 1 Truck to make 2 Trips; Route No. 2—$26.50 per Week.

C. O. Litchfield—Route No. 3; $27.50 per Week.

M. F. Williamson—Route No. 4; $31.00 per Week.

Your committee have felt in the past that Norwell spent a large amount for transportation. But this bit of information gained while in conference with taxpayers of a sister town changed our opinion and may prove interesting to others who have thought our transportation cost excessive. The town in question expended in 1921, $6,000.00 for the transportation of 97 pupils only a part of which was done with motor busses. Norwell in that year spent $4519.60 to transport 178 pupils and in 1922, $4,733.00 to carry fully 200. I was assured the sister towns' 1922 figures would far exceed their 1921 expenditure. In another neighboring town, one bus with open ends and curtain sides, equipment not accepted at any price in Norwell, receives $50 per week for about the same amount of work as our busses, which receive an average of $25.00 per route.

Proposals for Janitorship of the new building were distributed and the bids opened publicly. They were as follows:

Ralph Sprague	$24 00 per week
John F. Osborn	20 00 per week
Charles Baker	18 00 per week
Alexander Brown	25 00 per week
H E. Farrington	25 00 per week
Chas. A. Bruce	15 00 per week
Thomas Campbell	22 50 per week

The contract was awarded to Chas. A. Bruce at $15.00 per week.

Now that room is available, a scientific course will be offered in the High School in September, one that will help the large number of pupils who wish to continue along that line. The courses then supplied will be Business, Scientific and Classical, which will furnish each pupil with a foundation upon which to build his particular or chosen vocation.

We have found it necessary to ask the town for a special sum of money for new equipment and fixtures for the new school. We are using all old classroom furniture with the exception of a few chairs in the High School. But shades, furniture for the teacher's room, hall runners, typewriters, teachers' desks, etc., had to be purchased and it does not seem fair to take the necessary amount for their purchase from the fund for --Support of Schools," hence the special appropriation Each year should see a few new furnishings added to the building until it is fully equipped.

Likewise the immediate surroundings of the building should receive some attention this year. The land needs to be graded, shrubs planted and at least a beginning made in a definite scheme of beautifying the grounds. The setting of a flag pole in the front lawn of sufficient size to harmonize with the whole would add much to this scheme, for there is nothing so beautiful as our national emblem.

We have set the old flag pole for temporary use only until the town shall take some action. Let us finish the project in a dignified manner, befitting this fine old New England locality.

In June we suffered about the usual loss of teachers but this year all in one school. The three High school assistants resigned to fill other positions and in their places Mrs. Lois Turner was engaged to take charge of the business course; Rev. Myron Morrill of Church Hill to head the English and History department, and Miss Katherine Ranney of Rockland, to teach Mathematics and French. Our principal, Mr. Nichols returned to us but on account of ill health has been granted leave of absence. His many friends will be pleased to learn of improvement in his condition but not of sufficient degree to allow him to resume work at the time this report goes to press. Mr. Ross, a teacher of wide experience has been engaged to take charge until such time as Mr. Nichols is able to return.

The Senior Class each year is allowed to give four parties under the auspices of the Committee, to raise money for their graduation reception. We wish more of the parents would attend these parties, both for the enjoyment they would receive and to share the responsibility with the committee. It is a source of gratification that our High School has been able to hold these social affairs, when it has been found necessary to withhold the privilege in so many other towns. Our parties have always been quiet and enjoyable and can so continue if parents will cooperate with the committee. Know who your child is to invite and with whom he or she associates and the rest will take care of itself.

In conclusion we wish to extend to the taxpayers of the town our thanks for the splendid building which they have erected, also to congratulate them upon the foresight which they displayed in grasping the school housing situation and dealing with it properly. Again "Norwell has put through that which she undertook" a remark often heard in our neighboring towns. May that spirit continue in our town affairs

With a deep appreciation of your interest in school affairs we submit this report for your approval.

Respectfully submitted,

Report of Superintendent

To the School Committee of Norwell:—

It is a pleasure to present this my fifth annual report on the educational facilities of the Town of Norwell. At no time during my incumbency in this position has the future looked so bright, and any unpleasant memories of past disappointments are obliterated by the joy of seeing present conditions so favorable.

THE GENERAL SITUATION

It requires close contact with the local school system under the old dispensation to fully appreciate what the change in organization which has been brought about during the past year really means. Many people will see the "outward and visible sign" as represented by the new building, and will never fully realize the really worth-while change that has been made possible by its construction.

It is seldom that the construction of a High School building becomes immediately effective in the school life of every pupil in town, even down to the first graders. Such has been the case in Norwell. With the completion of the new building it became at once possible to so distribute the school population that no teacher need have more than two grades. That we still have one school of four grades is a matter of local choice and in no way necessary. It is the one flaw in the whole system. From the standpoint of efficiency it is inexcusable.

Without intention to call further attention to the school at Church Hill, but for the purpose of comparison to show the greatness of the improvement made possible in our elementary schools by the recent change, the following data are introduced. They deal with the time element because this has been the chief handicap in the past.

CHURCH HILL SCHOOL—FOUR GRADES

5 Minute Periods—3 (2 for Physical Exercises.)
10 Minute Periods 13 (Including Opening Exercises.)
15 Minute Periods 10 (Including Two Recesses.)
20 Minute Periods 1 (writing or drawing—whole school)

These are the time divisions in the program arranged by a superior teacher who has had long years of experience in adapting her schedule to get the most out of the school day. By this arrangement there are 27 different time allotments. Of these 3 are strictly class exercises: Now the gross school time in this school is 275 minutes from which must be taken 35 minutes for these three outside activities, leaving 240 minutes to be divided between 24 class periods. This would allow an average of 10 minutes to each class. Of course in practice the divisions of time vary as shown above.

Those parents who have tried to help their children with their school work can have some faint idea of how much can be done with the average youngster in ten or fifteen minutes towards teaching some point and giving sufficient drill to make it last through a fifteen minute period of the more interesting play. What then must be the difficulty of accomplishing the same thing with a group of a dozen children, some members of which are below the average. The writer has frequently seen a teacher use two and even three minutes to secure from a child the application of a blend in phonics to a new word in the reading lesson. This done repeatedly soon uses up a fifteen minute period.

It should be noted also that these figures make no allowance for the interruptions which come from visits by the supervisors, the nurse, the school physician, the superintendent, or by other visitors. Practice reduces the theoretical time divisions materially. Since these interruptions are bound to occur in any school it is evident that any increase in the time allotment for each class is pure gain.

With this point in mind let us examine the possible time schedule in a room having only two grades, and two of these grades which require a maximum of different class periods. The grades selected are three and four.

10 Minute Periods—2 (Physical Exercise and Opening Exercises.)
15 Minute Periods—3 (Including Two Recesses.)
20 Minute Periods—4.
25 Minute Periods—6.
30 Minute Periods—1 (Music and Drawing.)

In this program there are but sixteen periods no one of which is of less than ten minutes duration, and with no recitation period shorter than twenty minutes. Physical training is cared for chiefly by supervised play during recess periods and by indoor games when the weather is inclement.

Discarding periods not devoted to real class work there is here a net time allowance of 260 minutes which may be divided amoung 13 periods, giving an average allotment of 20 minutes available for any class. Here is a gain of nearly 82%, and in practice the gain is even greater, because it is time added from which allowance for interruption need not be made.

Increased efficiency on the part of the teacher cannot fail of result by such a change. The reduction of the number of class exercises means a corresponding increase in time allowed for preparation for each class and less loss of time in distribution of materials and collection and correction of finished work. More careful preparation by the teacher means better teaching and less nervous tension in the whole school atmosphere; and there is the added advantage that it results in more skillful presentation and a correspondingly greater appeal to the interest, which cannot help but bring speedier comprehension by the pupils. Better comprehension by the puipls is usually a spur to interest so that the interaction of these two, set in motion by a better prepared teacher should bring notable returns on the increase in the time investment.

In the higher elementary school grades where the number of subjects taught gradually becomes greater the gain is more marked even though there were never as many grades in these rooms. Even here however there were at times four grades in a room and these the grades demanding a more complex program. Lesson assignments were here necessarily longer and the time needed for recitation periods correspondingly greater. What the relief has been to these teachers and the gain to the pupils can be imagined.

It is seldom that $40,000 is spent for new school buildings to a greater advantage than was done right here in Norwell, because it bought not only a good building, but it made possible an efficient school system. It should be regarded, not as a debt contracted, but as an investment which will pay for itself by improvement in the product it makes possible and by the added value it gives each year to the money appropriated for education. If the value of the change could be expressed in dollars and cents the building would pay for itself within the next ten years.

LOOKING FORWARD

There is an economic potentiality in these improved educational facilities which seems to have escaped even casual notice. It is a potentiality which is usually the mainspring of action for the leading citizens in any forward looking community. It is the feature of the present situation which would stand out boldly to a really good business man even if he had no interest in the schools as such.

To exemplify this point consider another of the town departments. Thousands have been spent by Norwell in recent years for the construction and improvement of roads. What for? Was it simply to make it easier for that minority who own motor cars to luxuriate? Was it to make possible to tourists a more rapid passage thru the town? Was there rather some thought that thereby the town would gain new and desirable residents, and that property values (not valuation) would increase thereby? It is usual for those who have the real good of a town at heart to seek this goal. It is the aim of Chambers of Commerce, Commercial Clubs, and Rotarians the country over. Insularity is an expensive luxury, paid for by the many for the benefit of the few.

Norwell seems essentially a residential community. It is not rural in the sense of agrarian, nor is it by any means industrial. Any growth therefore seems likely to be in residential population, in home seekers. Now people who seek homes away from cities most frequently do so for the benefit of their children, and such people are usually excellent citizens. These are they who help to build up suburban towns and bring new revenues to their treasuries.

Among the first questions asked by such prospective citizens is that relating to the town's educational facilities; and more frequently than is commonly known, this is the determining factor. Such has been the experience of many a town. Realization of this fact has been a great factor in the building up of the excellent schools in the suburbs of New York City—notably in Northern New Jersey, Southwestern Connecticut, and those towns in New York State which are tributary to the metropolis.

Good schools have proven good investments for progressive town of the type of Norwell. Therein lies the economic potentiality of the present situation. Let the town make the most of it unless it prefers to maintain a state of "splendid isolation" for the benefit of an exclusive minority while its old farms are exploited and its schools overrun by children who leave schools as soon as the law permits.

TRANSPORTATION

The transportation of school children is a prolific source of contention. Parents frequently see its undesirable features thru the magnifying glass of love and worry. They expect more comfort for their children in a trip of two or three miles than they frequently get in much longer journeys of a similar nature. This is a praiseworthy decire but one difficult to satisfy within the means of the town.

It is only natural to expect that the complete upset of the old school organization will result in some new problems of transportation. These are sure to be solved in the course of time. It is the aim of the local school authorities to achieve the greatest good for all concerned that is within their ability financially.

HEALTH ACTIVITIES

Work has progressed in this department along the usual lines. The customary inspections have been carried out by the school physician, dentist, and nurse.

The only change in the personnel in charge of this work was the employment of Miss Bache to succeed Mrs. Sauer who resigned during the year.

All schools are now provided with adequate toilet appurtenances, and necessary inspections for cleanliness and sanitation performed.

Reports of the various officials in charge of this work should be found in their proper places.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

During the past year new legislation has added "indoor and outdoor games and athletic exercise" to the requirements mentioned in Chapter 71, Section 1 of Laws Relating to Education.

To assist in the application of this law a new Department of Physical Education has been added to the State Board and is under the direction of Mr. Carl L. Schrader, assisted by Miss Louise S. French. A bulletin has been prepared to assist teachers in carrying on this work. This bulletin is in the hands of our teachers but owing to the unsettled conditions contingent on the reorganization of the system we have as yet failed to meet the demands of the new law as well as we should.

In two of the schools the funds have been raised to purchase phonograph records of much advertised physical training courses. These have some value and are being used consistently, but they do not conform to the wording of the law.

To meet the full intention of this act of the legislative powers would require the services of a Supervisor of Physical Education. Such an officer would be hired on a part time basis much as we hire our Supervisors of Music and Drawing, and the salary could be divided among several towns so as to cost each of them about $500 annually.

No doubt that very wise individual known as "the man on the street" will say that the average gets plenty of exercise without the help of either teacher or supervisor. We know that this is not as true as it sounds. While most children no doubt get a sufficient quantity of exercise, they are nevertheless not properly exercised. It is with exercise as with so many other things in life; it is not quantity but quality that counts.

Physical education means something more than a mere "daily dozen." It aims at the finding out, by cooperation with other branches of the health department, just what the physical needs of the individual child are, and to overcome by corrective training the influence of native and acquired faults. At the same time it aims to teach us to play intelligently as well as strenuously to the end that there may be an adequate body to house that "sound mind." And finally it is directed to turn out a nation of clean sportsmen who will play the game, whatever it may be, not only according to the letter but also to the spirit of the rules; and to purge from us the virtue of the gladiatorial combats.

THE TEACHING FORCE

There was but one change in the elementary schools during the year. Miss Theresa Manley of Abington, a graduate of Bridgewater Normal school, taking charge of No. 2 School to be transferred later to the Ridge Hill Primary.

The High School faculty was completely upset, Mr.

English and History	Mr. Myron Morrill
Commercial	Mrs. Lois Turner
Mathematics—French	Miss Katherine Ranney

These teachers have been under a serious handicap owing to conditions made necessary by the building operations going on all around them. The situation was further complicated by difficulty met in heating the old building to a reasonable temperature. Classes were held under all but insupportable conditions and in all manner of places from a school barge in the front yard to the boundary fence in the rear. Too much cannot be said for the cheerful spirit in which most of them faced their difficulties.

NUMBER AND DISTRIBUTION OF PUPILS

Below will be found simple tabulations showing the distributions of the school children of the town arranged as to age, grade and school. The figures were taken from the registers as of December 31, 1922 and are therefore different from those which will appear after the reorganization.

A few notes have been added to call attention to certain significant indications which are brought out by the tables.

AGE AND GRADE DISTRIBUTION

A—Under age pupils. R—Over age pupils. Double leaded diagonals show normal age limits.

The most significant feature in this table is the large number of pupils who are under the normal age for their grade. This might seem an evidence of unusual accomplishment on the part of our schools, but it really means that we have been allowing children to enter school at too early an age. As was suggested last year the age limit for entrance should be placed at five years and six months as a minimum. Then there would be less complaint of the lack of maturity of our High School students. The quality of the work done would improve all along the line.

CONCLUSION

In closing I desire to commend the hearty response made by the citizens when called upon to improve educational conditions in the town, and on behalf of the children of Norwell to thank them for the appropriation which made the new building possible.

For cooperation and continued good will shown by the Committee I have a deep appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

STEPHEN G. BEAN,

Superintendent of Schools.

West Hanover

Report of Supervisor of Music

I have the pleasure to submit my first report on Music in Norwell Public Schools.

The musical education of every child should begin with singing. Singing brings the child in contact with the art of music.

It is essential that they become proficient in the early grades with a thorough knowledge of the staff, notes and keys, and the proper use of the voice.

Two part singing in the fifth and sixth grades and three part in the seventh and eighth grades are well balanced.

The study of music appreciation is a portion of every lesson. Tone quality, musical interpretation, part singing, and individual work are features of the music in the schools.

The High School Chorus gives promise of doing fine work the voices are of good tone quality and well balanced.

I desire to extend thanks to the Superintendent and the Teachers for their co-operation.

Respectfuly submitted,

GEORGE H. WOODS

Supervisor of Music.

Report of Supervisor of Drawing

Superintendent and School Committee:—

With pleasure I submit the following report in drawing. The subject is altogether too large to discuss in all its phases in a few lines, so, suffice to state we have accomplished great things in many ways.

During the last year an event worthy of special notice occurred to our school system. Working upon the application to it will bestow upon our town grand and immortal principles which belong to human culture.

There will be rapid improvement in our schools which already stand above the general average.

The grading which gives but two grades to one teacher is obvious as to results in the work of art and drawing as to any other branch, perhaps more so.

We have much we can do, the question is—How little can we afford to do? "The best teaching is that which results in fitting the student to study intelligently without a teacher." This is our aim, that what little we do, it will be everlasting and the best we can find.

The grades will show results by June, even by the late starting.

At the High School it looks as if it would be some time yet to get right. Time will give us a place but we lose by the waiting. I am disappointed in our room allowance here, we have a problem to work out.

Last year we did fairly good work. The principal, Mr. Nichols, gave me every opportunity, also the other instructors as to a room for my work.

We had an exhibit at Marshfield Fair and ranked well. We took work from every school. We hope for better things to come. Of course supplies are short, very short. There is no limit to material that could be used in this work and the amount of time and material used is worth while.

Respectfully,

A. GERTRUDE ELDRIDGE.

Supervisor of Drawing.

Our total circulation for the year was 1544; 1295 fiction and 249 non-fiction.

This is somewhat less than last year which is due to the fact that the removal of two grades from District No. 1 to the Central School Building lessened our constituency.

We are as usual indebted to the State Library Commission, to the Women's Educational Union and the James Library for the generous loan of books, and to several individuals for gifts of books.

We have added about seventy-five volumes during the year, forty-five by gift and thirty by purchase. Our shelf room is taxed to capacity with our seven hundred and twenty five volumes and in order to make room for new books we are obliged to remove some of the old ones.

Visiting Nurse Association

To the Citizens of Norwell—

The Visiting Nurse Association submits to you a financial report of the past year and a report of the Nurse's activities. We regret that this latter report covers a period of only five months.

The resignation of our former President was regretfully accepted in May.

The resignation of Miss Bache, because of her prolonged illness, was later accepted. Substituting for Miss Bache, Mrs. Marion Sauer completed the first term of school work. At the same time, we were fortunate in being able to secure the services of Mrs. Susan Turner of Hanover, for community nursing. This necessitated the obligation of providing transportation for Mrs. Turner to answer bedside calls as the Association car was used exclusively for school work. This arrangement covered a period of six weeks.

Please note in Treasurer's report the cost of upkeep of the car for the past year. In addition to this expense, supplies for the nurse's work must be provided. Dentistry for those school children whose parents cannot pay or can pay only in part is also provided by this Association as well as transportation to the dental clinic. When necessity demands it, school children are carried to the optician in Rockland to correct defects. The officers of the Association feel that the time has come when we should have a new car but do not wish to assume the added responsibility without your approval and co-operation.

August first, Miss Catherine Roe, graduate of Cottage Hospital, Boston, began her duties as School and Community Nurse.

It was ruled that during the month of August, the Norwell Nurse should answer, secondarily, all Scituate calls. On the 13th of August, the Association car was in collision at North Scituate with a truck driven by Giovanni Decemberle of Brockton whose driving license had expired and for which offense, he later paid a fine of $25 after having appealed to the Superior Court. The Association car was badly damaged and Miss Roe seriously injured. Suit was brought by Giovanni Decemberle against this Association for $500. Mr. David H. Fulton of Boston, attorney for Lumbermen's Mutual Ins. Co. is defending the Association in the case, which is still pending in the Superior Court.

The officers of this Association wish to thank the people of the town for their support in the past year and ask for your hearty co-operation and good will in the coming year. It is our earnest desire to serve the Community and with that purpose in mind, we hope to be able to supply the sick room with necessities for every emergency.

Rules for Public Health Nurse

1. Public Health Nurse shall be on duty from 8 A. M. to 5 P. M. She shall have an afternoon free each week.

2. All calls received later than 4 P. M. must wait over until the next day except in case of emergency. Only urgent calls will be answered on Sundays and legal holidays. Word must be given before five o'clock on previous day when possible.

3. Nurse shall not attend contagious cases.

4. The nurse shall, on no account, be allowed to give a diagnosis, to prescribe drugs or advise concerning the use of medicine.

5. The nurse is expected to receive her orders from the physician on whom the responsibility of the case devolves. She will answer all calls but is not allowed to continue with a case unless the physician is in charge.

CHARLOTTE G. OGDEN,
Chairman.

School Committee

To the Citizens of Norwell

At the first regular meeting of the Committee Benjamin Loring was elected Chairman and Nellie L. Sparrell Secretary and Treasurer.

The year past has not been marked by any very radical changes or startling innovations but rather by a steady improvement all along the line.

We have all been conscious of an increased earnestness among teachers and pupils due to a large extent to the more favorable conditions under which all have worked. The new building has relieved the crowding at Dist. No. 1 and Dist. No. 5 making it possible to give each teacher in these buildings two grades,—a grading as nearly ideal as our numbers will allow.

In June we were obliged to replace three teachers. Miss Teresa Manley of Dist. No. 1 resigned and Miss Mary B. Arringdale was engaged in her place. Rev. Myron Morrill resigned to resume his studies and Mr. David Ford was elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Nichols our High School principal passed away and Mr. Lester E. Williams was elected in his place. In the passing of Mr. Nichols, Norwell High School lost a valued friend and untiring worker whose end was hastened by his faithful attendance to his duties at the school, even against the orders of his doctor.

In August proposals for wood and transportation were printed and distributed. Aug. 16th the Committee met and publicly opened the same with the following results:

Bids for Wood—None received, therefore the wood for the remainder of the year was purchased of the local dealers as needed.

Bids for Transportation:

Route No. 1. One Truck 2 Trips per day each way.
J. H. Sparrell .....$40 00 Per Week

Route No. 2.
J. H. Sparrell .....$26 50 Per Week

Route No. 3.
C. O. Litchfield .....$30 00 Per Week

Route No. 4.
M. F. Williamson ..... $31 00 Per Week

The Committee did not feel that it could grant the asked for increase on Route No. 3 as the work done was the same as the previous year, therefore the Chairman was delegated to interview the bidder to see if he would accept $27.50 per week. He accepted and the route was given to him at that figure. The contracts were awarded as follows:

Route No. 1. One Truck 2 Trips per day each way.
J. H. Sparrell ..... $40 00 Per Week

Route No. 2.
J. H. Sparrell ..... $26 50 Per Week

Route No. 3.
C. O. Litchfield ..... $27 50 Per Week

Route No. 4.
M. F. Williamson ..... $31 00 Per Week

We are very proud of our health work in the schools. The regular examinations by the physician and dentist have been made and the "follow up work" faithfully carried on by the school nurse. The parents are urged to take advantage of Miss Roe's suggestions in the correction of physical defects in the children. This is not an attempt on the part of the school department to intrude upon the home life, but a sincere desire to be of service to the children in getting a good start in life physically.

As time goes on it becomes more and more evident that the upkeep of the car used by the nurse should be financed by the town as most of the work done is connected with the schools. Without it the nurse could not possibly make the necessary visits to the schools, transport pupils to the dentist, carry home those taken sick at school, or do "the follow up work."

As an adjunct to the health work an attempt at serving hot lunches has been made. In the High School building a basement room has been utilized as a lunch room, which was conducted last year by a lady from outside. This year the school has carried on the work, buying its dishes and oil stove, building counters from waste lumber and taking full charge of the preparation and serving of the lunch. An agent from the nutrition department of the State Board of Health is to give a talk to all interested at the High School on Better School lunches.

An opportunity to introduce a practical course in manual training at the cost of the materials alone has presented itself this year in the person of our principal Mr. Williams who taught in the Newton Vocational High School. Already under his supervision the boys have built a larger stage in the Town Hall. We have asked Mr. Williams to tell you of the proposed course in his report to you.

Beginning with a vacation of the week of Feb. 22nd, Norwell schools will be conducted on the so-called eight week plan, a system in vogue in many of the surrounding towns and cities. As nearly all of the legal holidays will fall in vacation weeks, our days of actual attendance during thirty-nine weeks of school will be as many as in the old system when the legal holidays usually fell outside vacation time.

In our budget we have asked for an increased amount for teachers' salaries. Our maximum is now $1050 in the grades against $1200 in even the smallest of our surrounding towns. In reality the town is paying but $850 of this amount, as the state pays us $200 on each of our teachers receiving $1050 and $150 each on the three grade teachers receiving less than $1050. If our teachers have training and experience which the state department considers worth $200 to the state, is it fair to take advantage of the fact that many of them live at home and pay them much less than they can command in other towns? The fact must be faced that in order to replace any grade teacher on the staff more salary would have to be paid for an inexperienced teacher from outside, who would not be acquainted with our conditions or needs.

Under the direction of the teachers the pupils have had supervised play during recess to a greater extent this year than formerly, made possible at the new building by the generosity of Mr. John F. Osborne who owns the land adjoining the building. The pupils and teachers fully appreciate this privilege and the committee take this opportunity of expressing its gratefulness for help in solving the problem of caring for the pupils out of doors.

In closing our report we wish to urge the citizens of Norwell to visit the schools even if they do not have children in school and get first hand knowledge of what is being done for the pupils. We feel sure they will profit by the experience.

Respectfully submitted,

NELLIE L. SPARRELL, Secretary

School Superintendent

To the School Committee of Norwell:

Herewith is presented my sixth Annual Report as Superintendent of Schools. It is charterized by greater brevity than in former years; this because of the fact that many of the defects in the system have been removed by the reorganization which the past year has seen put into effect.

General Outlook

At no time during the writer's incumbency as Superintendent of Schools for this town has the general condition of the system been as near what it should be as during the past year. With the completion of the new building and the attendant regrading, or redistribution of grades, the whole situation took on a new aspect. Teachers toow new courage and put new spirit into their work with a natural result in new response from their charges. Requisitions for new books began to flow in as the effect of the increased time allotments made themselves evident by increased accomplishment in the class rooms. This was especially true of supplementary reading material, and it was a source of regret that the financial resources at our command were so limited as to make adequate response not immediately possible.

Although a distinct gain is already evident as a result of the changes made possible by the new building, too much must not be expected at once. A period of several years must pass before the full fruition of the reorganization will develop. Each year will show a distinct gain which will be cumulative and which will reach its normal level when a class has passed thru all of the grades under the improved conditions. In those years should come added improvements in physical surroundings in the elementary grades, together with improvements in methods of instruction and measurement of results as these are discovered by students of education who are attacking these problems in ever increasing numbers.

There is a tendency on the part of many who are unfamilar with the inner workings of a school system to underestimate the difficulty and importance of the work of the teacher of the lower grades. It seems simple to teach a group of six year olds to read and write and to do elementary work with numbers. We sometimes forget that there is also a socializing problem present which is no mean part of the day's work. It is not an easy task to acclimate Johnny, for whom hitherto the sun has shone, the hen laid nice eggs, the cow given delicious milk, grandma baked cookies, and mother kissed bruises, to an atmosphere where there are twenty or thirty other Johnnies equally as important. The difficulty is by no means decreased if the atmosphere is made still more unfamiliar because of gloomy and unattractive surroundings. In these earlier school years the surroundings should be especially bright, comfortable, and cheery-a place where it is fun to go. With the right type of teacher in charge of such schools in the earlier years of a child's school life, the path is greatly smoothed for those who are their guides when they begin to make use of the tools of education with which they have been provided. Indeed a very great responsibility rests on those teachers of the earlier grades. It is important therefore that we have in these grades the right type of teacher in the best possible surroundings.

The one place in town where things are out of step is the Church Hill School. Here, in deference to the desires of the patrons, the old type of organization remains. This puts a handicap on both pupils and teacher. The handicap is at present not as great as it will be if an unkind fate makes a change of teacher necessary.

It is not a pleasant thing to say, but is nevertheless a fact that the maintenance of this school is increasing the cost of educating every pupil in town. This is because of the reduction of the sizes of the classes in Number Five to a point where the per pupil cost becomes excessive. All of the children in the Church Hill School could be accommodated at the Number Five School and eventually the services of a teacher dispensed with. This need not effect those teachers who have given years of faithful service in any way except to change their location. It is a well known fact that the school at Ridge Hill serves as a training school for the larger towns, and there is reason to suspect that a neighboring city will profit from this source at the close of this year.

The one department in which our schools are weakest is the very important one which has to do with the physical development and bodily care. We are barely meeting the requirements of the law in physical education, and the work in hygiene is antequated. The School Nurse supplements our work in hygiene as much as her limited time will allow, but the teachers need more help and guidance.

Hanover has solved this problem uniquely by employing a full-time School Nurse who also acts as Supervisor of Physical Education, Director of Health Education, and Truant Officer. This may seem like an unwieldly combination of duties, but with a well organized schedule it works out admirably. It is difficult to find a nurse who is willing to assume all of these duties, especially that of Supervisor of Physical Education, but given a person willing to attend Summer courses at the Normal School under direction of the State Department a very great good can result.

Conditions in the High School are very promising. This is very gratifying in view of the difficulties faced when death took Mr. Nichols who had served faithfully and well. It was no mean problem to find an executive as well as a teacher for this position, and with the new conditions brought about by the new building, the executive side was not to be neglected. Fortune favored us. We have in Mr. Williams the man we so seriously needed. His report and recommendations will be found on these pages.

The Teaching Staff

Changes in the teaching force during the year were large in proportion but small in number. Aside from the substitute work done by Mr. Ross in the High School, there were but three new members added to the staff.The Principalship of the High School was filled by Mr. Lester E. Williams, a man of unusual experience for a position like this, and who was available only through very fortuitous circumstances, so far as the town is concerned.

Mr. David Ford of Hanover who had completed his work at Harvard in three years was secured to replace Mr. Morrill.

The vacancy at Ridge Hill was filled by the election of Miss Arringdale a recent normal graduate.

These new teachers have strengthened the corps of teachers very materially. It is to be hoped that we can retain the staff intact for another year.

SOME FINANCIAL COMPARISONS

For the benefit of some who take a keen interest in the cost of education the following statistics are tabulated. These are from the last complete financial report of the State Department of Education covering the school year ending in June 1922. The figures for the last school year will not deviate very materially from these figures.

Space does not permit comment on these figures. They are offered as a convenient table of reference for those who desire to compare the cost of education in Norwell with that in towns of about the same size. Attention is called to the fact that the assessed valuation and the average membership in the schools are important factors in any conclusions which may be drawn.

NUMBER AND DISTRIBUTION OF PUPILS

The usual tabulations of the number and distribution of school children in the Norwell schools will be found below. The age and grade distribution is made this year on the basis of six years as the proper entrance age, and I would recommend that this coming school year the entrance age be set at five years and six months as the minimum.

Key:—Roman Numerals Indicate Grades.
Arabic Numerals Indicate Ages.
A—Number Young for their Grade.
R—Number Too Old for the Grade.

The percentage of accelleration is apparently large this year. This is because of the change in basis used here for the first time. The lowest entering age limit is six years for this table instead of five as used in former years.

The lower age limit is raised one year in each grade as is the upper limit also. This automatically changes the relative proportions of our age and under age pupils.

Of course this table is based on chronological age and is not a true index of actual retardation from the psychological standpoint as it makes no allowance for differences in natural abilities of various pupils.

CONCLUSION

In closing, I wish to state again my appreciation of the work done by the teachers and all who have been working for the betterment of the Norwell Schools. It has been a good year and the promise is bright for a steady improvement.

Respectfuly submitted,

STEPHEN G. BEAN.

High School Principal

Norwell, Mass., February 8, 1924.

To the School Committee of Norwell

The question is occasionally asked "Why can't the Norwell High School prepare for college as well as the—— High School?" The answer is unqualified: it can. I hope all the parents of the town will understand that in order to prepare for any college which accepts candidates only in uniform college entrance requirements (Harvard, Boston University, Smith, Amherst, etc.) a pupil must spend all of a hard four years course, each subject, of which is acceptable to the college. In this school the easiest and surest way to meet these requirements is to take four years of Latin. It is worthy of note that this September I found no single pupil who could be coaxed to continue this subject beyond the first year. It is my hope that before the close of school I shall be able to place in each parent's hands a clear cut statement of what the school can offer. I believe we can offer a wide range of subjects by alternating them; for example, by offering third year Latin to both Seniors and Juniors one year, and fourth year Latin to the same group the next year. Latin, French, English, Mathematics, History Economics, Sociology, Botany may be treated in this way.

There is an unreasonable number of pupils who are repeating High School subjects because of previous failure. Several reasons for this may be stated; of which the most important is that pupils who have no interest in such subjects are forced, for lack of something better, to take Ancient History, Algebra, Geometry, etc. This is bad for the pupil because he gets the idea that he is a failure ("I can't do the work"), and it stops his progress in the school; it is bad for the town because the child stays in school an extra year in many cases, and that year's schooling costs an extra $140.00 It seems to me the remedy is simple; if we enrich the school's offering by adding such work as manual training, cooking and sewing I believe a great part of this trouble will disappear. By careful planning this can be done so that there will be no great increase in expense year by year beyond the initial expenditure for equipment. In fact, I sincerely believe that the elimination of the retardation of which I have spoken will actually pay for the up-keep of the new courses.

LESTER E. WILLIAMS.

School Nurse

To the Norwell School Committee

At your request I am giving a brief report and outline of the duties of the School Nurse.

1. To assist the School Physician in the physical examinations of each child.

2. To keep records of these examinations.

3. Follow-up work, that is to make visits to the parents of school children having physical defects, explaining the meaning, and giving any help possible to have these defects corrected.

4. To assist the school dentist at the dental clinic.

5. Class-room inspection for cleanliness, deformities and skin eruptions.

6. To try to help improve the general health of the school children.

To make the health work in the schools a success we need co-operation. We have this co-operation in Norwell as was evidenced in the number of children attending the dental clinic, and having physical defects corrected.

Have we finished with our health work? Certainly not —we have just begun. Although it is a slow work—it is sure and the money spent improving the health and mind is the best investment a Town can make, for in return it gets strong, healthy boys and girls for future citizens.

I wish to thank the people of Norwell for their co-operation.

CATHERINE A. ROE.

Supervisor of Drawing

To the Board of School Committee:

As usual, I briefly summarize my work.

I find the returns show as the amount of time put to the subject.

There is at least one hour a week given this subject in the grades and more time as the teacher sees fit to use the time.

In the High School the students have forty minutes a week.

In September this year at the High school I was permitted to use the vacant room (the future library) on the street floor as my class room.

We are doing very well and Mr. Williams, the principal, has proved himself a good supporter both to the pupil and myself in our work.

In writing this report I am disappointed not to receive in time the report from the State meeting of Art teachers held in the Mass. Normal Art building lately.

It is some years since the state art supervisor has called meetings. They are to be held from time to time in smaller districts through the year. These gatherings are to keep the work and supervisor together, with the state supervisor as a leader.

Vocational work is a demand of the art teacher today, and where it is not needed, the least we can do is to give opportunity to enjoy and to think with some degree of intelligence, give them confidence in their own ability and the technique to accomplish this—a general training makes the man mentally strong.

I thank the grade teachers through this report for their faithful fulfillment of outlines and execution of all suggestions. To them, in a great measure, is due the credit for the grade work.

Most Sincerely,

A. GERTRUDE ELDRIDGE.

Visiting Nurse Association

To the Citizens of Norwell—

We present under this report a list of calls made by your Public Health Nurse during the year 1924 and also the financial report of this association.

We are glad to say that we are better equipped to render service to the community by having provided the nurse with sick-room supplies.

By close affiliation with Plymouth County Association of Visiting Nurse Committees and The State Board of Nursing Organizations, we are able to keep in touch with the work of organizations in other towns of Plymouth County and towns throughout the state.

We are glad to announce that we have an Agreement of Affiliation with Metropolitan Life Insurance Company whereby the Industrial Policy Holders and Group Certificate Holders of this Company in this town shall receive nursing service under the supervision of your Visiting Nurse Association.

Through affiliation with Massachusetts Tuberculosis League and the sale of Christmas Seals, we were able to send one child to the Summer Health Camp in Hanson for the month of August, where a marked improvement in the health of the child was made.

To protect the members of this association against any suit or debt, we are now incorporated under the Laws of Massachusetts and will hereafter be known as Norwell Visiting Nurse Association, Inc.

We thank you for your support in the past year and respectfully ask your co-operation in the future.

CHARLOTTE G. OGDEN,

President.

Our total circulation for the year was 1717, 1490 fiction and 227 non-fiction.

This is an increase of about 200 over last year. We are indebted to the State Library Commission and several individuals for gifts of books and to the Women's Educational Union and the James Library for generous loans. We have added about fifty-five volumes during the year, twenty-five by purchase and thirty by gift. We hope in the near future to be able to increase our over crowded shelf room.

School Committee

REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDING DEC. 31, 1924

To the Citizens of the Town of Norwell:

In submitting our report for 1924, we feel it our duty and pleasure to thank the taxpayers for the extra thousand dollars allowed us at the March meeting. It made possible a raise in teachers salaries as planned, the introduction of manual training in the High School and a start made toward the replenishment of the Chemical laboratory..

It has been the custom at the beginning of the year to call for bids on wood and transportation. These proposals have been duly printed, distributed and publicly opened at quite an expense to the town. Only the present drivers of school busses have bid on transportation for the past four years and no bids were received on wood in 1923, due to the steady demand at good prices. Therefore this year we renewed the contracts of our bus drivers and bought wood in the open market at no greater price than we paid in past years. We find this method of renewing the contract of bus drivers where the service is satisfactory to be prevalent throughout the state, guaranteeing two years service to the drivers and less liklihood of an increase in price to the town.

Because of the large number of small children living on High Street, it has been necessary to extend the barge route covering that territory and the closing of District No. 7 made a change necessary in the route taken by the Church

Hill bus.

In April, the joint committee of Hanson, Hanover and Norwell met for the purpose of electing a union superintendent for the district. The term of Stephen G. Bean having expired and he not wishing to present his name for reelection, a sub committee was chosen to interview candidates and prepare a list of same for the joint committee meetings. Four such meetings were held at each of which candidates were interviewed, until at last the Commiittee unanimously chose Leon M. Farrin then Superintendent at Danielson, Conn.

Mr. Farrin is a Harvard graduate with three years experience as Superintendent, who has by his hearty cooperation and thorough manner of doing his work, demonstrated the apparent wisdom of our choice.

June brought with it the loss of two High School teachers, Miss Ranney resigning to be married and Mr. Ford to resume his studies at Harvard. Mr. H. Deane Hoyt, principal of a school in Goodyear, Conn., took Mr. Ford's place and directs the athletics, while Miss Doris Page Allen replaced Miss Ranney.

Mr. Hoyt has organized school teams in soccer, basket and baseball and a schedule of games with surrounding schools has been arranged. This affords the pupils an unexcelled opportunity to exercise self control at the same time fostering a loyalty and love for their own school. As the games do not in any way conflict with the school work, it is hoped the parents will encourage the team by their support.

The illness of Mrs. Turner deprives the High School of one of its most valued teachers which is a source of regret to every pupil as well as the Committee. Miss Lila Perry a graduate of Burdett Business College is serving as substitute for the remainder of the year.

Because of the increase in the number of pupils in the grammar grades, the library was opened as a class room with Katherine Turner a Norwell High and Bridgewater Normal graduate in charge.

By transporting the small number of pupils in the Ridge Hill building to the Central building and giving Mrs. Jones the first three grades we were able to dispense with the services of one teacher this year. Districts 5 and 7 were combined at No. 5 with Miss Tolman in charge of the upper room. This consolidation was deemed necessary as the number of pupils in the rooms in question seemed altogether too small for a teacher to handle. The money thus saved was used to paint Dist. No. 5. Miss Litchfield accepted a better position elsewhere as we had nothing to offer which interested her.

We need to paint Dist. No. 1 at Ridge Hill this year at a probable cost of $300. and the High School one coat in 1926 at about the same price. Our buildings could then be kept in excellent condition by the application of one coat of paint every third year, beginning with No. 5 in 1927. No. 1 in 1928 and the High School in 1929. This is looking some distance ahead but the plan if carried out would give the town a look of prosperity, which counts so much in attracting the desirable sort of newcomers.

An article will appear in the town warrant asking for a sum of money with which to purchase the land surrounding the school grounds and properly lay out and grade the same. Everyone knows this should be done. Many times the grounds have been spoken of as having the appearance of a shoe factory yard, which we feel maligns the present day shoe factory, where considerable care is taken in the appearance of surroundings. Our only public building, in itself a dignified structure, rests in the midst of debris necessary to its construction. The graduating class of 1924 placed letters forming the name Norwell High and Grammar School across the front, the present pupils have paid to have the floor of the Town Hall scraped and refinished and the local post No. 192 American Legion led the way by donating a handsome and substantial flagpole to the school. If the pupils past and present and the Legion feel pride enough in the building to help with their limited resources, will not the town awake to its reponsibilities?

Manual training for the boys and household arts for the girls which were introduced last year in a simple way, have become very popular as well as profitable, again demonstrating the fact that the best way to train the mind is through the hand. At some future date it is hoped proper equipment may be provided for this department.

To comply with state laws, a teacher in physical training has been adder to our staff of teachers. We were fortunate in obtaining Mrs. Warren Illsley, a Sargent School graduate for this work, who has taken great interest and accomplished splendid results. Her report will be found elsewhere.

The heath work has progressed steadily under Dr. Grovestein and Miss Roe both of whom submit to you their report. Much work has been done this year with underweight children. After examination and weighing, Miss Roe has advised the parents of methods to regain weight with the result that fully half have regained their normal weight.

In connection with underweight children we wish to announce that the Board of Health have joined with the School Committee in obtaining the services of the state clinic for underweight children. This unit consists of two doctors and a nurse sent out by the state with X Ray and all other necessary paraphenalia to throughly examine all children ten percent or more underweight. The school nurse will have previously prepared a list of all such children and gained the necessary permission of the parents, who are cordially invited to be present at the examination. Following the examination a report will be sent home with suggestions for correction of the underweight.

The whole matter is optional with the parent but we trust will be taken advantage of by all.

In conclusion we wish to thank the parents for their hearty cooperation making the year in many ways a banner one.

Respectfully submitted,

NELLIE L. SPARREL, Sec.
BENJAMIN LORING, Chairman
AMY W. SYLVESTER

School Superintendent

To the School Committee of the Town of Norwell

I herewith submit my first annual report as superintendent of the public schools of the Town of Norwell.

PROFESSIONAL IMPROVEMENT OF TEACHERS

I think perhaps the biggest step forward this year has been a distinct advance made toward the professional improvement of the teachers of the town. We have accomplished something that many towns and cities with 200 teachers have been unable to do, namely to establish in this vicinity a university extension course for teachers. Forty teachers in this section have been meeting once a week for an hour and a half under the able leadership of Professor A. A. Douglas of Harvard University in a course called "Child Study and Adolescence with Practical Application to the School Problem." In the town where I was located last year a similar course had a lasting effect on the quality of the teaching in the town. Teachers are able to earn college credit by means of extension courses. It is noteworthy that more than half of the teachers enrolled are taking the course for credit. The spirit of the teachers in entering wholeheartedly into the course is to be highly commended. The co-operation of the school committee of this town has also been noteworthy.

COURSE OF STUDY

A uniform course of study has been put into all the schools so that the work throughout the town might be systematized, and pupils passing from one grade to another might progress according to a uniform plan with no overlapping of work among the grades. The course is minimum in its requirements so that each teacher has plenty of opportunity to use her initiative.

BOOKS AND SUPPLIES

An earnest effort has been made to provide teachers and pupils with the books and supplies needed. All will agree that each child should have a book, that pupils should not be expected to look on with each other.

Teachers cannot do good work without necessary supplies any more than a carpenter or a plumber can do good work without proper tools. It will probably cost more for a time to provide the needed books and supplies but I believe the townspeople are willing to make this expenditure.

THE TEACHING STAFF

Two changes took place in the High School teaching staff. The school department was fortunate in obtaining the services of Mr. Herbert D. Hoyt as assistant principal of the high school. Mr. Hoyt received his preparation at Dorchester High School and Norwich University. He has taken teacher training courses at Hyannis Summer Normal School and Boston University. Mr. Hoyt has had three years' experience teaching in Massachusetts and Connecticut. Miss Doris P. Allen was engaged as teacher of languages at the high school. Miss Allen is a graduate of Peabody High School and Boston University. It is unfortunate that Mrs. Lois C. Turner has had to give up her work temporarily because of illness. Miss Lila S.

Perry has been engaged as substitute in Mrs. Turner's place. Miss Perry is a graduate of the two year course at Burdett College and has been teaching at Burdett this fall. Only one new teacher has been needed in the grades and this place has been filled by Miss Katherine Turner, a graduate of the three-year course at Bridgewater Normal School. It is a source of gratification that there have been so few changes in the teaching force, for the present staff of teachers in Norwell is very efficient.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Norwell is fortunate in having disposed of the building problem and the town is t obe congratulated on having a central grammar and high school adequate to the needs of the town. The needs of the primary grades are well taken care of by the buildings at Norwell Centre and Ridge Hill. During the past year, the Norwell Center building was painted and I understand that the School Committee plans this year to paint the Ridge Hill building.

HIGH SCHOOL

The report of the high school principal appears elsewhere so I will touch but briefly on this subject. The work in manuel training has been carried on successfully. Important improvements have been made in the school lunch room. The equipment for the teaching of chemistry has been considerably enlarged. Additional and much needed electric lights have been installed in the High School and grammar rooms. The work in athletics has been carried on especially well this year. New desks and chairs are needed in the high school but more important is the need for improvement of the schools grounds which the school committee wishes to attend to this coming spring.

HEALTH

In the health work, children are taught the principles of health and sanitation, and are drilled in health habits that become fixed and permanent. Such an influence from our schools will be carried over in the generations that are to come. Our aim is a "sound mind in a sound body."

Supervision of children's health is necessary for efficiency in instruction in the schools. Health instruction includes physical training, not simply the formal setting-up exercises but physical development through play. It includes also hygiene and physiology. We are putting less stress now on a knowledge of the different bones and more on the value of different foods and a knowledge of health principles.

In accordance with state law, children are examined physically and parents notified concerning deficiencies. It is a well known fact that defective eyesight, hearing, or other physical ills are a handicap to a pupil in his school work.

DISTRIBUTION OF GRADES

I should like to comment favorably on the grading as I found it here. Only one teacher has as many as three grades and this is necessary because of the wise policy of keeping little children as near home as is consistent with efficient instruction. It seems to me that the Norwell schools are pretty well organized. It means that transportation costs must necessarily be high but no one can doubt that it is worth it.

OUR SCHOOLS

We are not neglecting the "three R's" for fads and frills. The primary business of our schools is to teach the fundamental tools of learning. Increased responsibilities have been put upon us which we are able to assume because methods have been evolved by which we are able to teach the fundamentals in less time than was formerly required. It is generally acknowledged that it is our duty to educate pupils physically as well as mentally. An elaborate scheme of mental culture which proceeds without regard to the needs of the body is but a house built upon the sands. We are responsible for turning out good citizens. Something more than mere knowledge of our form of government is necessary for good citizenship. The citizen must be imbued with a sense of duty and responsibility. We are responsible for turning out pupils with character. To educate a child in mind and not in morals is to educate a menace to society. To develop character the schools aim to fix right standards and habits of conduct. Preaching at the child does little good. When the child finds that it is pleasant to be honest, to co-operate with his neighbors, and to reverence the things that are reverend, he develops in character.

CONCLUSION

I feel that we are making progress in our schools and that the school system is operating smoothly and efficiently. We are trying to make the work in our schools practical and to weed out that which has not demonstrated its utility. It is our aim to teach children to work in groups without discord. We wish to have pupils recite ideas rather than words. We mean to train them in power rather than in the acquisition merely of information. Our purpose is to inspire pupils to do their best in school or out.

I am pleased to say that there is the heartiest co-operation between school committee, superintendent, teachers, parents, and pupils.

For the cordial welcome and support given me in my part of the work, I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

LEON M. FARRIN

Superintendent

High School Principal

To the School Committee of the Town of Norwell:

I know you believe a school is much more than books and teachers and pupils; and with that idea I have worked this year towards a more complete school program intellectually, physically and socially. I should like to mention several parts of this program, new or old, which seem to me to contain promise for a better school each year. While these are picked for special mention I would point out that they are not added at the expense of the regular work, which, on the contrary, is made more interesting and better by them. I feel that it should be a source of pride to this community that parents who move from here wish to continue their children in this school and that new comers are pleased with the condition they find.

The program of the High School is now arranged so that each subject comes four times a week instead of five as before. This results in more study periods in school; the same ground has been covered in each subject, and there are fewer failures. Combine with this the idea of giving substitute subjects in alternate years (see program of studies published last fall) so that a pupil may, for example, take both United States History and Elementary Economics where he could formerly take only History and you will realize that the academic program of the school has been considerably enriched. At the same time new books in various subjects have been purchased replacing obsolete editions, and a start made on a school library. New and adequate chemical laboratory apparatus has made that course popular and much more worth the pupils' while.

Our new course in shopwork has not been so successful as we could wish because of the loss of Mrs. Turner from our teaching staff, but a good beginning has been made and we have some good results to show. I trust another year will find this more flourishing.

The lunch room continues to make a modest profit which is regularly put back into better equipment so that in the course of a few years you will find in its equipment and service it is as good as any. I believe it now stands very high.

Formerly physical education was confined to interschool athletics. We still have the interschool games and have added soccer football and basket ball, but we also have scheduled physical education under Mrs. Ilsley for all boys and girls, an educational advance whose signifiance will be better realized in the future.

I have heard many favorable comments about the dances given by the High School this year. The boys and girls have cheerfully co-operated with us in all the things we have asked of them, and have found that their parties are as pleasant under our rules as any they attend. They have not been largely profitable but the newly finished floor will probably attract larger attendance in the future.

In conclusion I wish to state that the present condition of the school is excellent because of hearty co-operaion and cheerful good will of the teachers who work in it and the pupils who attend it.

Below we print the plan of work from which a high school pupil chooses. It seems to me that parents should allow pupils to choose only after careful consultation, and that a course once chosen should be carefully adhered to.

In any case when a pupil chooses subjects which conflict it will be necessary for him to drop one.

The committee reserves the right to change this plan if it is found that too few pupils elect any subject.

Respectfully submitted,

LESTER E. WILLIAMS

School Nurse

January 29, 1925

To the Norwell School Committee

A short time ago I heard Dr. Mace Andres, physcologist give the following description of a normal person. "A normal person is one who can face the every day affairs of life fairly and squarely and meet with a fair degree of success." It is the parent's ambition as well as the teachers aim to have every child reach this goal, but it is almost impossible for a child to be normal mentally if he is physically unfit.

Every year the school physician makes a thorough physical examination of each child and I might say that we would be pleased to have the parents present at this time. When the examinations are completed, the school nurse then makes her home calls explaining the defects and co-operating with the parents in having these corrected. I sometimes fear the parents feel that we are intruding into their private life, but this is not our intention. We are merely trying to aid them to the best of our ability, and to do our share in helping their children reach the normal mark.

If during the school year there developes a contagious disease either the school doctor or nurse examines daily every school child exposed to the disease until after the period of incubation.

The underweight children, those 10 percent or more, are weighed at frequent intervals, and a monthly weight record is kept of each child in his class room. It is here that the success of the hot lunch served during the noon hour is evident, and the number of children taking advantage of the lunch room is sufficient proof of its popularity.

We have tried to impress upon the pupils the importance of daily care of the teeth and the results have been most gratifying.

The health work in the schools can be a success only thru the co-operation of the parents in the home, if we succeed in this, then we have made one great stride toward the advancement of better health in the school child of today and of future generations.

Director of Physical Education

Mr. L. M. Farrin, Superintendent of Schools:

I herewith submit my first annual report.

Physical training has been placed in the schools for both boys and girls in the year 1924. We should not feel that the law compelling physical training is a burden but rather that it is an opportunity to serve the children and the state.

The human mechanism is composed of several "sets" of muscles. Certain "sets" are concerned in the ordinary exercises of every day life. The object of Physical Training is to counteract the over-development of these "sets" by bringing into play the muscles which are more or less inactive. This is done by means of calisthenics or gymnastic exercises, including exercises with Indian clubs and dumb-bells.

Posture is an important feature which can not be too strongly emphasized. Perfect health depends on good posture.

In the lower grades, action stories and rythmic plays take the place of formal gymnastics and the movements, which are imitative of well known activities, are done by suggestion.

Grades three to eight, inclusive, are given formal gymnastics. This work, which is done to command, has two objects: (1) the educational effect of quick response to commands, (2) the training of muscular control and good postural habits. Lessons are so arranged that all parts of the body receive a certain amount of exercise.

The same type of work is carried on in the high school.

For the improvement of the physical education department, allow me to suggest; first, that equipment such as a horse, box and boom be purchased to aid in the co-ordination and agility of the child, second, that Director be allowed a full week in which to work so the pupils may derive the most benefit from their exercises, especially in corrective.

Visiting Nurse Association

To the Citizens of Norwell

We herewith submit the financial report of this Association, and also the report of the Public Health Nurse for the year 1925.

This year in addition to the contract already existing with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, we have a like agreement with the John Hancock Insurance Company, whereby the Industrial Policy Holders of that company may receive nursing service under the supervision of the Visiting Nurse Association.

During Miss Roe's vacation, her work was carried on by Miss Gaffney, the Scituate Public Health Nurse, which proved most satisfactory.

We are sorry to announce the resignation, in September of our President Mrs. Charlottee G. Ogden. During her term of office Mrs. Ogden gave a great deal of time and thought to the work of the Association and we regret that she feels unable to continue.

Acting under the by-laws which authorize the executive committee to fill vacancies, the committee has appointed Mrs. Amy Sylvester as President for the remainder of the year.

We thank all the members of the Association for their co-operation during the past year and we hope for your continued interest and support.

School Committee

To the Citizens of Norwell:

It is with great pleasure that we submit to you our annual report.

At the close of the school year, we naturally review the work accomplished with this query in mind: Have we delivered to the town proper value for the money expended? We as a committee feel the teachers and superintendent have fulfilled their mission by doing just that. By comparison with other towns of even greater size and wealth, we are well pleased with the results.

In response to requests of parents, drawing has been returned to the High School course. Music and physical training have been retained with creditable results.

The production of a musical comedy and a pageant by the grammar school pupils not only added to the pupils' knowledge of music and literature but gave them confidence to appear before the public, an accomplishment of great value later in life. This same training is given in the High School by the class play. All who witnessed the production of "Seventeen," the senior play, must realize how successfully fear of an audience was overcome and how completely personality was lost in the part portrayed.

This phase of the school work is the best possible preparation for American citizenship, for of what value to the country is the educated man of ideas and ideals if he has not the ability and confidence to express his sentiments to others?

Physical training has not only helped to keep the body fit but again a great contribution has been made toward the upbuilding of character and a sense of fair-mindedness and self-control exercised by the inter-school games in basketball and baseball. Winning the game has not been the goal alone. The manner in which our teams have taken their defeats when administered certainly is a credit to the high ideals set by the coaches. Many of the town's people have attended the games and have thereby encouraged pupils and teachers to better efforts.

The matter of a playground again demands your attention. As the records show, at the speeial town meeting held in May, the town voted to lease for three years, with an option of purchasing at the end of that time, the land surrounding the building. The price set by the owners was appropriated and negotiations were started by the Selectmen. During the first week of school in September the owners notified the school board that the pupils could not play on the ground, and immediately a field was rented for the use of the children until such time as the town should provide a place for play. After hiring the field, we were told by the owners that a mistake had been made and permission to play on the ground was granted. Having made a bargain with Prof. Wood for the use of his field, your committee adhered to it This explains our position on the question and is given with malice toward none. It now rests with the voters and we earnestly hope final disposition will be made at the March meeting.

In the 1926 budget we have asked for $500 for new seats and desks in the High School. Since the building was completed we have used the old desks with separate chairs of the kitchen type, which despite all possible care make a noise readily heard in the rooms below stairs. They are thus a disturbing element to both High and Grammar Schools but there seems to be no help for it until permanent seats can be purchased.

During the coming year we are to replace the wood stoves at District No. 5 with those burning coal, a change made possible by a gift ffrom Mr. John Harris Gutterson for that purpose. Mr. Gutterson has also given us five cords of wood and with Mrs. Gutterson will help us in the purchase of chairs in the High School to replace those wearing out during the year. We deeply appreciate their great interest in the schools as evidenced by their generosity.

It is within all to contribute something to the school life of the town. Mr. Phillips, our new principal, has invited speakers from the town to address the pupils at assembly in the morning. Many have taken advantage of this opportunity but we feel more should do so.

One phase of the transportation problem we would like to bring to your attention. The State law requires that we transport all children living two miles or more from school. We are doing better than that and are making an honest effort to transport all who live over one mile from school. The busses are each one crowded for a short distance only but not to such an extent as to make it unsafe if each pupil conducts himself properly and has due regard for his neighbor. The drivers try to maintain discipline but it is impossible for a driver to pay proper attention to the road ahead and at the same time watch his passengers.

If a child alights before the bus has stopped and is injured the driver is blamed, regardless of the fact that each child has been told many times to wait until the bus stops. Again, fooling in the bus has resulted in broken glass with a possibility of personal injury. When attempts have been made to discipline the guilty parties, objections of one sort or another have been made and a request for more busses. We feel Norwell is spending all it can afford on transportation and is giving more than many towns, and we therefore appeal to the parents to take the matter up with their children. We dislike to adopt the State requirement of two miles, but we feel it is the only alternative if the present system cannot be successfully carried out The knowledge that the parent is absolutely back of us, will be of great assistance.

District No. 1 was repaired and painted this year and is now a credit to the neighborhood. If the appropriation is granted to paint the High School our buildings will all be in excellent condition.

In closing we wish to thank the voters for their faith in our work as evidenced by their co-operation at town meeting, and urge you all to visit your schools often.

Respectfully submitted,

BENJAMIN LORING, Chr.
AMY W. SYLVESTER
NELLIE L. SPARRELL, Sec. and Treas.

School Superintendent

To the School Committee of the Town of Norwell:

I hereby present my second annual report to you and the citizens of the Town.

EDUCATIONAL MEASUREMENT

Scientific methods are being rapidly developed in the mental measurement of children to be taught and the instruction to be given. School supervision is fast being changed from guesswork into scientific accuracy.

The Dearborn Group Test of Intelligence has been given to each child in town and the intelligence quotient of each child determined. One single test is not a valid index of a child's intelligence but a start has been made toward the scientific study of the material with which we are working. Until further tests have been given, the chief value of this first intelligence test will be to give teachers an idea as to which pupils are capable of better work than they have been accomplishing.

Standard tests of achievement in the various school subjects will be given and the result correlated with the intelligence tests. We will then be able to measure the results of the work in the schools with the results in other school systems.

Parents of under-age children may have their children tested for admission to the first grade. This is in line with steps taken in this direction in other progressive school systems. This plan has worked out very successfully in places where it has been adopted.

TEACHERS' MEETINGS

Joint meetings of the teachers of the supervision district of Hanover, Hanson, and Norwell have been held regularly during the year. An attempt has been made to have these meetings contribute to the professional growth of the teachers as well as to serve the purpose of giving out announcements on matters of routine. That these meetings are teachers' meetings and not superintendent's meetings is a point that has been held carefully in mind.

Outside speakers have been invited from time to time, among them being Edith S. Mann, supervisor of primary grades in Brockton, who spoke on the Project Method. Anna W. Johnson, educational secretary of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League, spoke on the Modern Health Crusade as the accepted method of teaching youth the value of health habits. E. Kathleen Jones, general secretary of the state division of public libraries, spoke on reading in the grades. Librarians of Hanover, Hanson, and Norwell were invited to attend in an effort to bring about still closer co-operation between the school and the public library. Stanley R. Oldham, secretary of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation, addressed the teachers on the work of the federation. The teachers voted to establish a teachers' club to affiliate with the state federation. Mr. Oldham told us that we will be the first union to affiliate with the state federation.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Consolidation of the school building plant has worked out well, making possible for the greater part of the pupils the educational advantages of an up-to-date sanitary building in which modern facilities are offered.

It would be well if improvements could be made at the Center Primary and Ridge Hill schools, making these buildings more modern. Chief among the needs is improved lighting facilities. Cross lighting at both school makes it difficult for pupils to see th eblackboards. On dark days, regular school work is sometimes not possible.

Improvement of the school grounds at both buildings would be desirable. There is no need to mention the need for improvements of the grounds at the high school because that is already assured. The grounds at the Center Primary school are particularly bad in wet weather; perhaps some sort of draining would remedy that situation.

There is no congestion of pupils at any of the buildings except in one of the grade rooms at the high school building. Enrollment figures printed elsewhere in this report show the number of pupils in each room at each building.

HIGH SCHOOL

Although numerous changes have taken place in the teaching staff of the high school, the work of the school has been carried on, on a high plane of excellence. Under the leadership of the new principal, Mr Phillips, the school has been assured efficient management. The usual attention has been given to athletics and the other so-called extra-curricular activities with no detriment to the regular studies. It has been the policy of the new principal to stress more than ever the regular work of the school. I feel that we have an efficient high school faculty, exhibiting unusual interest in the welfare of the school.

As usual, the lunch room has functioned efficiently. Athletics have been carried on with great success. The discernment of the principal has brought about several physical changes to the advantage of the smooth conduct of the school. The seating equipment of the high school is not suitable. New seats should be purchased to replace the chairs now in use.

THE TEACHING STAFF

The following changes have taken place in the teaching staff during the past year. Lester E. Williams resigned to re-enter the Newton school system. His place was filled by the election of Edwin Phillips of Pepperell, a graduate of Stetson University in Florida, who has done graduate work at Harvard and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mr. Phillips has had five years' experience in teaching and administrative work in Education. At the close of the year, the resignation of H. Deane Hoyt was received. Mr. Hoyt was elected to the principalship of the consolidated school at Manchester, Massachusetts, at a very substantial increase in salary. Hollis E. Clow of Haverhill was engaged for the place vacated by Mr. Hoyt. Mr. Clow is a Bowdoin graduate and has had considerable experience directing athletic teams. During the spring, Doris P. Allen resigned, Emma West of South Paris, Maine, being engaged for the remainder of the school year. Miss West deciding to continue her college studies, Myrtle Graves of Norwell, a graduate of Radcliffe, was engaged. Lois C. Turner resigning, Lila G. Perry of Somerville, a Burdette graduate was engaged for the position, to which Mrs. Turner returned in the fall.

Two changes occurred in the grades. Jessie Ferguson of Brockton, a graduate of the four year course at Bridgewater Normal School was elected to the position vacated by Ella F. Osborn, and Shirley W. Hare of Houlton, Maine, a graduate of the State Normal School at Farmington, Maine, with four years' teaching experience, was elected to the position vacated by Katherine Turner who went to Winthrop, Mass., to teach.

I feel that we have an efficient, hard-working teaching staff, worthy of the confidence and support of the people of Norwell.

SCHOOL ENROLMENT

The enrolment in the schools of the town at the present time is as follows:

High School	57
Grammar School, Grades 7, 8	40
Grammar School, Grade 6	34
Grammar School, Grades 4, 5	46
Center Primary, Grades 3, 4	24
Center Primary, Grades 1, 2	39
Ridge Hill Primary, Grades 1, 2, 3	21
Total	261

The number of children enrolled a year ago at this time in the schools of Norwell was 252.

SUPERVISION OF SPECIAL SUBJECTS

The supervision of special subjects has been carried on well as usual this past year.

Fortunately, drawing supervision has been restored again in Norwell. The exhibitions of drawing and the prizes won at Marshfield Fair testify to the excellent results secured by our drawing supervisor in other towns.

The quality of music at graduation proves the excellent work of our music supervisor. One value of music and drawing is the refining influence on the young. Music and drawing have a rightful place in our curriculum because they touch life at so many points beyond the school days.

Supervision of physical instruction is exceedingly important and it is a source of gratification that Norwell in line with other progressive towns has this type of supervision.

TEACHING METHODS

Extensive use is made by the teachers of the town of modern, progressive methods of teaching such as the project method and the socialized recitation. Good old-fashioned drill work, however, is far from neglected.

Every teacher has a carefully worked out program for her own benefit and that of any substitute who may be called in.

Each teacher keeps a plan book in which she considers the aim and procedure of each lesson she teaches.

GENERAL STATISTICS

The following figures in the annual report of the State Department of Education for the school year ending June 30, 1925 may be of interest.

Population U. S. Census 1920	1348
Valuation as of April 1, 1924	$1 520 120 00
Average number of days in school session	176
Expenditure for school support from local taxation per $1000 valuation	$11 84
Expenditure for support of schools from local taxation per pupil in net average membership	$77 25

HEALTH

Considerable attention is paid to the health of the children by teachers, physicians, nurse, and dentist. The value of the health work done through these agencies can hardly be overestimated. Many studies have been made showing the degree to which poor health is a contributing factor to failure in school and mental retardation.

SIGHT AND HEARING TESTS

The state law reguires that the sight and hearing of all pupils be examined early in the school year and that the results be reported to the superintendent of schools. A summary of the reports sent in to me follows:

Number of pupils enrolled (Sept. 1925)	265
Number found defective in eyesight	22
Number found defective in hearing	6
Number of parents or guardians notified	27

SOME MISCELLANEOUS THINGS

Fire drills have been held regularly in the various schools.

It has been recommended to the teachers that school savings accounts be fostered wherever possible.

The ordering of supplies has been put on as efficient and systematic basis as possible insuring economy in their purchase and preventing any possibility of teachers being without the necessary material equipment to work with.

Good use of visiting days has been made by teachers. Each teacher writes a report which is read at a teachers' meeting so that all teachers of the three towns of the supervision district may benefit from new ideas obtained by individual teachers on their visits.

Only three children retarded 3 years or more who are subjects for special classes for deficient children have been discovered in an enumeration of backward children.

COST OF SCHOOLS

Occasionally a citizen remarks about what the schools used to cost when everything was proportionately less expensive. If one will investigate present conditions thoroughly, he will find that the Norwell school cost campares very favorably with that of other school systems of equal size. Indeed, he may find that he is getting more for his money than many other places.

The cost of schools everywhere is increased by growth of attendance, depreciation of the dollar, and the additional burdens society places on the schools. Various comparisons have been made showing how much less is spent for education than for various luxuries and amusements.

It cost less than four cents each day of the year per capita in the town of Norwell for the support of schools last year from local taxation. This is certainly not a great sum. It would be more fortunate for our school if this four cents per day came as an indirect tax; possibly it would not then be felt more keenly than are many of the present non-essentials for which we enjoy paying much more.

Money for schools is money invested. The man who pays toward the support of schools, although he may have no children of his own, is still paying for protection to his home, and aiding in the development of his community.

WHAT WE ARE TRYING TO DO

Train pupils to be thoughtful and responsive. Lead pupils to know how to use the information which they have acquired.

Stimulate interest and effort. Inspire.

Select suitable and adequate teaching material, emphasizing essential values.

To be sympathetic and appreciative in working with pupils.

To be sincere and just in dealing with pupils.

Train for the worthy use of leisure time.

Teach citizenship and patriotism.

Stress proper habits, ideals and attitudes; and not be satisfied with the mere inculcation of knowledge.

To exemplify good manners and morals.

WHAT WE WANT AS OUR EDUCATIONAL PRODUCT

A right sentiment toward authority and obedience.

The power of selection, the ability to make wise choices.

Not only intelligence, but a fair-minded, honorable and public spirit.

A stronger moral and physical development as well as a cultivation of the intellect and social graces.

Proper ideals, habits, and attitudes in matters relating to courtesy, honesty, co-operation and the various other desirable qualities in human conduct.

Again let me express my sincere appreciation of the pleasant relationship existing between school committee, teachers, parents, children and myself.

Respectfully submitted,

LEON M. FARRIN

Superintendent of Schools

High School Principal

To the Superintendent of Schools

I herewith submit my first annual report as Principal of Norwell High School.

The following statistics are for January 22, 1926.

Total enrollment since September	60
Present enrollment	57

Of which 14 are Seniors
Of which 15 are Juniors
Of which 15 are Sophomores
Of which 13 are Freshmen

All take English; 14 take Latin; 24 French; 11 History; 31 Civics; 13 Science; 43 Mathematics; 14 Introductory Business; 10 Bookkeeping; 12 Typewriting; 10 Stenography; 11 Office Practice; 17 Manual Training; 22 Domestic Science. All are required to take Singing and Physical Training. 12 take drawing.

Our program of studies require seven forty minute periods per day. Every subject is taught five times per week (except drawing, music and physical training).

All classes are arranged to meet the Mass., State and the College Entrance Examination Board requirements.

All classes have received very vigorous and efficient treatment. They are well planned, instructed and supervised.

An outline of the High School's Curricula Activities is in the process of printing and will be issued soon to all parents.

The pupils are provided with modern texts in all classes. A good reference library is kept at the High School and is available to the pupils at all times.

The teachers are well provided with class room devices for teaching their subjects. The High school is in urgent need of new furniture. Both teachers and pupils would do better work if modern desks, seats and laboratory tables were installed throughout the High school.

The discipline of the High school has been good. There has been no suspensions or expulsions. All pupils who entered High school last Fall are continuing in school.

On January 22nd, the Senior Class presented "Seventeen" before an appreciative audience. This play was interesting, well done and worth while. Two invitation dances were given by the school and were well patronized. Both were successful financially and socially.

The singing class is doing excellent work. The pupils are anixous to sing. The boys and girls of Norwell sing well.

The drawing class is small but very much interested. It started late and therefore it has been difficult to get a larger enrollment for the Drawing teacher.

The Physical Training teacher has brought into play several new features in athletics that have done much to improve our usual sports. The basket ball teams have developed a spirit and skill of which we are proud. Pupils should have more space adjacent to the school building for out of door games.

Parents are invited to attend the school at any time.

I thank the Superintendent of schools and the school board, who have in many ways given assistance to me during the present school year. Their readiness to be of service when asked to help and the atmosphere of good will and friendship that exists among us has given me encouragement to make efforts to satisfy.

Respectfully,

EDWIN PHILLIPS

Principal, Norwell High School.

To the Norwell School Committees

The health work in the schools during the past year has progressed along the same line as previous years. We have tried to impress on the childrens' minds that an "ounce of prevention is worth more than a pound of cure," and have met with a certain amount of success for while many diseases were prevalent with the co-operation of the parents, teachers and children we escaped any epidemic that might have otherwise occured.

More than one half the number of children with physical defects have had them corrected and the results in school have been noticeable and on the whole satisfactory.

The number of underweight children has also considerably decreased and this is encouraging for a child who is not in normal health, is greatly handicapped and cannot meet the everyday affairs of life as successfully as a healthy child.

Of course the work of the doctor, dentist, and nurse, would amount to but little without the co-operation of the people, and I wish to take thise opportunity to thank the parents, teachers and children for doing their share toward better health in the community.

Respectfully,

CATHERINE A. ROE

Director of Physical Education

Mr. Leon M. Farrin
Supt. of Schools

I herewith submit my second annual report.

Physical training has been on trial in the Norwell schools for over a year and much benefit has been derived from it, considering the fact that each child receives less than an hours instruction each week.

The pupils in the primary grades are interested in "action stories" and put a great deal of energy into their movements.

Grades three, four and five are developing grace and rhythm in doing folk dances. The pupils are taught songs and sing as they dance.

In order to have good basketball players in High school the children must begin their training in the grades. The pupils in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades have been given talks and practice in playing the game, together with their regular exercises.

High school boys should have a man as their coach and advisor and I was very glad to have Mr. Hoyt take up that part of my work. Everyone knows of the splendid results of our boys basketball team.

The girls are very much interested in the game and with effort and practice, they will develop into a worth-while team.

Games are the best means of character-building known.

One man has written:

"For when the One Great Scorer comes,
To write against our name.

He writes not that you won or lost,
But how you played the game."

Respectfully,

FRANCES ILLSLEY

Supervisor of Music

Mr. Leon M. Farrin,
Superintendent of Schools, Norwell, Mass.

I herewith present my annual report.

The work in music has been carried very much as in previous years, using the same course of study. Note singing in grades 1 and 2 has been developed along with the reading of the scale.

The work in grades 3 and 4 is a continuation of that done in the 1 and 2 with the addition of drill in the rudiments of music and practice in reading music.

In grades 5 and 6 the work becomes more difficult, the intervals are longer, rhythms more complicated, and the chromatic comes in for more serious consideration.

Beginning with grade 7 part singing in three parts has been developed. A report of the music would not be complete without reference to the good work which is being done by the chorus in the High school.

To the teachers I extend my appreciation for the co-operation given.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE H. WOODS

School Dentist

Mr. Farrin, Supt. of Schools

It gives me pleasure to submit tc you the following summary of dental work in the Norwell schools for 1925:

Silver Fillings	175
Porcelain Fillings	51
Cement Fillings	3
Cleanings	45
Extractions	49
Treatments	18

There has been a marked increase in the care of the teeth in the schools. The brushing of the teeth has been especially emphasized, particularly by the teachers and school nurse.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR B. ELDRIDGE, D. M. D.

Visiting Nurse Association

To the Citizens of Norwell:

We beg to submit the financial report of this Association, also the report of the Public Health Nurse for the year 1926.

It may be of interest to the residents to know something of the work that is being accomplished by the Nurses Association.

When needy cases are reported, investigation is made, and if considered worthy, such assistance as is in our power is immediately rendered, without publicity to the recipient, and with effective sincerity.

During the year we have been able to provide additional supplies, necessary to replenish the linen of our Loan Chest.

We are pleased to report that the services of our very efficient Nurse has been much appreciated by the patients, as well as the officers of the Association.

We have arranged for an examination of pre-school children, before the opening session, in the endeavor to prevent sickness during the term. This we believe, is a step in advance over the old method, of holding a clinic while the children were in school.

While the treasurers' report shows in detail what we have done, we venture to call your attention to some of our activities which include free medical supplies, free dental service, the scales and couch donated to the first aid room of the Central School, automobile expenses over and above the town's aid, and additional salary to the Nurse.

We believe the Nurse Association's work deserves the support of everyone in the town and that everyone should be a member. Surely, the annual dues of 25c per person ought to be no bar to membership.

We hope you will all be ready to join this year when the volunteer solicitors make their annual canvas.

The Association regrets to announce the resignation of its President Mrs. Albert L. Sylvester, who has given so liberally of her time and thought to the work of the Association.

In conclusion would say, that it is doubtful if there is a more important activity than that which has to do with the Public Health. This association is not only earnestly striving to assist the adults in their illness, but it also hopes to anticipate by preventive measures possible sickness in the young; and in as much as the field is very broad, we are only limited in our activities by the means at our disposal.

This is a necessary work and we urge your co-operation.

LENORE C. CRONIN,
President

Our total circulation for the year was 1541, 1170 fiction and 371 non-fiction.

We are indebted to the State Library Commission and several individuals for gifts of books and to the James Library for generous loans. We have added about 90 volumes during the year, 50 by purchase and 40 by gift.

By the will of the late Mrs. Annabel Wakefield our library has received a bequest of $100, which may serve as an incentive to other generous friends to add to this gift so that we may eventually have a sufficient fund to provide an adequate building.

Plymouth County Aid to Agriculture

LOUIS H. OGDEN, NORWELL DIRECTOR

Short winter courses for Homemakers are given at the Massachusetts Agricultural College each year, starting in January and ending in March. In this winter course, the women may study as they like. The entire time may be devoted to practical courses in home-making; to cooking, canning, and other subjects; to raising poultry, vegetables, flowers, or to combine one or two courses in home-making with courses in agriculture and horticulture. In addition to class room and laboratory work, there will be opportunity to attend college meetings, athletic games, and to take part in college activities. Expenses run from $120 to $140. This includes room, board, and text books. Send to Director of Short Courses, M. A. C., Amherst, for catalogue and special announcement of School for Home-makers.

Junior Club work has been organized throughout the United States and aims to help country boys and girls to improve rural farm and home practices and the social life of their own communities; to show them the possibilities of rural life; to aid those who so desire to become efficient farmers and home-makers, and to teach country boys and girls how to make themselves public-spirited, useful citizens, and leaders in rural affairs. We have a County Club Agent for this work if your children are interested in forming a club.

As an incentive to our boys and girls to join this club movement and avail themselves of the splendid opportunities offered by this service of our County Bureau and the Federal Government, Mr. Wm. J. Leonard offers five prizes of five dollars each, for the most successful results in the different departments of club work, to be awarded under the direction of the County and Local Agents.

The 1925 Town Report outlines Extension Service Work for all members of the family which is carried on year to year and in which you are invited to take part.

School Committee

THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE HEREWITH SUBMITS ITS REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1926

The time has come when the function of the public schools is to fit a child for Life—physically and morally as well as mentally. Gradually the three R's have seen the addition of the sciences, languages, the arts, and physical training in its many phases to the course of study. Realizing the bearing good health has upon the school work, a careful physical examination of each child is made, his defects if any, noted and a systematic course of correction attempted. To round out his training, the wise teacher adds the precepts of right living and the school has done its best to prepare him for Life. We feel the Norwell schools stand well toward the top in this preparation.

Our teaching force is conscientious, and our pupils for the most part appreciative of the efforts made in their behalf.

Early in the year Mr. Albert Sylvester purchased the land surrounding the school building together with the adjoining woods all of which he sold the town for $500 the amount raised to buy the playground. It cost him much more than this amount. Thus through the generosity of Mr. Sylvester a perplexing problem of several years standing has found solution.

The grading has not been completed. The grass seed will be sown and shrubs planted as soon as the condition of the ground will permit. An auto parking space is to be provided on the east side of the building which we respectfully ask all to use who have occasion to leave cars on the grounds. The driveways must be kept clear for the safety of the pupils when entering or leaving the school busses.

The regular examinations by the school dentist and physician have been made and the follow up work done by Miss Roe. The Red Cross and Visiting Nurse Association have added weighing and measuring scales, steel and glass cabinet for surgical supplies and a sterilizer for dental instruments all in white enamel also a couch for use of children who are ill, to the equipment of Miss Roe's office. The Woman's Community Service has given $50 with which to purchase a rug and other materials for the teacher's room at the Central School.

Some two years ago the State Board of Health offered to all towns through the local Boards of Health and School Committees the services of the "Clinic For Underweight Children" then starting a survey of the state. Norwell accepted the offer and in due time our turn arrived to hold our clinic. The staff of three doctors, two nurses, two dietitians and stenographers arrived and the clinic began. Each child accompanied by his parent passed from one doctor to another, each of whom made a careful examination and entered his findings on the pupils record sheet. Parent and child then passed on to the dietitians, who instructed the parent, in regard to the best diet for that particular child to regain his weight. The test for tuberculosis was given and all who reacted to this test were re-examined by X-ray two weeks later. Forty eight children were examined, eight were given the X-ray test and but one was found to be tubercular.

Dr. Martin of the staff, told the committee that the clinic had taken over 12,000 X-ray pictures in its two years of existence and he felt confident Norwell had established the lowest percentage of tuberculosis of any locality examined. He also considered it one of the best planned clinics in the state, a direct compliment to the ability of Miss Roe, who was solely responsible for that part of the work.

This clinic will return in two years when it is hoped our percentage will be as low as this year.

The teaching staff met with a great loss in the resignation of Miss Maria Tolman, a wonderful influence for good in our schools for forty years. Miss Tolman leaves us to conserve her strength putting duty to her family and herself before the love for her profession. Her wish was to be allowed to "drop out quietly" which wish was respected but she retires to private life with the heartfelt gratitude of all who are acquainted with the excellence of her work.

We would like to ask the voters to take into serious consideration the placing of insurance on District No. 1, at Ridge Hill and District No. 5 at Norwell Center. These are old buildings and are more liable to loss by fire than the Central building. To replace either would entail an expenditure of not less than $15,000. We feel the policy of "carrying our own insurance" a poor one and consequently refer the matter to the voters for their advice.

No provision has been made in the budget this year for this however.

A few items in our budget may very appropriately find mention and explanation here. We are obliged to have a second teacher at Ridge Hill because of the very large entering class in September 1927. This calls for $1000. A new ceiling is necessary at District No. 5, and a great deal of grading around the building. At present the pupils cannot walk around the building to the out buildings without wetting their feet.

There is a crying need for new furniture at the High School, but your committee has refrained again this year from requesting an appropriation in the budget for this purpose as we fully realize the burden we are obliged to place on the taxpayers. When the Central School was built we furnished all rooms with old furniture and we have not bought any new furniture until the gift of $250 from Mr. and Mrs. Gutterson made it possible to refurnish one room. May we look forward to an appropriation for this item next year.

We are sorry to announce the resignation of Mrs. Amy Sylvester from the School Committee, due to the fact she is to travel a greater part of the year and her absence from the locality for even longer. She has given long faithful service to her town and at least has the satisfaction of doing her bit, an expression used by Mrs. Sylvester very often.

In closing the committee wishes to thank all who have helped to make the year successful.

BENJ. LORING, Chairman.

School Superintendent

To the School Committee of the Town of Norwell:

I take pleasure in presenting to you my third annual report as superintendent of the schools of the town of Norwell.

THE TEACHING STAFF

Changes in the teaching staff have fortunately been few during the past year. Miss Shirley W. Hare resigned to accept a more attractive position in Rockland. Her position was filled by the election of Mrs. Sara V. Hatch of Rockland, a graduate of Middlebury College, of long experience, who had been teaching in the schools of Maynard. Miss Jessie Ferguson resigned to accept a position in the schools of Brockton and her place was filled by Miss Florence M. Mortimer, a graduate of Salem Normal School who had been teaching in Connecticut.

A change was made in the teaching of the special subjects music and physical training. A plan was evolved whereby a full time teacher might be employed in place of the special teachers at a saving financially. This full time teacher became available for other work such as taking charge of the lunch room thereby relieving the high school teacher who had previously been overburdened. For this new position, Miss Dorothy M. Kanrich of Dorchester, a graduate of Radcliffe, who had had considerable training in music and gymnastics was selected.

We were saddened at the close of the year by the retirement of one of our best teachers, Miss Maria W. Tolman, who had served the town of Norwell faithfully and efficiently for forty years. Her place has since been filled by Mrs. Ella Osborn, a former Norwell teacher.

TEACHERS' MEETINGS

Regular meetings of the teachers of Hanover, Hanson, and Norwell have been held jointly throughout the year. At each meeting the superintendent of schools has occupied part of the time, a teacher in the superintendency union or an outside speaker has filled a portion of the time with a talk, and a part of the time has been taken by a meeting of the Teachers' Club which has been affiliated with the Massachusetts Federation of Teachers' Clubs. We have the distinction of being the first superintendency union to so affiliate.

One of the chief aims of the teachers' meetings has been to have the teachers participate to the fullest possible extent. Many of the teachers have prepared talks on educational subjects of interest and profit to the group. The purpose of the club has been to add professional spirit and to weld the members into one harmonious whole in which local sectional lines might be obliterated for mutual benefit. The superintendent's part in the meetings has been occupied with routine matters, announcements, and discussion of supervisory and administrative problems. A question box has been prepared by means of which problems of common interest may be discussed.

DISTRIBUTION OF CHILDREN

On the whole the distribution of the children in the buildings of the town during the past year has not been the serious problem it is in many other places. The situation in the high school was comfortable as was the case last year. In the grammar school it was necessary to divide the seventh grade into two sections because of the unusual size of this grade compared with the other grades. Conditions are very crowded in the small room occupied by grade six and a portion of grade seven. This room, intended I believe as a library, is not large enough for regular classroom purposes.

At the Center Primary School, the upper room had a comfortable number of pupils, the number in the lower room, forty-four, being a large number for one teacher. The number at Ridge Hill was greatly increased, from only twenty-one last year to thirty-nine this year.

Our pupils in general are comfortably distributed although in two or three spots conditions are rather crowded.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS

The high and grammar school building has been greatly improved by the painting of this building and the town hall. The work being done on the grounds is well worthy of comment as is the addition of the playground space in the rear of the building. Aside from the fact that attractive surroundings contribute their share in the moulding of character even though the child may not be conscious of the influence, I believe we owe it to ourselves as a matter of civic pride to have the appearance of our school buildings and grounds the best.

I am looking forward hopefully to the time when the people of Norwell will feel that they can thoroughly modernize the Center Primary and Ridge Hill schools. If school is to lead the way and not trail behind, the impression our children receive from their physical surroundings educationally should be of a high order, aside from the comforts and hygienic measures involved.

Good school buildings are a good investment. We have all seen good schools advertised as an attraction for people to live in a town.

SIGHT AND HEARING TESTS

The usual tests were given in accordance with the state law requiring that the sight and hearing of all pupils be examined early in the school year and that the results be reported to the superintendent of schools.

A summary of the reports follow:

Number of pupils enrolled (Sept. 1926)	282
Number found defective in eyesight	34
Number found defective in hearing	3

HEALTH

Considerable attention has been paid this year as usual to the health of the school children of Norwell by the Board of Health, the school physician, school nurse, and the teachers. Careful attention has been given by all to contagious cases. The school nurse and physician as usual have devoted much care to every detail of their work. The customary careful attention has been given to the children's teeth. Teachers have stressed personal cleanliness, sleep, food values, and various other hygienic matters.

Of outstanding importance has been the adoption thru the efforts of our school nurse of the ten year program for the prevention of tuberculosis. The idea of this program is to examine particularly the children who are underweight and to nip in the bud any tendencies toward the dreaded disease, that has caused so much havoc everywhere.

REPORT OF UNDER WEIGHT CLINIC

The returns from the state department of public health in connection with the underweight clinic gave the following figures:

Children examined	48
Number of contacts	4
Given tuberlin test	48
Reacted to the test	7
Percentage of reactors	.15
Number X-rayed	8
Classified as suspects	1
Classified as negative	7
With enlarged tonsils and adenoids	13
In need of dentistry	29
Cases of heart disease	1
Cases of malnutrition	3

I should like to call attention to the excellent showing Norwell has make in the above figures and to place a large amount of credit to the school nurse whose excellent work has had a strong effect on the health of the school children of Norwell.

THE TESTING OF RESULTS

Measuring our educational product is a difficult but important matter. In respects like the development of character, the measurement of results is complex. As to health the measurement of results ought soon to be accomplished. Insurance companies have lately been giving us facts about mankind in general. All of our educational objectives are gradually being measured as to results with more or less reliability. That we are making progress in measuring cannot be denied.

Rapid strides are being made in the measurement of native ability and in the acquisition of knowledge. We have given sufficient tests of native ability in Norwell to know our children individually and to assure ourselves that as a group they are not superior or inferior but that they measure up to the average.

We are now devoting our attention to the measurement of knowledge acquired. Several such tests have been given during the past year. We have recently given our children in the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades a test in arithmetic under the auspices of Boston University. When the results in Norwell and other places have been compiled we shall be able to see how our results in arithmetic compare with those in other places. By continuing to give one or two extensive tests of subject matter each year we can build up a testing program which will determine and increase our efficiency.

HIGH SCHOOL

I feel that our high school has been managed with unusual efficiency this past year. Our principal has shown himself to be an able administrator. Our faculty in general has functioned effectively and enthusiastically.

Much interest has been exhibited by faculty and students in the extra-curricular activities. Physical training has been participated in by all students. Stress has been placed on athletics, but the chief emphasis has been on the regular academic studies.

We have been fortunate in retaining the teaching staff intact during the year in contrast to the numerous changes of the preceding year. A stable teaching force is of the utmost importance.

A step has been made toward refurnishing the high school by the installation of new furniture in one room. The other rooms are equally in need of adequate furniture.

The report of the high school principal gives in detail the activities of the past year so I shall limit further comment to the general statement that I am well pleased with the manner in which affairs have been conducted in the Norwell High School during the past year.

MENTALLY RETARDED CHILDREN

In accordance with the requirements of state law a survey of mentally retarded children was undertaken under the direction of the Taunton State Hospital in which jurisdiction Norwell is placed. Eight children were reported by the teachers as three or more years mentally retarded. These children were given preliminary tests as to general practical knowledge and school subject matter by the Norwell School Department. They were then examined by a physician, a psychiatrist, and a social worker from Taunton. I regret that returns have not yet been received from Taunton so that I might state here the number actually found to be three or more years mentally retarded. The state law requires that in a town where there are found to be ten or more children three years mentally retarded a special class must be arranged for the instruction of these children.

SUPERVISION OF SPECIAL SUBJECTS

Reports written by the supervisor of special subjects and other school officials follow in this school report. Each describes in detail his or her special work. It is therefore unnecessary for me to make much further comment than to state that the work of the special teachers and officials has been carried on effectively as it has been in past years. It is a matter of common knowledge that the supervisor of music and physical training, the school nurse, school physician, and school dentist are all intensely interested in their work and in the welfare of the school children of Norwell.

REORGANIZATION OF THE CURRICULUM

I should like to see the abandonment in Norwell of the eight year elementary and four year secondary program for the newer and more progressive although well tested and established six year elementary, three year junior high, and three year senior high program. The presence in the main building of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades makes the adoption of a junior-senior high school system difficult, if not impossible. Departmental work has been tried without success because of the immaturity of intermediate grade pupils. I feel that we have the best thing possible now with the central consolidated building and primary grades at each end of the town. Perhaps the future may bring forth some way by which we may take the step of reorganizing our system in line with that of the most progressive communities in the respect of having a junior-senior high school system.

GENERAL STATISTICS

Thinking that they may be of interest, I am including again some figures taken from the annual report of the State Department of Education for the school year ending June 30, 1926 for the town of Norwell.

Population, State Census, 1925	1 466
Valuation as of April 1, 1925	$1 724 790 00
Average number of days school was in session	175
Expenditure for school support from local taxation per $1,000 valuation	$10 55

Expenditure for support of schools from local taxation per pupil in net average membership	$71 90
Expenditure for support of schools from all sources per pupil in net average membership	$105 13

COST OF OPERATION OF SCHOOLS

I have felt for some time that it may not be clear to all the people of Norwell just how much outside assistance is given us for the operation of our schools. The town votes a certain amount for schools. Everybody may not realize that the state helps out to the extent of between six and seven thousand dollars, lessening the cost of operation to Norwell by that amount.

This year we received $611.28 for the tuition of state wards. Our share of General School Fund, Part I was $1,795.00. Norwell received from General School Fund, Part II $2,545.10. The reimbursement from the state for the superintendent's salary was $667.47, constituting approximately one half the cost to Norwell for its superintendent of school. The high school grant this year amounted to $1,054.25.

The facts I mention are clear to some, but no doubt there are many who have not realized the extent to which we receive oustide assistance and consequently what Norwell is able to receive educationally at relatively low cost to the town.

THRIFT

Among the many duties and responsibilities devolving on the schools of today is the inculcation of trift. Much is being done in the schools of Norwell by way of precept.

By way of practice, the school savings system is one of the most important means of teaching thrift.

At a recent conference between the treasurer of the South Scituate Savings Bank and your superintendent, plans were formulated whereby a school savings system might be installed in the schools of Norwell. It is hoped that this plan may be in operation by the time this report is being read by the citizens of Norwell. Those of us who are connected with the Norwell school department feel that in the installation of a school savings system a noteworthy step of progress have been taken.

IN CONCLUSION

I feel that we have had a successful school year of progress. My thanks are due the school committee, teachers, parents, and children, all of whom have co-operated in the interests of the highest development of the school system of Norwell. The general tendency of all has been to help and not to hinder. There can be no doubt that Norwell is sincerely interested in the welfare of the schools.

I earnestly believe that Norwell Schools are good schools. We are not, however, satisfied. Our aim is to make the schools of Norwell better.

Respectfully submitted,

LEON M. FARRIN

Superintendent of Schools

High School Principal

To the Superintendent of Schools:

I hereby submit my second annual report as Principal of Norwell High School.

The following statistics are for January 15th, 1927.

Total enrolment since September	60
Present enrolment	59

Of which

19 are Freshmen
11 are Sophomores
15 are Juniors
14 are Seniors

The present program of studies require seven forty minute periods per day. Every subject is taught five times per week (except music and physical training.)

Every course offered is arranged to meet the College Entrance Board requirements. An outline of the curricular activities together with an explanation of the marking system has been printed and placed in the hands of the parents.

One class room has been equipped with new seats and desks. The other three class rooms are in urgent need of new furniture. The old equipment is wearing out rapidly. A marked improvement has been observed in the work and deportment of the pupils who use the new class room.

The discipline of the school has been excellent. On account of the fact that practically all of the High School pupils travel on school buses, it has been found impracticable to employ the usual "Detention Period" method of controlling discipline and work. Eternal vigilence, however, on the part of all teachers has, therefore, been necessary to keep the school up to the standards maintained in other schools.

The Senior Class intended to present the play, "The Charm School," on December 3rd, 1926. Slow progress was made in its preparation and it was given up. The Senior class is now working on another play which they hope to present in April of 1927. Two invitation dances were given.

One period per week is devoted to singing. This period is spent usually in singing community songs. Drawing has been discontinued.

A number of new text books and class room devices have been added recently. The reference library continues to grow and is kept in good order.

In the department of English two factors have been emphasized: a command of correct and clear speaking and an ability to read with intelligence and appreciation. To realize the first of these two aims we require a great many written essays and for certain classes regular oral compositions: to attain the second we make a careful study of the masters of our literature with constant reference to their interpretation of our everyday lives.

The Foreign Language Department has shown a rapid growth in the past several years. In this department an attempt is made in both French and Latin to give its students a thorough knowledge of the construction of the languages so that the pupil may read and write it, that in the future he may, if necessary, speak it. This purpose is accomplished by actually speaking, writing, reading and translating it, and through rigid drill, so conducted that although tedious at times, it may whenever possible, take the form of recreation and play.

In History we are teaching for this year Medieval and Modern History to Freshmen and Sophomores and American History to Juniors and Seniors. Medieval and Modern History carries the pupil from the time of Charlemange to the present day. The aim of this course is to increase the emphasis on social, industrial, and cultural topics and to enable the pupil to understand modern conditions and tendencies. Throughout the course there is a unity of treatment, but at the same time the incoherence of a purely chronological relation of historical facts is avoided. In American History the Massachusetts State requirements are carefully carried out. Special attention is paid to the changes in industry, politics and government that have taken place from the earliest days to the present time. A note and map book is used which enables the pupils to gain a better understanding of American History than the use of a text alone.

In the Science Department we are offering General Science to Freshmen and Sophomores and Chemistry to Juniors and Seniors. The General Science course deals with physics, chemistry, hygiene, physiography, agriculture and domestic science. Throughout, the controlling idea has been to make the course as informal as possible, to arouse the interest of the pupil, to provide information which will broaden his horizon and be of real practical value and to teach the pupil something of scientific methods. The study of Chemistry is calculated to arouse interest both in the theoretical and in the practical side of the subject. A knowledge of Chemistry is becoming more and more necessary to enable us to understand discoveries and inventions which are now every-day conveniences. Although the Chemistry Department is handicapped in laboratory facilities, the great stress placed on the solution of problems and the understanding of theory, we believe places our preparation on a par with the best.

In the Mathematics Department no one applied for Plane Geometry or Advanced Mathematics. Algebra is, therefore, the only Mathematics course being taught this year. Every pupil intending to enter College should take Algebra. A large class this year indicates an inclination on the part of the majority of the Freshmen towards college preparation.

In the Commercial Department we have tried more than ever to make the work of the class room like that of an office. Although we have introduced an additional class in typewriting, we have not been handicapped by the lack of typewriters. There has been a decline this year in the number taking the commercial course due to the increasing percentage of those entering in the last two classes to go in for college entrance work. The commercial department is the best equipped department in the school and compares favorably to similar departments in other high schools in this vicinity.

In the extra curricular activities we have been handicapped by the lack of time. Practically all of the time that can be spared from the class room is devoted to the work in lunch room. High School pupils handled the lunch room activities under the supervision of a special teacher. The regular menu consists of soup, sandwiches, milk, pastry, candy and ice cream. All profits, if any, are returned to lunch room for its further improvement. The lunch room is a clean and attractive place to buy and eat a wholesome lunch.

In Athletics our teams have done well. We hope and expect to keep on putting out winning teams, but of more importance to us is the building of character among pupils. Our boys and girls burn with the desire to win, but not at the expense of true sportsmanship. Life is a game and our basket ball court is the laboratory where our boys and girls conduct their experiments in learning how to play the game of life.

During the past year the Superintendent of Schools, the School Board, and the Parents have always been ready to co-operate with us in every way possible to keep up the high standards set up in Norwell High School. Allow me to extend to them my sincere appreciation.

Respectfully,

EDWIN PHILLIPS, Principal.

Music Instructor

Mr. Leon M. Farrin, Superintendent of Schools

Because of its cultural and practical value, music should have a definite place in the daily program of each grade. The following is a report of the music schedule in the Norwell Schools this year.

In grades one and two, the children commence their study of music by learning 'rote songs.' The melodies of these rote songs are, for the most part, folk songs of many nations.

Grades three, four and five continue this study of rote songs. In addition there are time and tone drills which help train the child's ear and which enable him to express himself musically. It is in these classes that the fundamentals of music are taught.

Grades six, seven and eight review the work of the former grades, add more theory and attempt a little work in music appreciation. The seventh and eighth grades study three-part singing.

Thanks to the efforts of the teachers, the children are doing good work.

Very little time is devoted to High School Music so that it seems best to spend most of the hour singing community songs.

Respectfully submitted,
DOROTHY M. KANRICH

Physical Director

Mr. Leon M. Farrin, Superintendent of Schools

I herewith submit my first annual report.

More emphasis is being placed on Physical Education in the Norwell Schools this year, in that each grade has at least two hours of supervised Physical Education a week. Until cold weather set in these classes were held on the playground behind the Town Hall.

Since games not only help in the mental and physical development of the person, but also are of use in training him for the duties of citizenship in his community, they are counted a necessary part of the Physical Education Schedule.

In addition to games is the following program:

Grades one and two, rhythmic plays

Grades three, four and five, gymnastics, mimetic exercises and some folk dancing.

Grades six, seven and eight, formal gymnastics and stunts.

Since the begining of the season the girls' basketball has improved immensely. Good team-work is one end towards which the girls are working—and reaching.

The High School Boys, under the direction of Mr. Clow, are receiving good training and are doing fine work. He has developed teams which play to win the game fairly or not at all.

Respectfully submitted,
DOROTHY KANRICH

Report of Selectmen

We present herewith the seventy-eighth annual report of the officers of the town of Norwell, together with the report of a state audit, made in accordance with section 40 of Chapter 44 of the General Laws.

Three changes were made by the Legislature during the session of 1927, in the laws, which affect our work.

Chapter 65, approved March 25, provides that hereafter the Overseers of the Poor shall be known as The Board of Public Welfare.

Chapter 203, approved April 5, changes the name Almshouse to Infirmary.

Chapter 212, approved April 6, provides that the town forest shall be in charge of a special town forest committee, appointed by the selectmen, one member each year for a term of three years to serve without pay.

The completion of the purchase of the number 2 school house was delayed by the desire of the town counsel to make sure that there were no other heirs, that might make a claim later, besides the two that finally signed the deed. The building is now occupied by the Legion.

The bounds of the town landing at Chittenden have been determined but permanent markers have not yet been placed.

Board of Health

With the unusually violent and fatal cases of infantile paralysis and the added expense at the "Tuberculosis Hospital" we have greatly exceeded the appropriation this year. In past years it has been the custom for the Town to make a small apropriation with the idea that it helped to keep the tax rate down, even if it became necessary for the Board to exceed. This does not meet with the approval of the State Division of Accounts. While we cannot tell what emergency may arise we suggest that the Town appropriate at least $1500.00 for the ensuing year.

Forestry

Previous to the town meeting of 1923, the governors of the six New England states being assembled in conference, had under consideration the condition of our lumber supply, and in view of its rapid disappearance, agreed to request the towns of their respective states to investigate the question of establishing town forests.

Accordingly, at the request of Governor Cox, there appeared in the warrant for our annual town meeting for that year, this article:

Will the town authorize the Selectmen to appoint a committee to investigate the feasibility of establishing a town forest?

The town voted that the Selectmen appoint a committee for that purpose.

No definite action was taken in 1924, except to authorize the appointment of a committee to determine what land was suitable and available to acquire for a town forest.

In 1925 the town voted to establish a town forest under Chapter 45 of the General Laws; also to employ its almshouse unimproved land and lands acquired by tax sale for forestry purposes.

Since that time the town's title to the tax sale lands has been thought to be uncertain and they have not been improved.

Last spring the secretary of the Massachusetts Forestry Association suggested to all the forestry committees and school superinendents the desirability of getting the school children interested in forestry work, and asking them to assist in planting trees on Arbor Day.

With the approval of the School Committee and the Superintendent and the co-operation of the Principal and teachers of the central school and of Mr. Cochran, 1500 four year white pine seedlings, furnished by the state from the forest nurseries at Bridgewater, were planted on April 29, by the pupils of the Central school, in the woodland in the rear of the school grounds, which was acquired by the School Committee with the playground through the generosity of Mr. A. L. Sylvester. The tree warden and his men were employed to remove some brush and briers and W. O. Henderson for Mr. Barnard assisted in directing the planting. Most of these trees are alive and ready to begin growing. Mr. Cochran, without expense to us, went to Bridgewater with his car and brought the trees the day before the planting, so that they were in fine condition.

The planting was preceded by an interesting program in the Assembly hall.

The law requiring the appointment of a town forest committee became effective in July, and the Selectmen appointed Mr. Fred B. Cochran for three years Clifton S. Deane for two years and Fred M. Curtis for one year, and they organized with Mr. Cochran chairman, and Mr. Deane secretary.

In October through the initiative and under the supervison of Mr. Cochran, a tree club of thirty-eight members was formed by the pupils of the High School, to study trees and forestry. The principal has kindly arranged to allow the use of a room for one period on the third Thursday of each month, and three illustrated lectures have already been given before the club, one by Mr. E. W. Brockway, the U. S. Pine Blister Rust Agent, and two by Mr. Robert Parmenter from the Massachusetts Division of Forestry. Others are to follow, Mr. Parmenter and Mr. Brockway, together with Mr. Gardner C. Norcross, the County Agricultural Extension Agent, have visited our woodland with members of the committee and also woodlands of some private owners in the town, and given expert advice on the management of the same. Their services are free to any citizen or owner of forest land in Norwell.

Our total circulation for the year was 1791, 1267 fiction and 524 non fiction. We have added 80 volumes during the year, 42 by purchase and 38 by gift. The continued interest and generosity of the State Library Commission and the gifts of books by several individuals have been an incentive to our Library. The Parent-Teachers Association donated a sum sufficient to provide shelving which Mr. Wm. O. Prouty installed without expense in our new and improved quarters in the upper rooms of the Ridge

Report of an Audit of the Town of Norwell

To the Board of Selectmen,

Mr. Edward N. Sexton, Chairman,
Norwell, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

I submit herewith my report of an audit of the accounts of the town of Norwell for the period from January 1, 1926 to May 23, 1927, made in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 44 of the General Laws. This report is in the form of a report made to me by Mr. Edward H. Fenton, Chief Examiner of this Division.

Very truly yours,
THEODORE N. WADDELL,
Director of Accounts.

Mr. Theodore N. Waddell,
Director of Accounts,
Department of Corporations and Taxation,
State House, Boston.

Sir:

As directed by you, I have made an audit of the books and accounts of the town of Norwell for the period from January 1, 1926 to May 23, 1927, and submit the following report thereon:—

The financial transactions of the town, as recorded on the books of the several department receiving or disbursing money for the town, were examined and verified for the period covered by the audit.

The books and accounts of the town treasurer were examined and checked in detail. The recorded receipts were checked with the records in the several departments collecting money for the town and with the other sources from which money was paid into the town treasury. The recorded disbursements were checked with the original vouchers and cancelled checks on file and with the selectmen's records of authorized payments from the town treasury.

The cash book was footed throughout for the period covered by the audit, and the cash balance was verified by a reconciliation of the bank account with the statement furnished by the bank.

The books and accounts of the collector of taxes were examined and checked in detail. The commitment lists for the levies of 1920 to 1926, inclusive, and the commitment of poll taxes for 1927 were footed, analyzed, and compared with the assessors' warrants to the collector. Variations between the aggregate of the commitment list and the amount called for by the assessors' warrant were found in each of the levies examined, these variations ranging in amounts from $2. in the poll tax commitment of 1927 to $667.86 in the property tax commitment of 1924.

The cash book entries were checked in detail to the commitment books for each of the levies examined, and many errors and omissions were disclosed, duplicate entries were found on the cash book, abatements were found to have been entered as cash collections, and a number of payments had been entered on the commitment books which did not appear on the cash books.

After making the necessary corrections and adjustments on account of these errors and omissions, it was found that the actual cash collections as determined by the examination exceeded the payments to the treasurer, as shown by the treasurer's records, by $1,021.88, this cash discrepancy being paid over to the treasurer by the collector at the completion of the examination.

The discrepancy in the collector's accounts was due, to a large extent, to the fact that the collector took credit twice for a payment to the treasurer on November 13, 1924, of $1,000., having entered the amount on his books as a payment on account of the levy of 1923 and also on account of the levy of 1924. This variation of $1,000. between the collector's records of payments to the treasurer and the treasurer's records of receipts from the collector is clearly indicated by a comparison of the treasurer's and the collector's reports in the annual town report for 1924, but apparently the error was not discovered.

It is apparent that the collector does not keep a proper separation of the town cash and his personal funds, and I would recommend that a separate bank account be opened for his accounts as tax collector and that payments be made to the treasurer weekly as required by Section 2, Chapter 60, General Laws, as amended by Chapter 65, Acts of 1926.

The outstanding accounts were verified by mailing notices to a number of persons whose names appeared on the books as owing money to the town. Three replies were received claiming that the amounts called for had been paid. These claims were investigated and it was found that two of the accounts had been paid but that through clerical error the payments had not been entered on the books. The other account was found to have been paid subsequent to the date of notice. From the balance of the replies received I am satisfied that with the exception mentioned the accounts as listed are correct.

The many errors and omissions in the collector's accounts and the variations between the commitment lists and the assessors' warrants necessitated a considerable amount of detailed checking, which materially increased the cost of the audit.

There are outstanding accounts on each of the levies 1920 to 1924 inclusive, which are long past due, and a determined effort should be made to clear the books of these accounts.

The books and accounts in the selectmen's office were examined and checked in detail. The appropriation accounts were checked with the town clerk's records of appropriations voted by the town, and it was found that a number of accounts had been overdrawn in 1926, and several in 1927, which is contrary to the provisions of Section 31, Chapter 44, General Laws, which reads as follows:

> No department of any city or town, except Boston, shall incur liability in excess of the appropriation made for the use of such department, except in cases of extreme emergency involving the health or safety of persons or property, and then only by a vote in a city of two thirds of the members of the city council, and in a town by a vote of two thirds of the selectmen.

Departmental officials should not incur liability in excess of the sums appropriated by the town. Even though the sums available are insufficient to permit the performance of the work which, in their opinion, should be done, they are, nevertheless, bound by the amount appropriated, as the town has stated in effect that it desires service only to the amount of the appropriation; therefore, the officials should plan their work to come within the sums available. In this connection I wish to call attention to Chapter 248 of the Acts of 1926, which reads as follows:

> Any city, town or district officer who knowingly violates, or authorizes or directs any official or employee to violate, any provision of this chapter, or any other provision of general law relating to the incurring of liability or expenditure of public funds on account of any city, town or district, or any provision of special law relating to the incurring of liability or expenditure of public funds as aforesaid, shall, except as otherwise provided, be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both; and the mayor, selectmen, prudential committee, or commissioners, shall, and five taxpayers may, report such violation to the district attorney who shall investigate and prosecute the same.

An analysis of the accounts was compiled from the various records and data obtained from the examination, and a balance sheet, which is appended to this report, was prepared showing the financial condition of the town as of May 23, 1927.

From this balance sheet it will be noted that there is a revenue deficit of $604.75 in addition to the overdrawn accounts of 1927 of $609.64. This revenue deficit and the overdrawn accounts should be provided for by appropriation in order that the treasurer may be able to comply with the provisions of Chapter 44, General Laws, in the issue and payment of loans in anticipation of revenue.

The records of receipts from licenses issued by the selectmen and town clerk were examined and checked with the records of licenses issued, and the payments to the state, county, and town treasurer, were verified. I wish to call attention to the fact that all moneys collected on account of licenses issued for the town and the hunting and fishing licenses issued for the State should be paid the town and state treasurers monthly.

The savings bank books and securities representing the investments of the trust funds in the custody of the selectment, library trustees and the town treasurer were personally examined, and the income and disbursments were verified.

The funds in the custody of the selectmen and the library trustees have been placed in the custody of the town treasurer, and all future transactions will be handled through the treasurer's office.

The surety bonds of the treasurer and the tax collector were examined and found to be in proper form. The town clerk, however, has not filed a bond as required by Section 13, Chapter 41, General Laws.

In addition to the departments and accounts mentioned, the accounts of all other departments receiving or disbursing funds for the town were examined and verified.

While engaged in making the audit I received the co-operation of the several town officials, and on behalf of my assistant and for myself I wish to express appreciation for the assistance rendered and the courtesies extended.

Respectfully submitted,

EDW. H. FENTON,
Chief Examiner

LOUIS H. OGDEN, NORWELL DIRECTOR

Following is a report of work done in your town by the agents of the Plymouth County Extension Service (Plymouth County Aid to Agriculture) during the year 1927. This is not a full report of extension activities by which our town may have benefitted because many of our meetings are sectional and advertised throughout the whole county, or a portion of it.

For example, our many Bridgewater meetings were for county-wide benefit and they were well attended.

Many personal letters that have to do with all sorts of agricultural subjects are received at the office of the Extension Service from every town in the course of the year and the information sought is given to the best of their ability, with the most authoritative sources continually at our service.

A great many circular letters are sent out each year to our lists of county farmers and homemakers and boys and girls giving timely information and advice as to how to overcome suddenly arising adverse conditions.

Notices of meetings at which important information is given without charge by experts are also sent to these mailing lists.

We are constantly receiving visitors at our office from every part of the county seeking advice or knowledge on all sorts of subjects.

The "Plymouth County Farmer" a monthly bulletin published by the Plymouth County Extension Service is sent to a small subscription list, but the major part of the thousand copies sent out monthly is sent without charge to men and women whom we know will benefit by the information it contains. Not only do we find appreciation of the "Farmer" within the county but we have several paid-up subscribers outside the county,—one New Hampshire farmer is a regular subscriber.

Report of work done in Norwell during year 1927 by the Plymouth County Extension Service
(Plymouth County Aid to Agriculture)

Agriculture

Visits were made by the county agent to poultrymen, orchardists, and foresters.

Poultry work consisted of helping in disease control, culling, to choose the best birds for breeding purposes and to discard the non-producers.

Orchard work included advice in pruning, spraying, and thinning, to eliminate diseases and insect pests and to grow the best and most valuable fruit.

Forestry work included the giving of advice by which a few simple operations might add many dollars to the value of a pine stand. A great deal of work in forestry has been planned for the coming year. We have as assistants in this work Mr. R. B. Parmenter, state forestry specialist, and E. M. Brockway, white pine blister rust agent for this section. A series of letters describing briefly the essential phases of forestry are being sent to Norwell pine owners. They have already received the first. Within a week many more personal visits will be made by the county agent, Mr. Parmenter and Mr. Brockway with the Norwell forestry committee to owners in their pine lots.

Report of the Home Section

Our 1927 records show that 500 Plymouth County women enrolled in home-making projects during the year and that 950 more received information concerning home problems. District meetings were held and thirty-four local groups were formed to study food selection, canning, garment making, millinery, kitchen improvement, or house furnishing. Twenty-one of our county towns were represented directly in the program. Four others participated in the district meetings.

Norwell participated in the district meetings held in neighboring towns, especially the food preservation meeting in Marshfield and that in clothing selection held in Hanover. Norwell's program for the current year includes group study in food selection and in millinery.

Report of Club Work

Norwell boys and girls took advantage of the opportunities for instruction offered by the Plymouth County Extension Service by forming a garden, a canning, and a forestry club. These clubs are part of the national 4-H club organization.

Garden club members received information from the Massachusetts Agricultural College and the extension service and used that information in caring for their gardens at home.

Girls in the canning club did similarly, canning vegetables and fruits by the methods approved by the college.

A novel and successful forestry club is being carried on in the high school. Mr. Fred B. Cochran, the local leader, organized the club with 37 members. A series of lectures are being given by the state extension forester and the local county blister rust agent. The county club agent had arranged to have an exhibit of woods collected and an identification contest at the end of the season. This course gives the boys and girls a good idea of the value of forests. It will be concluded by a tree planting demonstration in which all the members will take part.

As an incentive to our boys and girls to join this club movement and avail themselves of the splendid opportunities offered by this service of our County Bureau and the Federal Government, Mr. Wm. J. Leonard offers five prizes of five dollars each, for the most successful results in the different departments of club work, to be awarded under the direction of the County and Local Agents.

Visiting Nurse Association

Norwell is particularly in need of the services of a Nursing Association having no practising physician resdent in the community nor dentist with an office in the town. The town is too healthy for the Nursing Association to make any money; but as making money is not its purpose that is alright. But it does affect our income. In 1925 our receipts from nursing visits were $366.00, in 1926 $296.00, and this year $192.00.

Our membership consists of not over 221 out of a town population of 1300. Our dues are 25c and we received $55.25, but as some friends and believers in the Association gave more than the minimum of 25c our membership is actually under 200.

We are sorry for this and to make the Association's work better known to the other 1100 townspeople we make this report.

The Chevrolet coach was bought and paid for by the Association on April 16th and has been driven 11,353 miles to the writing of this report (Feb. 4th), including an idle month while the nurse took her vacation. That is an average of almost 50 miles every working day. The Association pays all running expenses of the car, registration and fire and liability insurance (the town contributes towards this expense, varying sums from year to year.)

The nurse makes her bedside visits in the morning, and her school visits in the afternoon, but is always ready to make visits at any time in cases of emergency. Night calls are only answered in cases of emergency and at the personal request of the attending physician and when proper escort is furnished. The nurse is not on duty on Sunday.

Townspeople calling the nurse are required to pay 50c per visit except in cases of actual destitution and inibility to pay (45 free visits were made this year.)

Just to have a traned nurse on call, as ours is, would alone justify the existence of the Association but the work, so far outlined, is the least important part of the work the Association is trying to do.

The real work of the Nursing Association is educational, to teach parents how to feed and care for their children.

With no dentist in town it is only natural that children's teeth are neglected. It takes much planning and time to take children 5 or 6 miles to a dentist and it isn't done. That is why the Association, with the generous subscriptions of private citizens and other local associations, hired a dentist for $400. to spend one whole day each week for 20 weeks at our central school, conducting a dental clinic.

Working with the School Committee we were fortunate to obtain the services of Dr. Willis B. Parsons who has done a fine job. He has inspected the teeth of every school child (as required by law,) cleaned the teeth and filled existing cavities for as many more as time permitted. About 100 have had all necessary work completed. The work done on each child would probably average several dollars at regular dentists' rates, but under the plan of the clinic there is a merely nominal charge of 50c per visit, whether it be half an hour, an hour or more. This charge is made small on purpose so that it will be within the reach of every one and will not be a cause for the refusal of any parents to have their children's teeth given necessary care. It is felt that the fees, together with the amount asked for in an article in the warrant will be sufficient to pay all expenses of a dentist for a year. We believe this is a very valuable work in bettering the physical well being of our most valuable crop, the children, and we hope the town will vote for the article in the warrant to take over this clinic which has been given free for the last six months.

We conducted a medical clinic to which all parents were urged to bring the children of pre-school age; the children who were to go to school for the first time in the fall. In this clinic doctors and nurses examined each child and made suggestions to the parents of what might need to be corrected or attended to before school opened, with the result that our new pupils were in better condition to begin the school year than they might otherwise have been; and with the result also, that we believe many parents have been helped in the intelligent care and feeding of their children.

Under norishment is a big problem. It does not mean that parents are not giving the children enough to eat, but that from the results obtained it is apparent, to the trained student, that the kind of food is not sufficiently nourishing the children to enable them to make the proper growth in heigth and weight.

As we grow older, I think we all recognize that our own training in the raising of a family is, after all, rather limited and sometimes obtained at the expense of the children's health, and naturally so, for we are obliged to learn by experience, which has been described as a costly teacher.

Our trained nurse can supply much of that experience that we lack and if we will recognize that fact and take her advice, in the spirit in which it is given, solely for the good of the chlld, I am sur that the added color in the cheeks and the added vigor and health of our children will make us realize that the Nursing Association has a very personal value for each of us.

During the year our President, Mrs. Leonore Cronin, resigned much to our regret, and the Executive Committee have been able to persuade Mrs. Edna Prouty to take up the office.

In conclusion may we add that the Association is incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth, under the care of the Department of Public Welfare, to whom we make a detailed annual report, both of activities and finances.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE REGULATIONS

Children who become five years of age on July first may enter school the following September. The only exception to this rule is that under-age children may be admitted to school on the basis of intelligence tests.

No child under seven years of age will be admitted to school for the first time after October first of any year.

A child entering school for the first time is required to present to the teacher a birth certificate and a vaccination or exemption from vaccination certificate.

School Committee

To the Citizens of Norwell:

It is with a deep sense of satisfaction that your committee report the completion of the grading of the Central School grounds. Driveways have been laid out, a small parking space provided between the brook and the drive on the easterly side and unlimited parking space in the rear of the building. May we again ask your cooperation in keeping the driveways clear at all times by using these parking spaces both for the safety of the children at dismissal of school and the convenience of your fellow citizens at social functions. It is impossible for the four school busses to collect their loads with safety when cars are parked in the drive.

For the school year ending June 1927 a teacher was engaged who taught music and physical training throughout the Central building, giving the remainder of her time to other High school work. She also had supervision of the work in the other buildings but this did not meet with the success anticipated. Without increasing the amount of money spent, we are this year teaching music and drawing to every pupil and physical training to the entire Central School enrollment. Mrs. Rector Stetson is doing very fine work in music, Miss Christine Drisko a senior at Normal Art School is devoting one day a week in teaching drawing and Miss Elizabeth Morris a senior at Posse Normal is teaching physical training to all in the Central building.

The results obtained are very satisfactory and the expense is not prohibitive.

The health work in our schools is meeting with increased success. The cooperation of the parent in practically every instance is very gratifying. Stress has been laid on the case of the underweight child in an attempt to bring him up to normal. Miss Roe reports very steady improvement in most cases, which proves the worth of the experiment.

A change in the method of conducting the dental clinic has resulted in a very much higher percentage of pupils completing the necessary work. The price charged is now easily within the reach of all and we look for 100% mouths in a few years.

A change has been made in one of the transportation routes. It was necessary to have Mr. Williamson's bus go the entire length of Cross Street to Main, to accommodate some ten pupils on the route, who had previously walked various distances and waited for the bus at unprotected places.

The increased enrollment at Ridge Hill made an assistant necessary. Miss Alice Blossom a graduate of Norwell High School 1927 was engaged for this work which she is doing in admirable fashion.

It will be necessary to raise the salary of some of our High School teachers to retain them. Everyone realized it is better to do this than hire inexperienced teachers next September. It is not fair however to have the salary increase apply only to the High school, for our grade teachers have given us many years of faithful service. It is therefore planned to give our experienced teacher a slight raise with the realization that it should be more. We will even then be $100 below most of our surrounding towns for like service.

Equipment and furniture for the chemical laboratory is very necessary as chemistry is to be taught this next year. It is proposed to purchase a laboratory table with proper equipment and lecture chairs, since the room must also be used as a recitation room.

After five years service our sewer system has become inadequate. Several remedies have been suggested and it has been decided to install a septic tank of sufficient size to care for the future needs of the school.

These necessary expenditures are in addition to the regular running expenses but we trust you will agree with us that they are necessary to keep up the standard of our schools. It is only with this aim in view that we give of our time and energy.

Respectfully submitted,

NELLIE L. SPARRELL, Sec.
GRACE DINSMOOR,
BENJAMIN LORING

School Superintendent

To the School Committee of the Town of Norwell:

I submit with pleasure my fourth annual report as superintendent of schools of the Town of Norwell.

SCHOOL SAVINGS

Great interest has been exhibited by the teachers and pupils in the school savings system introduced this fall in the schools of Norwell through the co-operation of the South Scituate Savings Bank.

Following is a report of what has been accomplished since the inauguration of the system.

Total amount deposited October 4 to December 31, 1927	$657 60
Average monthly deposits	219 20
Average weekly deposits	54 80
Average number of weekly depositors	165
Average per cent of pupils depositing each week	62%

DISTRIBUTION OF CHILDREN

Our pupils are comfortably distributed with slightly crowded conditions in but two spots. The distribution of children in the classrooms of the town is not a problem such as many towns have to contend with. The situation in the high school remains comfortable. In the grammar department, the only crowded spot is the former library room occupied by the eighth grade.

At the Center Primary School, the number of pupils entering the first grade being much smaller than the preceding year, both rooms have reasonable numbers. The primary room at Ridge Hill, which had 21 pupils two years ago, has at the present time 46 pupils.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Our high and grammar building is much improved by the attention given the grounds. Norwell has a central school building which compares more than favorably with the average in the small town.

To thoroughly modernize the school plant, attention should be given to the Center Primary and Ridge Hill Schools. To avoid too much expense at one time, a single improvement might be made in a building each year. We owe suitable facilities to our smaller children as well as to our older boys and girls.

THE TEACHING STAFF

Two changes in the high school faculty occurred during the past year. Mr. Edwin Phillips, principal, who had served faithfully and efficiently for two years, resigned to accept a position in Florida. After interviewing a large number of candidates, the School Committee elected as principal to succeed Mr. Phillips, Mr. Willis B. Gifford of West Tisbury, Massachusetts. Mr. Gifford is a graduate of Rhode Island State College and has also studied at Brown University. He has taught at Thompson, Connecticut; Edgartown, Massachusetts; and Turners Falls,, Massachusetts. Mr. Hollis E. Clow resigned to enter Yale Medical School. His place was filled by the election of Mr. Irving C. Keene of North Weymouth. Mr. Keene is a graduate of Middlebury College in Vermont.

In the grammar school, Miss Florence M. Mortimer resigned to accept a more lucrative position in Watertown. Miss Josephine L. Hatch of Rockland, a graduate of the Lesley Normal School, was elected to fill the vacancy. The large number of pupils at the Ridge Hill School necessitated the employment of an assistant. To fill this post, Miss Alice L. Blossom, of Norwell, a graduate of Norwell High School, was appointed.

Miss Dorothy M. Kanrich, supervisor of music and physical training, resigned to take up other studies. The need of supervision in drawing being felt strongly, and because of the obvious impossibility of acquiring a full time teacher capable of giving adequate instruction in music, physical training, and drawing, the School Committee appointed separate supervisors for these subjects. Mrs. Pansy E. Stetson of Hanover Center, whose training was acquired at the New England Conservatory of Music, and who has had long and successful experience in near-by towns, was appointed as supervisor of music. Miss Christine J. Drisko of Lubec, Maine, a senior at the Massachusetts School of Art, was appointed supervisor of drawing. Miss Drisko is also a graduate of the Washington (Maine) State Normal School and has taught at Lubec and Cutler, Maine. Miss Elizabeth Morris, of Wollaston, a senior in the three year course at the Posse-Nissen School was appointed supervisor of physical training.

I feel very much gratified with the composition of the teaching staff. We have a well-trained, efficient, and capable staff of teachers in Norwell. The teachers are ever eager to co-operate in any undertaking promising the advancement of the school system.

HIGH SCHOOL

The work of the high school has continued with the usual efficiency. Our new principal has demonstrated marked ability in administration. The faculty has continued to function ably.

The Norwell High School is rated as a Class A High School acredited by the State Department of Education and the New England College Entrance Certificate Board.

The extra-curricular activities have been carried on effectively as in the past few years.

I should like to see instruction in domestic science and manual arts included in the high school curriculum.

An improved high school reference library is needed, as the state supervisor of high schools has stated.

The school lunch has been operated capably this year as in past recent years.

New desks and chairs have been provided in the commercial room, leaving only the laboratory in need of suitable furniture. Modern laboratory tables are needed badly. Slate blackboards have been purchased for two of the rooms so that now all of the rooms will be equipped with slate boards.

A more detailed report of the needs and accomplishments of the high school is given by Principal Willis B. Gifford in his report.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

During the past year, the work of the elementary schools has been carried on with the usual efficiency, perhaps even a little more so. All teachers have carefully constructed programs, follow a uniform course of study, and keep plan books which give attention to the aim and procedure of the lessons taught. Uniformity in the text books used in the town is a matter of importance which is receiving attention.

Additional supplementary reading material is a general need. A table in each room containing books for "browsing" would be a desirable asset.

Instruction in physical education and in manual training in the grades are needs which I hope the town will feel financially able to afford to fulfill at some future time.

TEACHERS' MEETINGS

Meetings of the teachers of the superintendency union consisting of Hanover, Hanson, and Norwell have been held regularly during the year. One feature of the meetings this year has been the issuance of a set of Superintendent's Bulletins to Teachers, the object of the bulletins being to assist in the supervision and administration of the schools by providing the teachers of the district with a complete and permanent memorandum of the details connected therewith. Professional reading is required of all teachers.

The Hanover-Hanson-Norwell Teacher's Club, affiliated with the State Federation of Teachers' Clubs, has been carried on successfully, during the year. A substantial contribution was made to the teachers' home, Riverbank Lodge, in Sherbon. On the social side, a Christmas party attended by the teachers of the three towns was held in December at which thirty-eight were present.

ALL NEW ENGLAND ARITHMETIC CONTEST

The pupils in grades three to seven have participated in the State Wide Arithmetic Contests arranged and carried through by the School of Education of Boston University.

The results obtained have been satisfactory, the scores attained by the pupils of Norwell comparing favorably with those of other towns and cities in the state.

SIGHT AND HEARING TESTS

As usual, in accordance with state law, the pupils of Norwell were given sight and hearing tests early in the school year and the results reported to the superintendent of schools.

The combined reports of the teachers for the past two years follows:

	1926	1927
Number of pupils examined	282	277
Number found defective in eyesight	34	30
Number found defective in hearing	3	7

STATE CLINIC

The annual examination of mentally retarded children was held as required by state law. Eight Norwell children were recommended for examination last year. Reports from this examination received this year showed seven of these to be three or more years mentally retarded. The state law requires a special class if there are ten or more such children.

This year five children were recommended for examination. Examination was made of one of these who had not been examined last year by the state clinic. The others were not re-examined. Reports have not yet been received giving the results of this year's examination.

LOCAL COST OF SCHOOL OPERATION

I should like to emphasize again the difference between the amount of money expended for schools and the net local cost to the town for schools. A considerable amount of money is received which reduces the cost of operating the schools to the town.

The town received reimbursiments this past year as follows:

Part I General School Fund	$1 900 00
Part 11 General School Fund	3 478 20
Superintendent's Salary and Expenses	692 37
High School Grant	1 142 85
Tuition of State Wards	554 67
Tuition of City of Boston Wards	73 56
County of Plymouth, 1926 Dog License Refund	446 43
Town of Rockland, Tuition	82 50
Total Receipts on Account of Schools	$8 370 58

It may be seen than that the net cost of school operation to Norwell is over eight thousand dollars less than the amount expended for schools.

GENERAL STATISTICS

The following figures taken from the annual report of the State Department of Education for the school year ending June 30, 1927 for the Town of Norwell are again included for what general interest they may contain.

Populations, State Census, 1925	1 466
Valuation as of April 1, 1926 .....$1	740 975 00
Average number of days school were in session	176
Expenditure for school support from local taxation per $1000 valuation	11 32
Expenditure for support of schools from all sources per pupil in net average membership	103 69

THE OBJECTIVES OF EDUCATION

Seven objectives of education have come to be universally recognized. They are:

1. Health.
2. Command of Fundamental Processes.
3. Training in Citizenship.
4. Vocational Guidance.
5. Worthy Home Membership.
6. Worthy Use of Leisure.
7. Ethical Character.

We are striving in Norwell as our resources and opportunities permit to come nearer to a realization of these objectives, ever bearing in mind that the study of books should not be our sole consideration.

THE INDIVIDUAL CHILD

The school department recognizes the child as the center of the school system, the object of instruction for which teachers, buildings, text books, and all the rest exist. It is our intent to make the services of the school fit more exactly the needs of the individual child. One big handicap in attaining this end is the size of the recitation groups. A teacher who has forty pupils to instruct has scarcely time for much individual instruction.

"The old education assumed a standard type of childhood and provided but one pathway for its development. Modern education recognizes an infinite variety of childhood and offers many pathways, so that each may find a road suitable for its progress."

CONCLUSION

In bringing to a close this report, I wish to express again my appreciation of the support and guidance given me by the School Committee, the loyalty and service of the teachers, and the co-operation of parents and pupils evidenced in so many ways during the year ended.

I recommend to your careful consideration the reports of the other school officers which follow.

Respectfully submitted,

LEON M. FARRIN,

Superintendent of Schools

High School Principal

Mr. Leon M. Farrin, Superintendent of Schools:

My report as Principal of the Norwell High School must be rather general since my connection with that school has been of brief duration, merely four months. Furthermore, I cannot but feel that a report to either the Superintendent or the School Committee is a bit superfluous since each has been exceptionally attentive and has kept well posted in school matters through frequent visits and consultations.

To date sixty pupils have been enrolled though our present enrollment is but fifty-six. Each of the four withdrawals has been due to a change of residence. In other words, no one has found this school so non-beneficial that he has left. I will take this opportunity, however, to predict the not far distant withdrawal of two or three, who, from some cause or another, are not adapted to fulfill successfully those requirements which should be met if a pupil is to be a desirable member of this organization. In this school a pupil is earnestly and sincerely influenced to stay just SO long as it is believed he will be better off here than elsewhere and just so long as he gets from this school enough benefit to offset the benefits which he, because of one or another individual idiosyncracy, may keep others from receiving. If, however, he proves himself a nuisance, a drone, or otherwise a social burden who does not care to or can not be influenced to adapt himself to the conditions and to the mode of the majority he should and will be advised to occupy a space less valuable, socially and financially. Last year it cost $183.00 per pupil to maintain this high school. By no means can we measure success in education or in learning by dollars and cents, but occasionally we can say to a pupil, "Your benefits from school DO or DO NOT warrant your remaining enrolled as a pupil in this school." Since I believe that the greatest good for the greatest number should be realized, I deem it unfair to the tax payers, to worthy pupils, to teachers, and even to the pupil himself to allow any pupil to remain in school if by so doing the efficiency of this school to the community is lessened.

What is the function of this school in the community? In other words what is our goal, if any? Though no goal has been designated at which I should focus all effort I sincerely feel that that goal at which I am trying to steer this ship with its valuable cargo of young humanity is the ultimate port of Good Citizenship beyond which and incidental to which may lie College Preparation, Business Training, or other forms of specialized education. It has been said that civilization is a race between education and catastrophe. The well known Dr. Bobbitt says, "The business of education today is to teach the growing individuals, so far as their original natures will permit, to perform efficiently those activities which constitute the latest and highest level of civilization." Years ago John Ruskin wrote, "Education does not mean teaching people what they do not know. It means teaching them to behave as they do not behave. It is not teaching the youth the shapes of the letters and tricks of numbers, and then leaving them to turn their literature to lust. It means, on the contrary, training them into the perfect exercise and kingly continence of their bodies and souls. It is a painful, continual and difficult work to be done by kindness, by watching, by warning, by precept, and by praise, but above all—by example."

What has Norwell High School to offer in the way of this training for good citizenship? First, allow me to say that it has four conscientious teachers who give generously of their time in any worthy field where there is the slightest amount of student interest. The three assistant teachers teach six full successive periods five days a week and reserve a seventh period daily for some special outside activity, with an occasional additional period after school for still other extra-curriculum activities which will help to develop the well rounded, versatile, independent, alert American citizen.

Three distinct courses are offered. Each is designed for specific training though this is subordinated when necessary to emphasize that higher training already mentioned. The College Preparatory course offers the opportunity to prepare for practically any college in the country. The General course is designed chiefly for those who desire a more or less practical background for the duties coming to them after graduation. It does not aim to prepare for college, though, with a careful selection of subjects one might use it for such. The Commercial course, at present enrolling the majority of the students, offers specific training in commercial work and office practice. In this the student receives training in business arithmetic, operations and methods, along with practical experience in bookkeeping and banking. These courses overlap in places and yet are distinctly separate in that each has certain definite required courses of study. Extra-curriculum activities deserve and receive a definite place A. A. Douglass says, "Such activities are now regarded as truly educative. In fact the position is often maintained that they contribute just as effectively if not more effectively towards the realization of the aims of secondary education than do the regular studies." Of these activities Norwell High School has a generous assortment which offers everyone an opportunity to receive training as varied as the pupils themselves. These activities along with the several courses will be discussed individually.

The College Preparatory Course offers ample preparations to the extent of the standard requirement of four years of English and one year of American History, four years of Latin, three of French, three of Science, and three of Mathematics in addition to various electives including other courses in History, Drawing, and several commercial subjects such as shorthand and type writing which are of advantage to any college student. (These latter studies are taken in this course merely as electives and may not be substituted for credit in replacing required courses. Some ambitious students take an extra course each year though this is rarely recommended and seldom allowed.) The students who compose this group in the class of 1928 give excellent promise of being successful in continuing their studies in higher institutions of learning next year. I await with confidence the reports of their progress and success.

The General Course, rarely elected, allows a liberal choice of electives, which, however, must be chosen after consultation with and advise from a teacher. This course is of value to those who appear to give little promise of completing four years of work. With this elasticity such as a pupil may be given work which will more nearly fit his particular mental makeup than will any non-flexible course designed for a group.

Our Commercial Course I consider second to none considering the size of the school . Our instructor is not the typical commercial teacher but one who has received college training in addition to education in her specialties at other schools. This college training gives her a far broader view point in addition to making her certified to teach certain courses in English and Mathematics, truly a valuable asset in any commercial teacher. The department is well equipped with apparatus though no extravagance has been shown. Care has been taken to have three leading standard makes of typewriters that students may receive training which will prepare them for practically any modern office. Other pieces of apparatus in the department by means of which the students receive training for their work are the "Mimeograph" which has been recently renovated and the new "Ditto," another modern and leading office duplicating machine. Already this department has on its shelves cups significant of successful scholastic competition and it is now preparing for coming competition in which it is confident it will again succeed and bring credit to the town and to the school. Through the kindness of the South Scituate Savings Bank officials certain members of the Senior class have been given the opportunity to manipulate certain machines which a high school of this size can not afford to purchase. We are proud of our Commercial Department and feel confident that our graduates will compare favorably with those of high schools of much larger enrollment. Some of these students desire to take and are preparing for further instructions in this work in schools specializing in commercial training. Others are planing to go directly to positions after graduation.

In general, throughout every course each student is required to study English. We believe that a student should be able to read, understand, write, and express himself clearly in the popular tongue of the land. Here each teacher, laboring under handicaps, endeavors to be an English teacher whether the medium through which he approaches the subject be History, Latin, Mathematics or commercial subjects, each of which presents ample opportunity for training in clear and concise expression of thought. Results in this are slow to realize since the teacher is in actual contact with the pupil but a small portion of the time. Once outside of the classroom many pupils forget the previous minutes of instruction. This, with occasional indifference on the part of parents at home, renders of much less value training which if utilized and practised might prove of considerable value later. An excellent and practical course in Civics is offered to all and accepted by the majority of the pupils. American History is required of all students. In addition there are many other courses such as those in Languages, Mathematics, Science, and commercial subjects, making a total of twenty-three individual courses which is more than liberal for a school of this size.

A "non-too-observant citizen" through rumor or casual sight might be led to believe that class instruction is too often curtailed for other activities. These activities, to be mentioned, are to the teachers the most difficult and trying to put across. Never is class instruction limited by crowding in other activities unless it is felt that it will be for the ultimate good of most of the pupils.

Thrift. A period each week is devoted to banking. Through the courtesy of the South Scituate Savings Bank students of the school are able to participate in a school savings program. Contrary to the opinion of many a layman this in itself is in no way a source of revenue to the bank. It is merely to stimulate thrift amongst the young people. The details of the work are executed by members of the Commercial Department under the direct supervision of the instructor and are further checked by the bank officials. In connection with this work the students each week are enabled to receive training in office practice, filing, and the use of certain office appliances such as the adding machine and others.

Lunchroom. Though no credit toward graduation is given for work in the lunchroom the various duties are divided amongst the members of the Senior Class. Our simple menu is ready for the inspection of the most critical. The food itselfs is clean, wholesome, and appetizing, and is served in generous portions at practically cost. The sale of

Health Period. For a limited few who are over ten per cent. underweight we offer an opportunity of about five minutes in the middle of the forenoon to take some small amount of nurishment. This is not with the hope that weight may be gained from the food they, receive, but that the milk or other drink, usually warm, may merely serve to relive the nervous strain or fatigue resulting from an empty stomach, thereby enabling the regular meals to be better digested and assimilated by the body. A sound mind in a sound body is a fundamental of happiness. No better service can be rendered the youth of America than for us in whose care it is placed to do all possible to establish and train to maintain sound healthy bodies dominated by sound active minds. Our school nurse and school dentist may well be commended here for the general good health prevalent in the school children at present.

Athletics. As yet, basketball is the only form of athletics in which this school has competed with outside schools. Under careful leadership the pupils develop in their understanding of fair play, school spirit, team work, and self development. We all like to win but winning is secondary to fair play and scholastic training. No student may represent this school unless he is doing satisfactory work in at least three full courses of study.

Dramatics. At present we are working on a play and also on an opperetta each of which is to be given by the school later in the year. In these, just as in athletics, strict rules of elegibility are enforced. I am looking forward to these two entertainments with anticipation of a high degree of success in each due to the enthusiasm of the casts and the co-operation with the coaches.

Public Speaking. It was hoped that an interscholastic declamation contest might be held. Interscholastic debates were mentioned but apparently insufficient enthusiasm was aroused to warrant success. A start along this line is to be made, however, in the late spring when a prize speaking contest is planned. A contest of this type properly prepared is of inestimable value in training young people to think clearly and to express their thoughts to others.

Publications. It is hoped that several issues of a school paper may be published. This means another activity but still a further opportunity for the student to discover and develope a talent and to prepare himself for valuable service later. The French department has already published La Petite Guillotine which was highly successful and which showed considerable successful effort on the part of many. Additional issues are to appear shortly.

Social Functions. Our social functions and other activities have received publicity in the columns of the local papers. The Senior Hallowe'en Dance was well attended and may well be considered a social and financial success. Our Assembly period is always open to visitors as well as any other activity. It is hoped that during the remainder of the year the school may have the opportunity of hearing a few outside speakers. Already we have had several interesting talks from people who have gladly given their services knowing that young people are always eager for information and for new visions of life in this and in other lands.

The Honor Roll has been published at the end of each marking period. Here may be found names of students who have done superior work in at least four full courses. The names are not many though none has been excluded that this honor might be shared by few. We sincerely wish that with each marking period new names might be added and will do all in our power to help individuals to be worthy of the honor, but they, too, must show effort. At the end of the first two marking periods, the names of the following pupils have been placed on the honor roll for the entire four month period:

Lizzie Damon	Stanley Johnson
Joanmarie Franceschini	Elsie Maxwell
Delia Gaudette	Cynthia Robbins
Elsie Henderson	Jennie White

Helen Wiggin

On the whole I am exceptionally well pleased with the co-operation of the parents and pupils with the teachers. Though the attendance average of 96.6% to date is enviably high (that of the entire state is but 93%) it is lowered greatly by certain individuals whose parents or guardians do not co-operate to the extent of requiring attendance except in the case of absolutely necessary or honestly advisable absences. If an intelligent parent would but realize the inconvenience caused by one day's absence from school our records would not be blemished by needless absence as has been the case occasionally in the past. There is a surprising correlation between certain phases of school activities which appear at first to be unrelated. That class (Senior) which stands highest in attendance for the first four months also leads in scholastic accomplishments. The class (Freshman) which is second in attendance is also second in scholastic accomplishments. The remaining two classes have the same correlation. In addition there is another remarkable feature; all four classes are rated in exactly the same order in thrift record and in "attitude and conduct" as in their attendance and scholastic marks. All of these little tendencies make up the individual character and habits of the pupil. They are woven into a miraculous network of fibres each being somewhat dependent upon the other and influenced by it.

I am disappointed that many of our pupils now nearly ready to face the world are extremely careless in certain things which are to be of vital importance to their health and happiness. In many cases, though the fault lies with the pupil himself, this can be traced to the early training received at home. Parents can co-operate if they will but create correct home habits. They can see that the boy leaves in the morning with a reasonable degree of body cleanliness. Because of neglect, habits are easily formed which injure a youngster's personal appearance, social value, and ultimate associations with his companions. Among the girls there is a decided lack of correct posture. It is indeed cause for reflection as one by one the girls are noticed and rarely is one seen to have posture which suggests even that training for that desirable condition has ever been received. The school, in this, as well as in many other branches of non-scholastic activities, stands ready and eagar to help and encourage the development and maintenance of those health habits which ultimately lead to personal appearance and posture which the seeing and caring half of the world envies.— But here, too, little can be done without co-operation from the parents.

Much time has been spent this year in the study of each individual pupil that his particular needs might be more adequately met. To amplify this study intelligence tests are to be given later. The results of these will further enable us to diagnose the individual and to determine the particular remedial course to persue.

To be a successful high school teacher in addition to many other requisites, one must be willing and to a degree be able to enterpret individual types. He or she must understand the proper meaning of education as well as the specific aim of a certain assignment. One must be ready and sympathetic with the adolescent youth to analize the nature of the growing mind and to understand its individual abilities and limitations. One must be on the alert to inspire by leadership and to stimulate by proceedure the desire of the pupil for knowledge, success, and high ideals of thinking and living.

The individual interests and abilities of the teaching staff of Norwell High School are indeed varied. Our four teachers are adequately qualified to lead physical training groups of many branches; three, at least, have had experience with dramatics; at least two are qualified for musical training and leadership, two for public speaking and debating, and all are interested in further professional betterment through outside study. Three of the four are taking courses each week at Harvard University Graduate School of Education. I sincerly doubt if a school can be found in which there is a better spirit of co-operation among teachers, between teacher and pupil, or between committee, superintendent, principal, and teachers. It can be honestly said of the teachers of the Norwell High School, "Their teaching day is never ended so long as will remain one student who is desirous of help." The three specialty teachers, namely those of Music, Drawing, and Physical Training, have, on the whole, shown a fine spirit of adaptability which I believe is the chief means of measuring the varying degree of their success.

Last fall all teachers attended a Teachers' Convention in Brockton. This doubtless proved of great value to the teachers of this town. Each month the teachers of Hanover Hanson, and Norwell have met and each meeting has been of definate importance and value. These meetings have aided greatly in the understanding of the problems peculiar to our particular location. In the near future there is to be a meeting of all the principals of the state and a little later a National Principals' Convention at Boston. Each of these meetings will be attended with expectations of receiving ideas and information which will be useful in my functioning as Principal. These various meetings and conventions tend to stimulate new ideas, broaden our contacts, and greatly increase our efficiency.

My work in Norwell I find very enjoyable. I am sure this would not be so if I did not have a fine wholesome student group with which to work. I have tried this year to avoid as much as possible any visable show of authority. I have tried to have that government which springs from individuals themselves, namely, self-control. Gradually we are finding ourselves with customs rather than rules, order rather than chaos, and human beings rather than puppets.

I wish to express my personal appreciation of the support and co-operation of the committee, of the superintendent, and of the teachers with whom I have been associated. Without this co-operation little could have been accomplished, but instead I feel as though thus far we have been successful. We are looking forward to months of further success with increasing responsibilites bringing increased opportunities for service.

Supervisor of Drawing

The outline of instruction in drawing for the schools of Norwell is arranged under three distinct headings: Representation; Design and Construction.

Representation includes the study of facts and appearances of form and shape. The objectives toward which we work are as follows:

1. To develop the habit of using drawing as a language.

2. Te develop the visual memory and creative imagination thru the use of drawing.

3. To develop the power of discriminating observation.

Design includes the study of the laws of order in Nature and their application to Art.

The main objectives of this phase of the subject are: (1) To help the child to recognize, understand and enjoy order as the basis of beauty in Nature and Art: (2) To give him power to create orderly and possibly beautiful designs in color, line, shape and form: (3) Increasing discrimination in the selection and arrangement of Art products.

Costruction includes the technical execution of the child's ideas. Instruction in this subject helps the child to develop the habit of inventive and creative expression in materials and increase his technical skill in the use of tools and materials.

My time allowed is one day a week which I have divided into seven periods. This allows thirty-five minutes for instruction in each grade and a half hour for the High School class. This period of time is quite adequate for the grades since the instruction is carried on during the week by the grade teacher.

For the High School class, one half hour period a week is not sufficient time in which to obtain the best results from each pupil and unless more time is devoted to the subject during the week, much cannot be accomplished.

I have followed this plan closely in my work in the grades and I am very much pleased with the results obtained. I believe that by the end of the school year they will have a foundation upon which future courses can be successfully built.

During the past few months that I have been working with the teachers and pupils in the schools of Norwell I have received a great deal of pleasure. Both have shown intense interest in the problems that I have assigned.

In closing I wish to express my appreciation to the teachers and members of the School Board for their hearty cooperation with me in my work.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE DRISKO,

Mr. Leon Farrin, Superintendent of Schools:

Dear Sir:—

I found the schools of Norwell in a splendid working conditions, owing to the fact that the teachers are particularly interested in the subject of music. Pupils in each room have made a splendid start in a system which is entirely new to them. Enthusiasm is contagious and the children soon catch that interest and the desire for advancement and co-operation which I gratefully receive from the teachers and school officials. Parents too, should always encourage and appreciate the efforts of their children, for, after all, few are born singers but any child of average intelligence and willingness to work can enjoy singing with others and learn to appreciate the better music.

As to credits in music in the grades every child is given fifty points in technical work, twenty-five for good voice production and twenty-five for effort so it is possible for every student to receive seventy-five points even though he may be unmusical.

In the first two grades most of he work is individual that each one may receive a solid foundation. As much individual work as possible is being carried on in the upper grades.

Great interest is being shown in the operetta, "The Ghost of Lollipop Bay," written by one of our best American composers, Charles Cadman, which will be presented by the students of the High School sometime in the spring with Mrs. Turner as assistant director.

Report of Town Clerk

ANNUAL TOWN MEETING, MARCH 5—12, 1928

Pursuant to a warrant under the hands of the Selectmen, duly executed and return thereof made by John T. Osborn, a Constable of Norwell, the qualified voters of the town met at the Town Hall, Monday, March 5, at 7 p. m. and took the following action on the articles contained in the warrant:

Article 1. To choose a moderator.

Horace T. Fogg was chosen moderator by ballot. He was sworn by the town clerk.

Upon taking the chair the following memorial was submitted by him to the voters and unanimously adopted: "For the first time in seventeen years we are without the services of John Whalen as moderator of our town meeting. He was first elected in 1911 and served continuously to his death. From the time he became of age he accepted with enthusiasm the obligations imposed upon him as a voter. He was always active and interested in town affairs. He was an impartial and conscientious presiding officer. He brought to the position an earnest desire to be of real service to his fellow citizens. He was zealous in maintaining the traditions of the New England Town Meeting and it was due to such an interest that he did so much in Norwell not only to maintain the tradition but to keep the town meeting a living force. He also took a real interest in state and national politics, accepting to the full extent the duties and responsibilities of citizenship which rest far too lightly on the shoulders of many of us. Such an interest as he showed in public affairs may well be held up as a worthy example for all of us to follow. He served with credit to himself and honor to the community, and as an expression of our esteem and respect, you will all please rise and remain standing until the fall of the gavel."

Article 2. To hear the reports of the several boards of officers and committees of the town and act thereon.

Forestry

The pupils of the Central School, and those of the primary school at No. 5, assisted and directed by Mr. Cochran and the tree warden, and his men, planted 2000 Norway Spruce and 1000 White Pine trees received from the state forest nursery at Bridgewater, April 26.

A part of the spruce trees were planted at the town house lot, in the portion too wet for pine to thrive. The primary pupils assisted here, each being given a tree, which he may keep track of and watch as it grows. The rest were planted in the lot in the rear of the Central School. About one and a half acres of this lot has been cleared of briars and underbrush and undesirable trees, and to make it accessible to school children and other visitors a foot bridge has been built across the brook which at times spreads widely along the road leading thereto.

Several cords of wood were obtained in clearing this tract, a part of which, at least, will be used or disposed of by the Board of Public Welfare.

The tree club at the High School, under the direction of Mr. Cochran, has continued its activities through the co-operation of the principal, Mr. Gifford, and that of Messrs Freeman, Brockway and Parmenter, who have so kindly given their services.

A few residents of Norwell have been led to plant forest trees. More co-operation is desirable between the residents of Norwell and the forestry committee.

With the advice of Mr. Parmenter from the State Forester's department, 138 trees in the rear of the Washington Street Cemetery have been marked for cutting, giving the better trees a better chance to develop. We have an offer for these trees and expect to sell them standing. We have arranged with Mr. Bowker, of the Cemetery Committee, to remove the dead trees from the same tract.

The committee attended the conference of Town Forest Committees, held under the auspices of the Massachusetts Forestry Association at the State House on Dec. 7, and listened to instructive addresses.

Plymouth County Aid to Agriculture

LOUIS H. OGDEN, NORWELL DIRECTOR

Appropriations for the Trustees, County Aid to Agriculture apply to funds of the organization known more commonly as the Plymouth County Extension Service. The Plymouth County Extension Service, supported by federal, state, county, and local funds, cooperates with the Massachusetts Agricultural College in teaching agriculture and home-making through group instruction, correspondence and individual service to any man, woman, boy or girl, in the county who desires such information.

The extension services has given individual attention to our many Norwell poultrymen, advising them on disease control, breeding, feeding and housing, also cooperated with the town forest club to interest woodland owners in the town to care for their pine in the way that would make it most profitable. In orchard work advice has been given in pruning, spraying, and thinning, to eliminate disease and insect pests as well as to grow the best and most valuable fruit.

District meetings are held in food preparation and clothing selection, and a most successful series of millinery meetings have been held.

Circular letters, as well as notices of meetings at which important information is given without charge by experts, are sent to those on the mailing list.

Forestry work was also carried on with boys and girls in the High school. Among the things that their 4-H forestry club did was to plant 3000 white pine and spruce on town land and to make it possible for every boy and girl in the schools at the center to plant at least one tree during national forestry week and thus become interested in forest conservation.

One Norwell girl, Miss Gertrude Gauley, was so proficient in doing her 4-H canning club work that she was awarded a trip to the state club camp at the Massachusetts Agricultural College. Miss Gauley is now, under the guidance of one of the teachers, leading a 4-H lunch box club of about 20 girls. These clubs are supplied with information by the extension service.

Mr. Stanley L. Freeman, your new county agent, can be located at 106 Main Street, Brockton, and will be glad to give timely information and advice in overcoming annoying problems that confront us from time to time.

The Nursing association's special clinic this year was the Diptheria Clinic at which all school children and children under school age who cared to take it, were given the toxin anti-toxin treatment. The large number availing themselves of the treatment seemed to show that it was appreciated.

The usual Pre-School Clinic was also conducted. This year it cost $40 to have a child specialist come down from Boston. This clinic also seemed to be appreciated.

The association bought and installed at the High School an electric power drill known as a Dental Engine. This cost $145.00 and is a great aid in the dental clinic.

The children's teeth are fast being put in good condition but much necessary work still remains to be done and the clinic should be continued by the town and the association.

The general health of the towns people has been the best for many years as measured by the money received for bedside calls. We received only $81.75 in 1928 as against $192.00 in 1927; $296.50 in 1926 and $366.00 in 1925. All of which means loss of revenue for the association.

If the work of the association is appreciated and is to be continued successfully it must have more general support.

The membership fee is only 25c per year and every man, woman and child should belong.

When the volunteer solicitors make their annual house to house appeal this spring please show you believe in the work we are doing by giving at least 25c for each person in your household and as much more as you can afford.

Grateful acknowledgement is hereby given to our Nurse Miss Catherine A. Roe for her unfailing devotion to the work with the school children and the sick people in the town.

Chief credit is due to her for arranging and conducting the various clinics and there is no surer way of demonstrating your confidence and approval of her than by subscribing liberally to the cause and by attending the annual meeting of the association in March.

Look for the announcement, to be made soon.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE REGULATIONS

Children who become five years of age on July first may enter school the following September. The only exception to this rule is that under-age children may be admitted to school on the basis of intelligence tests.

No child under seven years of age will be admitted to school for the first time after October first of any year.

A child entering school for the first time is required to present to the teacher a birth certificate and a vaccination or exemption from vaccination certificate.

School Committee

To the Citizens of Norwell:

The calendar year 1928 brought but three changes in our teaching staff. Mr. Keene, sub-master in the High School left in June to accept a better position elsewhere and Mr. Carroll Abbott of Worcester was secured in his place. Recently Mr. Abbott has accepted a position in the Danvers High School and Mr. Ira Bagnall of Colby College has accepted the position thus left vacant.

In the Grammar School, Mrs. Sara Hatch resigned and Miss Louanna Davies an experienced teacher was obtained in her place.

Mr. Farrin our very genial and efficient Superintendent resigned in August to accept the Superintendency of the Putnam, Conn., schools. While everyone felt genuinely sorry to lose Mr. Farrin, we were all pleased to have his ability so recognized. The members of the committee wish to express their appreciation of his splendid work here. We feel sure the best wishes of the townspeople follow him in his new field. Mr. Harold E. Jackman a man of long and varied experience follows Mr. Farrin and has already made himself felt in the work. We predict an equal success for Mr. Jackman.

We have carried on the same arrangement with the Normal Art School and Posse Normal for pupil teachers to supervise drawing and physical training in the schools. Miss Virginia Starbird is the new Supervisor of Drawing and Miss Doris Tilden of Marshfield the teacher of physical training. They are each doing very creditable work. Mrs. Stetson is giving Norwell her usual excellent work in music.

The lunch room is under new management this year. Miss Wilcox an experienced dietitian with her sister Mrs. Mason serve a very appetizing lunch daily. The amount served and the variety offered are governed by Miss Wilcox's knowledge of dietitics. The menus are so varied and the cost so very small, each pupil may have a nourishing lunch for a very few cents. We are pleased to note the pupils' appreciation of Miss Wilcox's efforts.

The heating system in the High School has given a great deal of trouble and it has become necessary to have the furnaces repacked. This necessitated the closing of school for two days and the expenditure of between $300 and $400. Because of the two days thus lost, the schools will not have the usual week's vacation including Feb. 22nd but will have just the holiday.

Because of the great amount of dampness in the basement corridor and cloak rooms, we were obliged to install an overhead radiator with fan attached, which warms the air and keeps it in circulation thus aiding evaporation. We feel it has more than paid for itself in reducing the liability to many ailments caused by dampness.

It became necessary to shingle District No. 5 school house and put in two sets of shelves for books. Bids were submitted as follows:

For No. 1 White Cedar Shingles.

Arnold Beach $230 00

Howard Delano 232 85
Harry B. Merritt 323 00

The contract was awarded to Arnold Beach.

The septic tank put in this year seems to have taken care of our difficulty in disposing of the sewerage. We hope it continues to be satisfactory.

Permission was granted the Conn Instrument Co., to sell musical instruments to pupils in the school. In return the company have agreed to send an instructor to the school to give lessons at twenty-five cents each to each pupil who purchases an instrument. We have no knowledge as yet of the success of this experiment.

The health work and the dental clinic are progressing. Two days each week for Dr. Parsons our dentist would help more in cleaning up his work but he is getting over the ground as fast as his time will allow.

We would like to ask parents to watch at this time of year especially for impetigo, known as apple sores. Each year at about this time there is an epidemic of this disease. This year much criticism has been directed at the committee for allowing pupils to attend school while suffering from impetigo. The committee does not allow pupils so inflicted to attend school, and the nurse and teachers do not allow them to remain if they come to school. They do have to remain until Miss Roe can carry them home however, and perhaps in the meantime spread the disease.

The blame rests with the parent who sends the child out in the morning, for impetigo is easily recognized. For the sake of your child and that of others please watch for this disease.

Our High School has arranged a series of games in basket ball with surrounding towns and has carried off its share of honors. Much credit for this is due Mr. William Dunbar who has assumed the role of coach to the boys team. Mr. Dunbar is an ardent lover of the game, having played on many teams and coaches the boys for sheer love of the thing, receiving no pay whatever.

While it is not regular school work it seems fitting to call your attention to the splendid programs provided by Miss Graves for the Parent Teachers Association meetings held each month at the High School. The speakers are all very worth while and at each meeting one of the teachers presents her pupils in a brief exhibition of their work. This gives the audience the next best idea they could obtain of the school work, to a personal visit to the class room.

In closing we would like to thank the taxpayers for their interest in the work and solicit your further support.

Respectfully submitted,

NELLIE L. SPARRELL,
BENJAMIN LORING,
GRACE DINSMOOR

School Superintendent

To the School Committee of the Town of Norwell

I herewith submit my first annual report as Superintendent of the Norwell Schools.

Inasmuch as my term of office covers a period of less than four months the report will necessarily be brief.

First, I wish to pay a tribute to your former superintendent, Mr. Leon M. Farrin. The delightful spirit of loyalty and co-operation which I found existing among all members of the staff resulted in a system pleasing to one taking over the work.

Improvements in any line of work are suggested after one has had time to study conditions governing the work. A recommendation that might be made at the end of four months might not be made at the end of ten, so I hesitate to make comment or recommendation.

In a building where grades seven and eight are housed with the high school the recent trend in education is to follow the junior senior plan of organization. Such a plan would recognize grades seven and eight as a part of the senior high school.

Some of the advantages of such an organization would be, departmental work, instruction by high school teachers, promotion by subject plus introduction of new subject matter; thus a teacher of English in the high school would teach English in grades seven and eight. What would be true of teachers of English would be true of teachers of other subjects. The plan is further explained by the high school principal in his report.

The inside of the High School Building should receive attention. The walls and ceilings of rooms and corridors need tinting. With the furnaces in repair it should be easy to keep the inside as attractive as the outside.

There is need of a room for school library purposes. It has been suggested that the balcony of the hall could be made into such a room with small expense.

Last year's school report voices the feeling that something should be done to modernize the elementary school plant. What to do is harder sometimes to determine than how to do. The enrolment in the first six grades is as follows:

Grade	I	II	III	IV	V	VI
	26	28	31	45	20	30

The distribution of pupils is ideal for one teacher for a grade. In the present arrangement there are six teachers in the first six grades but in just one instance does a teacher have one grade. If the present plan of two elementary buildings is to be the policy of the town an effort should be made to modernize those buildings.

Doubtless there are other improvements that should be mentioned but if the policy of doing a little each year is followed it will not be long before the result will be a well equipped plant with no material increase in the tax rate.

The most important factor in any school system is its corps of teachers. The best that time and reasonable salaries will afford should be secured. The supply of would be teachers is greater than the demand. From this surplus teachers should be chosen who, not only will do the work of the class room but who will leave a lasting influence for good. The old addage "the teacher makes the school" was never more true than at the present time, therefore I urge that vacancies be filled with extreme care. Class room instruction is a most important element in the success of the school. It should be the aim of all concerned to make this as efficient as possible.

I am of the opinion that conditions in the Norwell schools are better than in most towns of similar size. You are fortunate in having such a loyal group of teachers, who are anxious to co-operate in bringing the best in education to the system.

With such a corps of teachers plus the co-operation of the parents, a school enrolment the size of Norwell should be satisfied worth nothing short of the best.

I would suggest the careful reading of reports by the High School Principal and special teachers, also, examination of statistical reports.

In closing I wish to express my sincere appreciation of the excellent spirit of co-operation which has come to me from all connected with the schools.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD E. JACKMAN

Mr. Harold E. Jackman, Superintendent of Norwell Schools:

As I spend a few moments in retrospection to prepare my report I look back upon a very pleasant year of service. Under Mr. Farrin, our former superintendent, I went through a most congenial period of orientation. Under you I have enjoyed thus far, the feeling that the High School is "mine" and, as with your predecessor, I have acted accordingly, doing at all times what I thought best for the school—that "best" always being determined, to a large degree, by the influence of my more experienced associate.

I am pleased to state that there is in the High school nothing radically new upon which I can report. Abrupt changes usually are disturbing to such an extent that such changes are rarely justified. In most changes, I believe, one should "make haste slowly."

On the whole the co-operation of the parents continues to be excellent. Occasionally, though, I wonder if some people are fulfilling adequately the duties of a citizen and parent when they fail to provide proper conditions of study at home. The parent who does not insist upon the home study period, as asked on each pupil's report card, is neglecting his duty toward his child and toward the community. Some parents are not at home to insist that the study periods be uninterrupted. Others are so gullible that they are led to believe that no home work has been assigned or that the pupil has been able to do all the work as asked while at school. Sometimes it seems as though it would be better to grade the parents rather than the pupils, for after all, the average high school pupil does, in the long run, what his parents allow him to do.

Last year in my report I expressed my faith in the members of the graduating class of 1928. By no means am I disappointed. Half of them are enrolled and continuing their studies in some higher institution of learning. The remaining students are employed in forms of activities which are profitable to the individual to a greater degree than if he had not graduated from high school. Of those who went away from us last year perhaps the one who entered Radcliffe by examinations in English, Latin, French, and Mathematics furnishes us with the most definite criterion with which we or others may judge the thoroughness of our high school work. This student, Miss Helen Wiggin, was later publicly honored for her scholastic accomplishments while in competition with students from schools of many states.

Our lunch room is being operated in a most pleasing and satisfactory manner. It is a relief to know that day after day competent people are planning for and serving our young people with clean wholesome food at a price slightly above cost. Parents would do well to make occasional inquiries as to what is offered and what is purchased. I sometimes fear that the nickel given by the parent for hot potatoes and gravy is used for ice cream.

It is gratifying to see plans materializing toward the realization of a closer union of the upper six grades. I believe that the formation of a six year high school will be the greatest step toward efficiency of organization that Norwell has made in quite some time. This can be effected without increased expense to the taxpayers—though it will give them eventually far greater dividends on their investment.

A six year high school greatly facilitates the selection of a course to meet more nearly the needs of varying capacities, interests, and probable future possibilities. It gives the individual who is to withdraw as soon as the law permits a few more contacts than would have been possible under the old plan of a teacher for each grade or two. In the past it has been the tendency of most schools to do the most for those who planned to go to college. This group represents a decided minority,—usually less than ten per cent of the total enrollment. The other group, already handicapped by circumstances over which the individuals rarely have control, is allowed to follow along as best it can until one by one the individuals fall by the wayside. It is not right. There is no justice in any plan which caters to those already favored by heredity or environment at the expense of those less favored. The latter group is deserving of the best that can be given by way of training, encouragement, and guidance. The other group is the better able of the two to care for itself—if either must. The public school is the last possible opportunity for contact with this less gifted group. The other group will have an opportunity in its later years of school. But it is intended that neither group be neglected. With this six year plan there is enough elasticity to meet better than hereetofore the needs of all.

Somewhere in the Norwell school system there is a very weak spot in the grammar training of the pupils. The situation, though not alarming, is so bad that the blame can not be placed upon the shoulders of any one teacher. There must be a laxness in the early training of the children. It has been suggested that it may be due in part to lack of pride in accuracy. Even on high school papers it is not infrequent that I find a pupil misspelling his own name. This shiftlessness is illustrated again in the tendency of some pupils to write the same word with three different spellings on the same sheet of paper. That type of shiftlessness originated long before the pupil attained the high school age. In defense of my school and teachers I must say that the fault lies in either the elementary school or the home—both perhaps. If such is the case the parents and citizens should know it.—They are being told.

The new plans, with one teacher in charge of all English for the six grades, will facilitate the location of the present weaknesses. By way of correction our English will be so systematized that we shall be able to proceed along lines of far greater uniformity and of better relationship one to the other than we have as yet.

A major feature of the new plan is the advantage given the youths of the present seventh and eighth grades in having contacts with several personalities instead of with merely the personality of one grade teacher. Many educators feel that it is the personality of the teacher which is really the source of the inspiration and real training for the famous "Seven Cardinal Principles." Is it not reasonable, then, to assume that with a few possible exceptions the student who comes in contact with three teachers must have an advantage over one who meets but one teacher hour after hour? Is it not reasonable to expect that a pupil who has contacts with both men and women teachers has a more rounded point of view than one who has merely one or the other?

With the feeling that we are progressing I look ahead constantly preparing for the transition with the desire to make the change with as little abruptness as possible. The reorganized school, I am sure, will be a stronger unit than ever before.

Respectfully submitted,

W. B. GIFFORD.

Supervisor of Drawing

The course in drawing and art appreciation which I have outlined for the schools of Norwell includes a study of these three important phases: Representation, color and design. I have found it wise and more profitable to take up these phases in this sequence as it seems to me, and to others working along these lines, to be the simplest, the most natural line of development.

Along with these, also, are included problems in application and construction, but for lack of working hours, I have tried to put the emphasis on the thorough understanding of the primary principles of order and beauty and to suggest, in my teaching, the many ways in which these principles may be applied to very practical problems.

Representation includes the study of facts and appearances of form and shape. The objectives towards which we work are as follows:

1. To develop the habit of using drawing as a language.

2. To develop the visual memory and creative imagination through the use of drawing.

3. To develop the power of discriminating imagination.

Color includes the study of the spectrum, the primary, secondary and intermediate steps in the color wheel, color harmonies in nature and in art, and the ability to use crayons and paints successful. The objectives towards which we work are as follows:

1. To know the primary colors, and what combinations of these form the missing colors.

2. Ability to recognize and make pleasing color schemes.

3. Ability to use hues pleasingly.

4. To develop a color sense in respect to hue, value (light, middle, dark.)

Design includes a study of the laws of order in Nature and their application in art. The objectives before us here are as follows:

1. To help the student to recognize, understand and enjoy order as the basis of beauty in Nature and Art.

2. To give him power to create orderly and possibly beautiful designs in color, line, shape, and form.

3. To develop creative imagination in design.

4. To develop discriminating taste in selection and arrangement of lines, shapes, and groups of same.

Construction and application includes the technical execution of the child's ideas. It develops the habit of inventive and creative expression in materials and increases his skill in the use of tools and materials.

Behind and through these objectives I have worked especially hard to stimulate a really thoughtful altitude on the part of the student, to dispel fear, to encourage original thinking and a reasonably free expression of ideas.

To encourage this, I have judged the work by its intellectual, symbolic or imaginative content rather than by its technique, primarily. I think I can say I have not worked in vain or had too high hopes, for I find among the students a delightfully original and personal touch, once their fear and reserve is forgotten in their work.

For my time allowance I have one day a week, which is divided into seven periods, allowing about thirty-five minutes for the grades and one half hour for the high school. I should like to have forty-five minutes from the sixth grade up and one hour with the high school as their actual working period is much too short. However, I am well pleased with their work. I only hope that by the end of the year the students will realize at least a part of the mental stimulus and genuine pleasure in their work that I have received in working with them.

A great deal of the pleasure that I have enjoyed while teaching in Norwell this year his been due to the very helpful, friendly, and hearty co-operation of the teachers and members of the school board. Without this sympathetic and homelike atmosphere which has always been a delight, I never could hope to accomplish what I have done and still hope to do. May I here express my appreciation to all who have made my visits to Norwell a real pleasure.

Respectfully submitted,
VIRGINIA STARBIRD,

Supervisor of Music

Hanover Center, Mass.

To the Superintendent of School, Norwell:

Dear Sir:

The music work has been progressing very well throughout the schools and the different teachers have been working fathfully to bring their pupils up to standard.

Grades one, two and three from Ridge Hill School gave a very interesting operetta entitled "A Christmas for Santa Claus."

A new system of books is gradually being installed througout the grades. With these music readers is a most interesting and practical course in Music Appreciation accompanied by phonograph records which contain the same songs played by different orchestral instruments both in solo form and combination.

This year the high school boys and girls have their seprate glee clubs. Twenty of the best female voices were selected for the girls' glee club and eighteen of the best male voices for the boys' glee club. Both glee clubs are meeting once a week with Miss Graves as instructor and Mrs. Turner as pianist and another day with the supervisor. Outside study of the best composers is required, with one written lesson a week assigned for credit.

Much interest is being manifested in the preparation of "Miss Cheeryblossom," an operetta to be ready for production in a few weeks.

There is a movement in the air to establish a real instrumental department in the schools such as surrounding towns are engaged in this year, that is the organizing of a band and orchestra. Miss Adelphine Carpenter of Marshfield representing the Conn Music Company is the organizer, and she will be glad to advise any one interested.

Any boy or girl in the fifth grade or higher is eligible. Instructors from the Conn Music Company will be sent from Boston if you have an instrument sign up for lessons, which are only twenty-five cents. If you have no instruments Miss Carpenter will assist in selecting one.

The splendid support received from school officials and teachers is much appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,
PANSY B. STETSON,
Supervisor of Music

Forestry

Arbor Day was observed April 26, at the Central School, with a program arranged by Mrs. Turner of the High School; and the High School and the Grammar School each planted a Douglas Fir in front of the School building. They also set out, under Mr. Cochran's direction, 18 Norway Spruce on the westerly part of the lawn, along the drive.

300 White Pine and 300 Norway Spruce were also planted by the pupils on the lot in the rear of the school. These were furnished and set without cost to the town.

All available space in this lot is now occupied. The work of clearing the ground of briars, underbrush and undesirable trees has been extended, but much more work in this line is needed. Of the wood removed from this lot, as reported last year, two cords was used by the Board of Public Welfare and the rest was sold at $4.00 a cord.

The trees in the rear of the Washington Street Cemetery, referred to last year as having been marked for cutting, were sold for $50.00 to Basil Simmons of Hanover, who stipulated that he would take the logs only, and would not be required to take care of the tops. These have been taken care of by Mr. Bowker of the Cemetery Committee and the wood derived from them and some dead trees have paid for the labor of removing them. He has done a fine piece of work in clearing up the brush and some unsightly trees, and "weeding" the young pines; and the appearance of the woods, as seen from the cemetery is greatly improved.

It was claimed that the money received for these trees belonged to the cemetery, and it has been added to the permanent fund of the cemetery.

The state will furnish young trees free of charge for Town Forest planting, but we have now no un-occupied land for planting. If any citizen has waste or unused land which he is willing to donate for that purpose, the committee will gladly care for it for the best interest of the town.

The pines on the "Town House lot" have been pruned, and weeded, and the selectmen have had similar work done on a portion of Gaffield Park.

On November 8 and 9, the three members of the Town Forest Committee attended a "conference of Town Forest Committees," held under the auspices of the Massachusetts Forestry Association at Westfield. Besides meetings in the Community building in Westfield, we were taken to the Westfield Town Forest of 5000 acres, and to the Russell Town Forest of 2570 acres, the two largest Town Forests in the state.

These are both mostly outside the towns which own them, being maintained primarily to protect the watersheds of those towns.

Demonstrations of pruning and of "forest weeding" were given by experts from the celebrated Harvard Town Forest of Fitchburg.

Submitted by Louis H. Ogden, Norwell Director,

The Plymouth County Extension Service cooperated with citizens in every town in the county this past year in bringing to them information about agriculture and home-making. Local and county-wide meetings were held for this purpose. Through the meetings and by means of correspondence, press notices, and by individual service, thousands of men, women, boys and girls, were instructed in the better performance of farm operations and home duties.

Norwell Poultrymen usually were well represented at the meeting. Personal assistance was given several of them during the year by the county agent. To sixty persons in Norwell the Extension Service sent frequent notices and circulars bearing agricultural information.

During the last year the county home demonstration program has stressed nutrition and clothing projects and has also devoted time to problems of Child Development, Home Management, and Home Ground Improvement. Help along these lines is at all times available to Norwell home-makers, many of whom have participated in the county program.

Four-H club members in Norwell belonged to the lunch box, canning, garden, and room improvement clubs this year. Gertrude Gauley, the outstanding canning club girl in the county, won the Brockton section of a state-wide canning judging contest. She also led a canning and a lunch box club. Some of her canned goods were exhibited at Atlantic City.

Visiting Nurse Association

The District Nursing Association has had a busy year. We have continued the dental clinic, and have started a thriving baby clinic where children under five years of age may come for examination and treatment by a specialist.

Our nurse has made 433 nursing visits. Her school work has taken care of 351, and she has visited 273 homes.

Both the nurse and the associate committee have worked hard.

Miss Roe is prepared to make pre-natal visits to any who wish.

Any one holding a policy in the John Hancock or Metropolitan Life Insurance Companies, may, if they have had a Doctor, call upon the nurse for attendance.

REPORT OF BABY CLINIC

I have held so few clinics for the Norwell District Nursing Association that it is rather difficult for me to express any ideas about the present or the future of the clinic.

Usually in every community where Child Welfare Clinics have been started there has been a definite improvement, both as to the infant mortality and to the infant sickness rate.

Through conversation with the mother an attempt is made to show her the advantages of breast feeding and if breast feeding is impossible, the safety of pasteurized or boiled milk. Emphasis is laid on the importance of a carefully planned formula and a well balanced diet. After emphasis is laid on the prevention of rickets and scurvy by the routine administration of cod liver oil and orange juice to all bottle fed babies the logic of visits to the clinic with well babies in an attempt to keep them well is emphasized.

I believe that two campaigns should be started in Norwell, first a campaign for a pasteurized milk supply and secondly a campaign for the prevention of diphtheria by means of administration of toxin anti-toxin. It is true that there is no diphtheria in the community at present, but it has also been true of other districts in the past, although now Norwell has both measles and scarlet fever.

Very truly yours,
E. B. FITZGERALD, M. D.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE REGULATIONS

Children who become five years of age of July first may enter school the following September. The only exception to this rule is that under-age children may be admitted to school on the basis of intelligence tests.

No child under seven years of age will be admitted to school for the first time after October first of any year.

A child entering school for the first time is required to present to the teacher a birth certificate and a vaccination or exemption from vaccination certificate.

School Committee

To the Citizens of the Town of Norwell:

The School Comittee herewith submits its annual report, dealing largely with the expenditure of the 1929 appropriation and outlining the needs of the schools for 1930.

An honest effort has been made each year to keep within the appropriation. This year the appropriation has been exceeded by $800.74, due to conditions wholly beyond our control. We feel the taxpayers have a right to know why.

In March we were obliged to expend over $300 to repack the furnaces at the Central building. This was to prevent further escape of coal gas in the class rooms, a condition which had caused great discomfort and eventually the closing of some rooms.

During the summer the Committee were requested to extend the bus route over Prospeect Street and Jacobs Avenue thus collecting twelve pupils who for years were obliged to walk down to Main street. This added another hundred dollars to the 1929 outlay.

The main item in this unforseen expenditure however, was the payment of an assistant teacher in the Commercial Department of the High School. Mrs. Turner had eleven classes with seven periods in which to teach them. The extra teacher has solved this problem so this most practical course of our High school is functioning splendidly.

These three examples will help the taxpayers to understand how impossible it is to plan in February exactly the correct amount necessary for the year.

Each year a considerable amount is required for repair and upkeep of buildings, particularly the two older structures at Ridge Hill and Norwell Center. An attempt is made to keep these buildings as nearly modern as it is possible to do without rebuilding.

In the near future the lighting system of each must be changed to prevent the cross light, which at present is corrected as far as possible by the regulation of shades.

Until such time as this rebuilding may be accomplished, the committee are simply keeping the buildings painted inside and out and are making all repairs when reported by the teacher in charge.

As Mr. Jackman has pointed out in his report, the increase in our fifth grade compels us to ask for funds for still another teacher.

By a re-arrangement of periods and teachers, domestic science was added to the course. We were fortunate enough to procure a domestic science teacher who was qualified to teach other subjects. This adds another very practical course for the girls of the school, teaching them sewing, cooking, planning meals and the serving of same. Credit of points toward graduation are given for completion of work in this department.

The latter part of the year 1929 was saddened by the death of the school's very faithful friend and janitor, George H. Turner. He had served us three years in a manner to merit the respect and appreciation of all with whom he came in contact.

To fill the vacancy caused by his death, proposals were published for bids for janitorship.

Bids were submitted as follows:

Fred McKay	$25.00 per week
Joseph Sousa	$25.00 per week
Joseph F. Totman	$27.50 per week
Benjamin Loring	$30.00 per week
Arnold V. Beach	1 500 00 per year
Joseph F. Merritt	$26.00 per week
Harry A. Henderson	$30.00 per week
Arthur G. Clark	$25.00 per week

After careful consideration in which the experience and qualifications of candidates were compared, it was decided to award the contract to Joseph F. Merritt at $26.00 per week.

Our health department is still doing very fine work in the proper care of the physical side of the pupil's school life. A little more help would be welcomed however in the prevention of spreading disease. Pupils who are not feeling well should not be sent to school, particularly those who have sore throat and headache. These symptoms may preceed scarlet fever or measles, two diseases whose after effects are ofter much more serious than are generally known.

A slight increase in the salary of part of our teaching force is imperative. It will be much cheaper in the end to do this, than to shop around among the agencies with the possibility of getting less desirable inexperienced teachers. Even by doing a great deal of interviewing of candidates we find ourselves obliged to pay more for an inexperienced teacher than would have been necessary to have paid the experienced teacher, to retain his or her services. While the department does not make this statement inviting requests for increases in salary, it is time we all realized that education, particularly the salary phase, must of necessity cost more as time advances. Cheap schools are in fact as name cheap. Schools economically conducted are another matter and these we will faithfully try to produce for Norwell.

To make a long story short:

In 1929 we spent $31,300.74. We need $33,000.00 for 1930 to carry on the present program, add one more teacher in the fifth grade and give increases where fully warranted. Of this $33,000. asked for, some $8,000 will be returned to the town by the state department and the county dog tax. This figure is based upon the 1929 returns of $7,909.52. The net cost to the town will therefore be $25,000.

We trust you will visit your schools, encourage the staff in its work and help the administration to put over its program for 1930.

Respectfully submitted,

NELLIE L. SPARRELL, Sec.
BENJAMIN LORING

School Superintendent

To the School Committee and Citizens of Norwell:

This, my second annual report, is herewith submitted for your consideration. Included in it are the reports of the Principal of the High School and those of the special teachers.

Whatever may have been accomplished in the way of progress is due to the co-operation of all those responsible for the conduct of our schools and I wish to express my personal appreciation of the assistance which has been rendered by all concerned.

Resignations and Elections

In June, 1929, the following teachers resigned to accept better positions or take up some other line of work:

Mr. W. B. Gifford, Principal.
Mr. C. Ira Bagnell, Teacher Coach.
Miss Myrtle Graves, Languages.
Miss Josephine L. Hatch, Grades IV, V.
Miss Louanna M. Davies, Grade VI.

The adoption of the six year high school changed requirements in the school system. Grade III of Ridge Hill was left there as a IV grade of this year. Mrs. Pinson was given grades V and VI in the High School Building. The other positions were filled as follows:

Roland W. Payne, Principal.
A. Philip Daggett, Teacher Coach.
Marion J. Hurley, Languages.
Muriel Simonson, English.
Eleanor I. Hartling, Domestic Arts.
Rodman Booth, Drawing A. M. Norwell and Hanover.
Rodman Booth, History, P. M. Norwell.
Ruth L. Osborne, assistant Commercial department a. m.

The Teaching Staff Table of Statistics gives experience, salary and education of these new teachers. Changes in the teaching force are to be regretted but in the smaller towns are to be expected. The new teachers have taken hold of their work with an earnestness that is most commendable.

Teachers who have done professional work during the year are as follows:

Roland W. Payne, Columbia Summer School.
Alice Blossom, Hyannis Summer School.
A Philip Daggett, Boston University, University Extension.
Rodman Booth, Boston University, Boston Practical Arts.

The above table shows an increase of 21 pupils over the enrolment of last year. This must mean an increase in the cost of schools. The High School enrolment for September of 1930 remains about the same but grades V and VI, in the same building show a registration of about 60 pupils. This means another teacher as that number of pupils cannot be seated in one room or taught by one teacher.

Mr. Payne, the High School Principal, has commented very favorably on the work of this department. Too much cannot be said in the way of encouraging thrift in our schools. This is a work that does not function of itself. It must have the support of both the home and the school. An increase of 20 percent in the average percent of pupils depositing during the past year speaks for the efforts of those interested.

SPECIAL TEACHERS

It seems to me that every loyal citizen of Norwell must take great pride in the work of this group. Health comes first in the list of educational objectives. Only those who see the work of this department from day to day can fully realize its efficiency. Health is a fundamental element in life. The work of the schools depends upon a healthy student body. It is important therefore, that we do all that we can to support this department.

The good music in the Norwell schools is a matter of comment by other towns. This is a phase of the work that means much in the pleasure of the lives of our boys and girls.

The drawing under the present instructor is new this year. If the favorable comments by teachers means anything it is a success and should be continued.

CONCLUSION

It would be hard indeed to find a town where the schools are entirely satisfactory to all of its citizens. It would be equally hard to find a town that is not trying to improve school conditions. Co-operative effort is needed for producing the best results in any activitiy. The success of our schools depends more upon co-operation than any other community activity.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD E. JACKMAN

High School Principal

To the Superintendent of Schools—
Mr. Harold E. Jackman:

At the time of this annual report of the High School Principal, it is fitting to remember that I have held this office of which a year's report is asked, for less than half of the year 1929.

I will present phases of activities which are at present in vogue, as the administrator sees them, explaining in slight detail the 'why' of the present system.

The administration of the building needed considerable time and effort spent on it before the school could open in an orderly manner. I am of the belief that an institutiion must have a systematic organization of affairs with every member knowing, in detail, what he or she is supposed to do at all times.

On the opening day of school, September 4th, all students met in the auditorium and were given individual written instructions as to the courses offered and the selection of subjects. This procedure took the time of two periods, and in the future will be done before the close of school in June. A curriculum of four courses was offered to the students this year, each having both required and elective subjects. The General Course, which in the past had been considered the easiest, was put on a par with the other three in regard to the amount of work and effort needed in order to graduate. The course in Home Economics was a new one, offered for the first time this year. This course, with the College Preparatory, the Commercial, and the General, gives to the high school students of Norwell, a choice which should be appreciated and taken full advantage of.

The percentage of new teachers in the building was exceptionally high, and with the principal being new also, the students had less than the slightest knowledge of what to expect at the opening of school. I wish to comment highly the manner in which the pupils adjusted themselves to their regulated environment.

Teachers' meetings have been held approximately once during a three week period. These have been held with the intention of improving professionally. Individual typewritten sheets dealing with such subjects as "The Art of Questioning," "The Assignment," and "Characteristics of Junior High School Pupils" have been handed out to the teachers for study and discussion. Notices to the teachers, and pupils; special announcements; discussion of disciplinary problems; and the like, have been taken care of through the bulletin method.

Student assemblies are proving very successful. The pupils take the responsibility of these either actively or passively. Groups of pupils representing interest in a specific subject, take pride in presenting to the remainder of the school interesting points about their study which may commonly be unknown to their friends. These assemblies are held regularly each week on Thursday, during the eighth period. On Thursdays, each of the regular seven periods are cut short five minutes so as to allow for this extra period.

The social events of the fall term were very commendable. The Senior Class offered a Hallowe'en Dance which proved very successful both socially and financially. The annual school play, "Come Out of the Kitchen" was presented to a large and appreciative audience. The cast gratefully accepted an invitation from the inmates of the Hanson Hospital to repeat this play before them on January 30th, 1930.

"The Ship Builder," our school paper, has been published twice. The cover, and design on it, is an addition which ends to add to the attractiveness of the paper. I believe that this publication is a worthy project and that it is a most desirable method of getting before the public, the type of work which is being accomplished in the school.

Fire-drills have been practiced, following the regulations laid down by fire departments such as closing all windows and doors, and getting each individual out of and away from the building. The time for doing this has been one minute.

The lunch room has been under the supervision of Miss Eleanor Hartling. This room was renovated during the past summer, and now presents a very attractive place for the home economics classes to meet, and to prepare the noon lunches which are offered at minimum cost.

Thrift has been a strong point among the pupils of this school, as compared with the same aged pupils in other local districts. Nothing of this character is good enough until it reaches 100 %. It is my desire that the parents take added interest in attempting to instill correct thrift habits in their children's make-up. We do not care so much as to the size of the deposit, as we do to the regularity of a deposit. We uphold this project for the child's own good.

Basketball is the most prominent of sports. In our winter schedule we have seventeen games, of which ten are played at home. Mr. Dunbar is coaching the boys and is doing very credible work. All of the boys' physical activities are under the direction of Mr. Daggett. In the fall, he instructed them in the fundamentals of football and soccer. I am in hopes that volley ball may soon be instituted into the physical program of the school. The girls basketeball team is coached by Miss Hartling. They have fifteen games on their schedule, which has been made up so that the girls leave town during the mid-week but twice during the season.

The art department is under the direction of Mr. Rodman Booth, who gives instruction in this building three periods a day. In addition to the fine-arts, he also teaches history and geography in the seventh and eighth grades.

Publicity of the school notes in the local newspapers has been handled entirely by students. This is an effective means of keeping the public informed of what is taking place in the school.

The percentage of pupils on the Honor Roll is approximately fifteen. This means an average rank of 85 or above in all their subjects.

On the visiting day held last fell, I was able to visit the Agawam Junior and Senior High School, and the West Springfield High school. On November 15th, I attended the Massachusetts Junior High School Principals Association meeting in Springfield. On January 11th, Mr. Daggett and I attended the meeting of the Massachusetts High School Association. Such visitations, if imbued with a purpose, bring enlightment to one's tasks. Such was the case with my experiences, as each gave me added facility in the solving of some problem.

Finally, may I restate that I am earnestly endeavoring to promote such conditions as will cause the school to function with as little interruption, of any sort, as possible. Regularity, keen-interest, and high incentives, together with sound ethical judgment, will keep the school riding on an eveen keel with its bow never varying its course of direction.

Teaching is an art—an art so great and so difficult to master, that a man or woman can spend a long life at it without realizing much more than his limitations and mistakes, and his distance from the ideal.

ROLAND W. PAYNE

School Physician

To the School Committee of the Town of Norwell:

Examination of the School children of Norwell has continued along the same line as adopted some time ago. All pupils through the Junior High and all High School pupils have been examined. This includes height, weight, heart, lungs, nutrition, and general appearance.

Due to the increase in the number of cases of scarlet fever in the school every child was examined daily for a period of three weeks in an effort to check the disease. This was advised by Dr. MacKnight, the State District Health Officer, in preference to closing the schools as a more accurate check-up could be made on all pupils.

Although the number of under-weight children in the schools has decreased considerably during the past few years there is an opportunity for further improvement, and we ask the co-operation of the parents in urging their children to bring to school a mid-morning lunch of either milk or cocoa in preference to candy.

Athletics in moderation play a prominent part in the health of the school child and it is hoped that this point may be stressed. Postural defects are constantly being found and measures to help correct this tendency are part of the school routine.

The schools are practically one hundred per cent vaccinated against small pox, and now, although it is not compulsory; we strongly recommend, and the service is available for all children, the inoculation with toxin, anti-toxin against diphtheria and the subsequent schick test.

Supervisor of Music

Mr. Harold E. Jackman
Superintendent of Schools
Dear sir:—

I herewith submit my report as music supervisor in the schools of Norwell.

The work in the lower grades is going in the usual way, the little people singing their rote songs and the teachers giving special attention to those who did not come to school with a tune. The second, third and fourth grades are reading exercises and songs from their music readers; the fifth and sixth grades are studying two part music and the seventh, three part songs.

A few changes have taken place in the upper classes. In September, grades seven, eight and nine had music together. As this proved unsatisfactory, Mrs. Turner kindly took charge of the seventh grade until Miss Anderson came and Miss Simonson instructs the eighth and ninth grades. These grades have a new junior song book. Music is now elective in the upper three classes of the high school under the instruction of Miss Simonson who also accompanies at the piano.

The glee clubs sang two or three selections at the Parent Teachers' meeting in November.

The Ridge Hill School entertanied the Parent-Teacher

Association with a Christmas Pageant which was most creditably performed, under the direction of Mrs. Jones, assisted by Miss Blossom.

The Glee Clubs are planning an operetta entitled, "Wind Mills of Holland" a most fascinating and colorful musical play, the date to be announced later.

The Department of Education is calling the Seventh Annual State Conference of Supervisors of music of the Public Schools to be held at Hotel Statler on Monday, January twentieth.

The general outline of the conference is as follows: A demonstration from Boston schools: an address by Miss Coleman of Columbia University: an address by Dr. Archibald Davison of Harvard University; a discussion of the preparation in music of the classroom teacher: a demonstration of the use of standardized tests in music.

The splendid co-operation of our superintendent and other school officials is deeply appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

PANSY B. STETSON

Supervisor of Drawing

To the Superintendent of Schools:

I am sending to you my report for the first half year of my connection with the school system of Norwell. Owing to the short time I have been with you it is a bit early to give an exhaustive report. However I will submit a few reactions in relation to the school work at this point.

The aim of the course is to increase appreciation of the finer things in everyday life through the development of Design, Color, and Representative Drawing. I am endeavoring to use these art modes towards definite ends. Those ends being a cultural appreciation of life's values in an understanding way according to the grade and age of the child and his relation to the home and community.

Two meetings of the elementary staff of Norwell and Hanover have been held. The purpose of these meetings has been to acquaint the teachers with art work as carried on in other institutions, and to outline the art work of our community for the months following the meetings. It is intended that these gatherings shall be continued as a regular monthly feature of the department.

The work for the past half year has progressed very satisfactorily. This feeling of satisfaction with the progress of the work is due to the fine spirit of cooperation which I find throughout the school system. The groups in our schools take hold of the work in a most encouraging manner. This spirit of interest, I know, is the result of the untiring effort of the grade teachers.

Respectfully submitted,

H. RODMAN BOOTH
